SEARCHING THE CITY FOR A MISSING MAN. Relative Scours St. John for News of Meteghan Man who Disappeared with Large Sum of Money. A Nova Scotian named Saulnier, who has been missing from his home in Meteghan for over a week, is supposed to have come to St. John. It is said that when he left home he had considerable money in his possession, the proceeds of a mortgage transaction, and that he was last seen in Digby in company with a man who was supposed to belong to St. John. The missing man has a wife and family, and his disappearance has caused considerable uneasiness, more especially as a gang of robbers has been operating in Digby and Yarmouth counties recently and it is feared he may have been a victim of foul play. Yesterday a relative of the missing man came to St. John and made inquiries at the hotels and lodging houses but did not succeed in discovering any trace of him. He appealed to the police authorities to aid him in the search.

TOOK LIGHT LUNCH OFF SAILOR'S THUMB. Too Much Fire Water and a Desire to Bite Brought Sailor Burns in Touch with Police. A sailor named Burns made things lively about the water front last evening about 6.30 o'clock. He was intoxicated and went on board a schooner lying at Starr's wharf and attempted to take charge. In a mix-up he managed to severely bite the thumb of another sailor, and the injured man had to go to a doctor to have the wound attended to. Burns then went to John Nelson's house on the South Wharf. He assaulted Nelson, and used profane and obscene language. The wild tar was captured on the North Wharf by Sergeant Baxter and violently resisted the arrest. Russell Hubley, the 19 year old Halifax boy, who was arrested in Boston last Saturday charged with forging seven checks and uttering five of them, was in St. John a short time ago. While here he played the same game that brought him to grief in Boston. He managed to utter at least one forged check for $50 here and made several other attempts. When the check for $50 was presented at the banks, his father, who is a wealthy Halifax grocer, was notified and he came on here. He met the check, but was unable to meet his boy, who skipped out and went to Boston. His career there did not last long.

NEW JERSEY ELKS HERE ON PURE PLEASURE BENT. Notable Party at the Victoria Hotel—Captured St. John Last Night, and will Cross Bay Today. The American invasion of the City of St. John began in earnest yesterday. The advance guard consisted of a party of Elks led by Generalissimo J. W. Conpland. In spite of the weather and the fact that the moccasin navy is supposed to be cruising in the Atlantic, they managed to effect a landing at Rees' Point and proceeded to take possession of the town. Capturing a bunch of native guides, they fought their way over to Carleton and charging bravely up the heights carried the Martello Tower by assault. Then being heated with the toll of battle they performed a remarkable flanking movement, and cutting across the Suspension bridge, proceeded to annex a supply of joy water. They then quartered themselves on the proprietor of the Victoria Hotel and proceeded to celebrate their victory. In due time they held a council of war to decide on the campaign for the morrow, but finding that the excise laws were severe on thirsty people after 10 o'clock, they decided that they did not want to keep the town and sent for a reporter to tell him on what terms they would consent to evacuate the city. When the reporter arrived in fear and trembling, the commanding officer and his lieutenants were deep in a pow-wow, but they offered him the pipe of peace, and the horn of wassail as belittles the Elks, even in the camp of the enemy. And the bard of the band, who looks like Oasian in a shirtwaist, chanted the fame of the heroes. "Behold," he sang, Ed Rooney is the commissioner who handles the fire fighters of the Mosquito city of New Jersey, many big blocks boast him lord and there large as life is A. W. Cordes, superintendent of county institutions in Hudson county, who teacheth the young idea to shoot." Other Elks of fame, whose characteristics were unfolded to a wide-eyed reporter were: E. J. Hirtzell, Chas. Brenat, John Hayes, Maurice Mara, Geo. Donaldson, superintendent of county institutions in New Jersey; J. E. Duffy, D. Vassler, Chas. J. Mosher, P. T. Tull, Fred Ritz and W. H. Cassidy. Ed. Rooney is a famous globe trotter. As for the others it is not necessary to enumerate their virtues, as their characters have been well depicted in Mark Twain's story of the Innocents Abroad. Some of the party are accompanied by their wives. They will leave by the boat for Digby today, and will go on to Halifax, and thence to St. John's Newfoundland, where they hope to capture a few leeches to take home with them to the city of trust makers and mosquito smashers. They have just come from Atlantic City where they have been attending the national convention of the Order of the Elks. According to their view of the matter St. John ought to be called the Summer Resort of America, instead of the Winter Port of Canada, and they expressed regret that they could not stop over long enough to see Mr. Pugaley, and have it rechristened. They said that quite a number of parties from New Jersey were coming this way this summer. At the other hotels there were large numbers of migratory adventurers, come to see St. John in its summer livery and taste a hunch of the ozone from Courtney Bay, whose fame is spreading over the continent.

WE WON'T GET RICH ON WAGES OF SIN. Arthur Waldron Goes to Penitentiary for Twelve Years for Burglary—His Booty Amounted to $11. The young man whom Sheriff H. A. P. Smith, of Digby, took to Dorchester did not make much profit from his career of crime. For him the wages of sin will figure out at 90 cents a year. His total booty was $11, and he was sentenced to 12 years in the penitentiary. The young man's name was entered in the criminal records as Arthur Waldron or Arthur Smith, and he was arrested for burglarizing three stores in Digby. When Chief Bowles, of Digby found him on the wharf at Digby, ready to go aboard the boat for St. John, and told him he was wanted, the young man promptly covered the officer with a revolver. Happily for the chief assistance arrived and the young man decided to give up his gun. At his trial he said he came from the states, and would sooner serve 20 years than have his people learn what had happened to him. Sheriff Smith returned to St. John last evening and registered at the Royal. He will leave for Digby, this morning.

A number of papers are to be read at the meeting. Reports of the committee on the president's address, that of the committee on constitution with the Canadian Medical Society. The registrar will also submit the annual report of the Council of Physicians and Surgeons of New Brunswick. In the registrar's report reference is made to the amendment to the Canada Medical Act as regards Clause 2 of the Act. The council, the report states objected to the original clause which read: "2. Examinations shall be held only at those centres at which there is a university or college actively engaged in teaching of medicine, and having hospital facilities of not less than one hundred beds. Under this clause examinations could not be held in New Brunswick. At the request of our council an amendment was agreed to, substituting the word "or" for "and." This change will permit of examinations being held in the centres having hospitals containing one hundred beds irrespective of there being a university or college. The Canada Medical Act was passed by the Dominion Parliament. Unfortunately, owing to a delay caused by a conference of the four Western provinces, the Bill was not enacted in time to obtain the necessary "enabling clause" from those provincial Legislatures that had not previously provided for it with the exception of this province. As the Legislature had not prorogued at Fredericton the council were able to secure the passage of the clause. In consequence of the delay the Act can not come into force for another year. Reference is also made to the death of Dr. J. H. Gray, who, at the time of his death, was president of the council, and expression of the sense of loss sustained by the council is recorded. The report also submits the names of those who have passed the examinations for registration, and also those who were successful in the primary subjects. In the professional examinations for registration, the following graduates passed:—Dr. W. V. Coffin, Canterbury; Dr. F. H. Neve, St. John, and Dr. Emile Simard, Edmundston. SEARCHING THE CITY FOR A MISSING MAN. Relative Scours St. John for News of Meteghan Man who Disappeared with Large Sum of Money. A Nova Scotian named Saulnier, who has been missing from his home in Meteghan for over a week, is supposed to have come to St. John. It is said that when he left home he had considerable money in his possession, the proceeds of a mortgage transaction, and that he was last seen in Digby in company with a man who was supposed to belong to St. John. The missing man has a wife and family, and his disappearance has caused considerable uneasiness, more especially as a gang of robbers has been operating in Digby and Yarmouth counties recently and it is feared he may have been a victim of foul play. Yesterday a relative of the missing man came to St. John and made inquiries at the hotels and lodging houses but did not succeed in discovering any trace of him. He appealed to the police authorities to aid him in the search.

TOOK LIGHT LUNCH OFF SAILOR'S THUMB. Too Much Fire Water and a Desire to Bite Brought Sailor Burns in Touch with Police. In a mix-up he managed to severely bite the thumb of another sailor, and the injured man had to go to a doctor to have the wound attended to. Burns then went to John Nelson's house on the South Wharf. He assaulted Nelson, and used profane and obscene language. The wild tar was captured on the North Wharf by Sergeant Baxter and violently resisted the arrest. The big sergeant landed Burns in the Water Street lock-up and he will have a long list of charges to face in the Police Court this morning.
