wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil speaking, and all malice," in short to be "followers of God, as dear children," and to " set our affections on things above." Ancient saints, we are informed, "confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth," and declared plainly that they were seeking a country." Such a declaration needs to be more manifest in this present time. There is evidently a strong regard for the ways of the world, and in some quarters a concession to its maxims which is not becoming. We are trying too much to be like other people instead of trying to be like christians. If we would recommend the simple Christianity of the New Testament, it must be our earnest endeavor to follow in all things the example of Jesus Christ. He is our pattern. He is our lawgiver. He is our life. they will be a to the miner of the transfer in the miner in to a long of the region of the second of the they are the second of the beauty to make the collection of the second o a. C res la captar hat a con olices a face are gan alor not maran suproposit and to another see ed. A. med so r a process Theological seady subsequate to the comp tion of the Conlegator are. The will give on controlly the man more extensive and there are reveared than was possible. calle privilers plan. The Committee would also real speaker same of on the last that the Paculty of the College investo young mon, who propose to labor in the minimy, but when cor any reason are not anic to take the full course, to remain for any teriod that may be convenient and pursue with satalies as they may choose. We enough doubt that their are many who ought to a vail themselves of this arrangement to conclusion your Committee would arge on the attention of the charebes the importance of making the annual contribumetion for the support of the College more general, as the work h one in which all share, and Sawker, Chairmon.