MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE YESTERDAY DECIDED REGARDING COURT HOUSE

Ever Since the Big Stone Building on the Corner of King Street East and Sydney Street Was Gutted by Fire Citizens at Large and Societies Made Recommendations—Council Building Committee Yesterday Recommended the Erection of Municipal Building on the Site.

Ever since the old Court House on the corner of King Street East and Sydney Street was destroyed by fire, and there was practically nothing left but the walls and foundation, there has been considerable comment as to what should be done with the building and the site. The members of the Municipal Council have been besieged with advice and requests as to what should happen to this old historic building. Different bodies have met and the discussion has been lengthy and many have had a different view just what should happen. Some wish a court house built on a modern plan and the old remains torn down. Others called for the old court house to be rebuilt because it was such an old historic site, while others called for the place to be torn down and the entire civic offices along with the courts, police headquarters be placed in a new building to be erected while again it was suggested that the county jail be removed to the outskirts of the city where a prison farm could take up the spare time of the prisoners and the old court house be demolished and all courts and city offices be erected on the site, along with a large central fire station. Even the women held meetings and stated that it would be a shame if it would be to demolish such a historic building when with some expense it could be remodelled and with its old stone walls still remaining it must prove a structure for the tourists to look at along with the Old Burying Ground close by. It has been many months since the building was gutted by fire and the Council have been besieged with requests and advice as to what should be done with the site. In fact it is safe to say that the members of the committee, along with other members of the Common and Municipal Council had anything but an enjoyable time in listening to the different proposals.

Police Court Cases Yesterday

Cases Against Wm. Speight and Alfred Edmen for Selling Liquor Resumed—Eight Drunks Remanded—Joseph Sappier Charged With Stealing.

A case against William Speight, of Main street, charged with selling liquor in violation of the Prohibition Act, was resumed in the police court yesterday afternoon. Fred Harding said that when he went into the defendant's shop there was a man already there who had been drinking. He came up to the witness and said, "You're a pretty husky chap; you ought to take boxing lessons, but if you don't like them join the police force." Frank Kain, 108 Main street, stated that on the day in question he went into the defendant's shop and had a glass of XXX ale. After drinking the ale he went into the back shop and a man stepped up to him and asked him if he could fight. Witness said no, and the man said he guessed he was too old. Speight told the man he should not use such language to witnesses, and then put him out of the shop. Later the man came back and kicked at the door. There was no one in the front shop but the proprietor. There were four men in the back shop, one of them the previous witness, at the time. The case was allowed to stand till Wednesday at 2.30 to allow the calling of other witnesses. W. M. Ryan for the prosecution; J. A. Barry for the defence.
