

Works by PAUL S. REINSCH

Professor of Political Science in the University of Wisconsin

World Politics

AT THE END OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY
AS INFLUENCED BY THE ORIENTAL SITUATION

"Dr. Reinsch sketches, in reviewing the world politics, the transition from nationalism to national imperialism in the nineteenth century, the political methods of the new national imperialism, the great Powers as colonizers, the connection between colonization and imperialism, and the consequences of the newest policy. Among these consequences, Dr. Reinsch places a decay in good government at home, a reaction against the political and social doctrines of liberalism, and a growth of one-man power and an aristocratic reaction in philosophy." — Boston Transcript.

Colonial Government

AN INTRODUCTION TO THE STUDY OF COLONIAL INSTITUTIONS

" . . . we know of no volume of the same size that conveys so much information as his, in so clear and orderly a manner, or one of greater utility to the general reader. . . . If it were possible to require every Senator and Representative to pass a competitive examination in the contents of this little volume as a condition of appointment to committee work having to do with the dependencies, the prospect for the sane treatment of the tremendous question now confronting the American people would be measurably improved, and the greater the number of voters that can be induced to study it, the better it will be for the country."

— New York Times.

Colonial Administration

"Dr. Reinsch tells of the varying methods that have been employed by European powers in their dependencies, and of the diverse results that have been secured by them, draws from their experience what he considers the correct conclusions, and leaves the reader to apply these conclusions to the case of the United States. . . . The book is well written, and should have a wide reading by persons who take an earnest interest in the difficult problems left the nation by the war with Spain."

— Chicago Tribune.

Each is in the Citizen's Library, half leather, $1.25 net

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY
SIXTY-FOUR and SIXTY-SIX FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK