

PREFACE.

SCRAPS FROM CANADA were scribbled off at odd moments and sent in "the rough" to a Scottish Journal, to fulfil a promise made Old Country friends before I left in 1874.

Being "Scraps" in homely letters, they appear in pamphlet form unaltered.

The object in publishing them in this style is for distribution among my acquaintances and friends during my contemplated visit to Scotland this summer.

WILLIAM HOPE.

92 MERRICK STREET,
HAMILTON, CANADA, May, 1877.

