

ment of Canada, a section which is more noisy than numerous.

If Mr. Wise is under the false impression we have mentioned we do not believe that there are many people who are in his situation for on numerous occasions during the recent federal elections and long before that time we clearly exposed the bad treatment of which we had been made the butt by the Ontario Government and by the press of that Province. Though it may not, perhaps, be opportune to repeat our just complaints before the country at a time when the agitation, which was in evidence during the recent electoral campaign, seems to have been allayed, it is difficult for us not to reply to the appeal of a man, who declares his good faith and who claims that his sole desire is to reconcile the different ethnical groups of the Dominion and to assure the progress of Canada by the union of all men of good will.

Let it, however, be well understood that in place of repeating accusations, which might be regarded as tiresome in
