The most important thing that the city council did yesterday in its eleven hour session was to approve of the hour session was to approve of the payments of the pensions to ex-Fire Chief Thompson and ex-Deputy Chief John Noble. Col. J. P. Langton, nom-inated for the position of fire commis-sioner by the board of control for the second time, was again turned down by council, and the matter of appoint-ment sent back to the board of con-trol for further consideration, and the bringing on of another name. The commissionership, has reached a point now where the council want a man that can command a unanimous vote and the board will have to look around before making another recom-mendation.
