THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1919

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

LAST CHANCE TO HEAR THE KILLARNEY TENORS

Have you heard Eugene Emmatt, the sweet voiced singer from Killarney, at the Opera House this week? If not, tonight is positively your last opportunity. There are four other good features on the bill, including the Herbert Trio, a sensational aerial and casting act. Tonight at 7:30 and 9.

The regular change of programme tomorrow night offers Ritz, Abbott and Driscoll in a comical variety novelty act; Howard and Keller in "Flying High"; Curtin and Wilson, sensational society acrobats; Patrice and Sullivan in original songs, dances and witty dialogue; one other good act and the second of the Marie Walcamp series of dramatic adventures in picture form.

As has been previously announced, the new scale of prices at the Opera House goes into effect on Saturday of this week, with a slight advance for all seats—the change in prices being necessary on account of the constantly increasing cost of the vaudeville programme offered. During the last two months the cost has really increased almost a third, and a special New York representative of the Opera House has stated that it will be necessary to raise the prices at the sacrifice of quality, the management are forced to make this slight increase in order to keep pace with the cost. Commencing on Saturday of this week the evening prices will be as follows: Lower box, 25c.; balcony, 50c. and gallery, 20c. The same scale of prices as for evening will prevail on Saturday afternoon, with but one performance instead of two. Other afternoons the prices will remain as before.

ATTRACTIVE UNIQUE PROGRAMME

Elmo Lincoln in new Serial—Chaplin, Eddie Polo and The Arlingtons.

Scidmore has the unique offering such a week end programme. Elmo Lincoln, the Star in Tarzan of the Apes, is featured in a new serial, "Elmo Lincoln's Mighty White Chaplin" will be seen in Shanghai, and Eddie Polo in "The Missing Bullet." Also the popular Arlington orchestra.

Newest Popular Stories Await Book-Lovers At McDonald's Lending Library

Again McDonald's Lending Library offers an exceptionally interesting list of the latest and most popular fiction of the day, the new books having just been placed on the shelves, and the demand bids fair to exceed the present supply. The new list comprises—The Moon and Sixpence (W. Somerset Maugham); Sherry (McCutcheon); Rebecca's Promise (Frances R. Sturtevant); The Girl of O. Valley (Robt. Watson). Book-lovers will find it greatly to their advantage to make their selections at the earliest possible moment, as the rate is still 2 cents a day, Market Square. Phone Main 1273.

FAIR PRICE ENQUIRY.

Mayor Hayes has written the Retail Merchants' Association and also the Women's Institute, asking them to name representatives to appear before the fair price commission at the time of the next meeting in St. John under the chairmanship of W. F. O'Connor. The Retail Merchants' Association will present the case of the producer and dealer, while the ladies will look after the interests of the consumer.

NO CHANGE IN THE REFINERY STRIKE SITUATION TODAY

Men Still Looking For Arbitration Board; Manager Says There is Nothing to Arbitrate

There was no change in the strike situation of the Atlantic Sugar Refineries today. The men met in a hall above the Seaside clothing store at the corner of King and Gernsma streets this morning and agreed to their case in the hands of a board of arbitration and abide by their decision, providing that the company would also agree to the decision of the board.

The men were anxious to have it emphasized that they are not looking for or desiring any trouble, but say that they did not consider action taken by the company yesterday as fair. They pointed out that it has always been a habit to commence paying the employees about 8:30 o'clock, but yesterday when over four hundred men went to the factory to receive wages due they were kept waiting until 5:30 o'clock and as a result of this delay in paying, the men received his pay. In addition they thought it was not altogether right to have men at present working in the plant mingling with those on strike. They said this action was highly resented by the men, but despite this the best of order prevailed and the men went about their business without attempting in any way to stir up trouble.

The men also claim that some foremen, who remained at work in the refinery, have gone out in sympathy with them.

The Company's Side.

Louis Sledensticker, the local manager, in conversation with a Times reporter yesterday said that there was no change in the attitude of the company. With regard to the board of arbitration, he said that there was no way in which a board could function as they had no difference with their employees, explaining that the strikers were not in their employ at the present time.

With regard to the delay in paying, Sledensticker said that this was due to the extraordinary condition; that the office staff carried out their work as usual and as quickly as they could get the payroll adjusted and there was no unnecessary avoidable delay.

Asked with regard to the operation of the plant, the manager said that they were able to operate on a smaller scale than ordinarily and that individual applications for employment were being received.

He also said that Mr. O'Grady, the general manager, had returned to Montreal.

The sugar refinery workers at a mass meeting last night decided that they would accept the findings of an arbitration board provided the company would agree to do the same, but the officials of the company took the view that the strikers have been paid off and are therefore no longer their employees, it is understood that the decision of the strikers to agree to arbitration is not to be accepted by the company.

The manager of the refinery, who addressed the meeting, if the company were able to operate on a smaller scale than they would return to work immediately but otherwise the strike will continue until the men are paid off at the refinery yesterday afternoon. Sergeant Detective Powers who was present at the meeting, where the work was said that they conducted themselves remarkably well even though many had a considerable length of time.

THE BEST QUALITY AT A REASONABLE PRICE

Attend to Your Sight

Clear vision depends in part on the condition of the eye and its parts. Age tends to slow down these muscles and to reduce the elasticity of the inner lens. The most notable effect is increasing difficulty in seeing well at close range.

Properly fitted glasses restore normal sight and protect the eye from injury through strain. The sensible thing is to have your eyes examined every year or two by a competent optometrist and be guided by his advice.

You can have such an examination made here.
