DUKE AND DUCHESS OF CORNWALL

An Immense Crowd, Including Zulus and Indians, Greeted

the Royal Visitors Enthusiastically on Arrival.

At 9.30 a. m., the gates of Sans Souci Park were opened to the press and to a few ladies connected with government and court circles. The small crowd here was rigidly kept within prescribed limits. While the observers waited, military organizations marched in and took up positions along the central avenue, through which the procession was to pass.

Promptly at 10.30 the tolling of bells announced the arrival of the funeral train at Wild Park, but it was nearly 11 o'clock when the sound of music in the distance announced the approach of the funeral procession. As the procession drew near, the notes of the best-known funeral marches, played slowly and plaintively, became audible, the muffled drums rolling. At the head of the procession rode (Major General Von Moktke, nephew of the famous field marshal.

The Gardes Du Corps, with black and white pennants fluttering at their lance points, attracted much attention, as did the Royal Page Corps, composed of cadets from the military academy at Grozlichterfielde, in bright red coats, white, tightfitting trousers and broad hats, trimmed with white lace.

Over the head of the coffin were the smperial colors, on which was a crown of state of massive gold and heavily jewelled. Also on the colors was a wreath, deposited there by Emperor William at Cronberg, and two other wreaths.

Behind the coffin marched the emperor, with head erect and displaying the greatest self possession and dignity, but his face was pale and sorrowful and he gazed straight forward in a serious manner. King Edward, who was on the emperor's left, walked heavily, and evidently found the march fatiguing.

East London, Aug. 12—A despatch has been received giving the details of the recent engagement fought by the Connaught Rangers under Major Moore, near Jamestown, with Commandant Fouche. The force in question was detached from Col. Murray's column for the purpose of escorting a convoy. The force, which had no guns, and only one Maxim, camped on a plain surrounded by hills. Early next lay a segreent scorting in the hills was day a sergeant scouting in the hills was challenged by Boers, who numbered 600, under Fouche. The sergeant was overpowered, but his companion. powered, but his companion, a corporal, galloped amid a shower of bullets to warn the battalion. The enemy, however, were already in contact with the Connaughts, who, although taken by surprise, quickly took up their places under the orders of Major Moore. In a few minutes the action becomes careful The Poers hald. tion became general. The Boers held a very advantageous position, whence they poured in a very hot fire, which was smartly returned. The Maxim, under Capt. Bell, was splendidly worked, the men bringing up supplies and ammunition under a heavy fire. It then became necessary to cease fire in order to alter ARRIVED TUESDAY AT DURBAN, necessary to cease fire in order to alter the range of the Maxim. Of this the enemy took advantage to pour in a hot fire, wounding several of the Maxim detachment. The success of "H" company in storming a hill and turning the Boer right altered the position of affairs, and the Boers were forced into a long donga, which afforded admirable shelter to both men and horses. The Maxim again did excellent work. The Boers thrice attempted to silence the gun, but in time they were forced to retire.

On the news arriving that the Boers had taken the British ambulances, a lieutenant and a dozen men volunteered to retake them. They galloped across the open right into the Boer laager and succeeded in bringing back the ambulances. Ultimately, after eight hours' fighting, the Boers retired, leaving Field Cornet Olivier badly wounded on the field. He died the next day. It is a remarkable fact that two British ansess were found in Olivies' to the distance of the grand lodge on behalf of the city council and citizens, and was replied to by Grand Master Allan.

This amoun was more than $20,000 less than the sun raised a year ago, but Dr. Simpson explained that branch conventions have been held this year in Pennsylvania and Ohio, $23,000 being raised in the former and $12,000 in the latter, and he did not expected the Old Orchard confection to reach previous record. At the morning session the pledges and cash rolled in without much affort on the part of Dr. Simpson and his effort on the part of Dr. Simpson and his elders, but the last $10,000 came more slowly, and in response to urgent solicita-tion. The total amount of actual cash paid in during the day was $1,255, of which $500 was raised for the special purpose conding back to China two missionaries who have been home since the Boxer uprising. The largest contribution was a check for $5,000 from a wealthy citizen of Atkin. Ossining, N. Y. Five pledges of $1,000 each were announced, one of $2,500, one of $2,000, and one of $1,500 from the Young Ladies' Alliance. Six persons pledged $500 each, six $250 each, six $200 each, and eight $100 each. Besides these there were eight $100 each. Besides these there were single pledges of $900, 575, $545, 350 and $150. The other contributions ranged from 15 cents to $75. The number of pledges of $1 and $2 was larger than ever before. Fully 6,000 persons were assembled beneath the pines when Rev. Dr. Simpon began his annual sermon at 11 o'clock. At the end of an hour the receipts aggregated $11,000. a Measure Relative to H arbort Berehaven, Ireland.

London, Aug. 14-The House of Lords took an unusual step this morning in sus-pending the sessional order, with the object of passing on its second reading the bill granting special powers to build a pier and other works at Berehaven, in Bantry Bay, Ireland, in connection with the proposed fast steamship line from Berehaven to the United States, by which enlisted with French's Scouts and were with Major "Gat" Howard when he was shot. They never received a scratch and have always been healthy. They say that had they been fighting Boers alone the war would have such peep over; but there are that the government desired to pass the bill at the present session.

Lord James, of Hereford (who is chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster), added that the promoters desired to contract harbor works, with the object of inauguration a line of stempers to the Linited harbor works, with the object of inaugurating a line of steamers to the United States. The steamers will be built in Great Britain and will accomplish the voyage in four and a half days. The assent of the admiralty officials, who are constructing naval works at Berehaven, had been given the building of the proposed works on the foreshore.

The harbor bill is the work of an Irish electric railway company, promoted by Selectric railway company.

The harbor bill is the work of an Irish electric railway company, promoted by S. G. Frazer, an engmeer of London. The designs appear in their initial stages. No date has yet been announced for the beginning of the work. It is understood that some American capital has been guaranteed in connection with the steamship services. It is understood that the enterprise includes an express line across Southern Ireland and a channel ferry connecting directly with the Great Western railroad for London. The cost of the Berehaven harbor works and the railway connection will be £900,000.
