

(B) can do nothing to prevent the adoption of such a law. Article 19(1)(a) of the Constitution of India provides that the Parliament may make laws for the Union territory of Jammu and Kashmir which do not contravene the provisions of the Constitution of India.

Article 21 of the Constitution of India provides that no person shall be deprived of his personal liberty except according to procedure established by law. This provision is applicable to the Jammu and Kashmir Legislative Assembly.

Clause 6. Scrapping of Article 370 of the Constitution A. &

"(1) Where a legislature of a state or union territory has passed a resolution in either house of the legislature of the state or union territory, calling for scrapping of Article 370 of the Constitution of India, the President may issue a Proclamation dissolving the Legislative Assembly of the state or union territory and reserving the power to pass a resolution in either house of the legislature of the state or union territory to give effect to the resolution passed by the legislature of the state or union territory.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (1), if the legislature of a state or union territory has passed a resolution under Article 370 of the Constitution of India, the President may issue a Proclamation dissolving the Legislative Assembly of the state or union territory.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (1) or (2), if the legislature of a state or union territory has passed a resolution under Article 370 of the Constitution of India, the President may issue a Proclamation dissolving the Legislative Assembly of the state or union territory.

(4) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (1) or (2), if the legislature of a state or union territory has passed a resolution under Article 370 of the Constitution of India, the President may issue a Proclamation dissolving the Legislative Assembly of the state or union territory.

(5) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (1) or (2), if the legislature of a state or union territory has passed a resolution under Article 370 of the Constitution of India, the President may issue a Proclamation dissolving the Legislative Assembly of the state or union territory.

(6) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (1) or (2), if the legislature of a state or union territory has passed a resolution under Article 370 of the Constitution of India, the President may issue a Proclamation dissolving the Legislative Assembly of the state or union territory.

(7) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (1) or (2), if the legislature of a state or union territory has passed a resolution under Article 370 of the Constitution of India, the President may issue a Proclamation dissolving the Legislative Assembly of the state or union territory.

(8) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (1) or (2), if the legislature of a state or union territory has passed a resolution under Article 370 of the Constitution of India, the President may issue a Proclamation dissolving the Legislative Assembly of the state or union territory.

(9) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (1) or (2), if the legislature of a state or union territory has passed a resolution under Article 370 of the Constitution of India, the President may issue a Proclamation dissolving the Legislative Assembly of the state or union territory.

(10) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (1) or (2), if the legislature of a state or union territory has passed a resolution under Article 370 of the Constitution of India, the President may issue a Proclamation dissolving the Legislative Assembly of the state or union territory.

(11) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (1) or (2), if the legislature of a state or union territory has passed a resolution under Article 370 of the Constitution of India, the President may issue a Proclamation dissolving the Legislative Assembly of the state or union territory.

(12) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (1) or (2), if the legislature of a state or union territory has passed a resolution under Article 370 of the Constitution of India, the President may issue a Proclamation dissolving the Legislative Assembly of the state or union territory.

(13) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (1) or (2), if the legislature of a state or union territory has passed a resolution under Article 370 of the Constitution of India, the President may issue a Proclamation dissolving the Legislative Assembly of the state or union territory.

(14) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (1) or (2), if the legislature of a state or union territory has passed a resolution under Article 370 of the Constitution of India, the President may issue a Proclamation dissolving the Legislative Assembly of the state or union territory.

(15) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (1) or (2), if the legislature of a state or union territory has passed a resolution under Article 370 of the Constitution of India, the President may issue a Proclamation dissolving the Legislative Assembly of the state or union territory.