

"You're a pretty, cold, heartless child, and that's what you're cut out for, I guess—not for love and marriage and the big things."