sharp practice, and will contest the legality of it by an action-at-law. The insolvent's liabilities amount to $19,000, distributed almost entirely among Montreal houses, while his stock and book-debts are valued at only $850, besides the notes for $172. It is expected the estate will pay about 15c. on the dollar. The wide-awake firm alluded to recently caught a Valleyfield customer in a condition similar to that of Brault, and after inducing him to make an inventory of his stock, etc., sent an employee to purchase it, which being done the stock was removed to their establishment in this city, and placed to the credit of the customer's account. In this case, we are told, the other creditors succeeded in having the goods restored, and compelling the hasty firm to pay all costs.

As he did not come we send you the amount with a new subscriber which we hope will repay you for our long delay." We can only say under such circumstances that we are favored by the delay, and hope for a multitude of such favors.

says: In addition to the ordinary woollen and cotton goods, new lines of manufacture, which are not at present carried on in Canada, will be introduced. The reason that Hespeler is selected as the agent of this extensive industry is that its extensive water-power renders the manufacture much cheaper there than elsewhere. There will be from 300 to 400 hands employed, and when in full blast the mills will be in extent second to none in Canada. The agents of the company are now in England, purchasing the requisite machinery, which will be set up ready to commence work by the end of February. Mr. Schofield, who has been mentioned as one of the company, was the successor of Randal Farr & Co., in the management of his celebrated mills at Hespeler, which maintained under him the same celebrity that they had so justly achieved under their first proprietors.
