The status of the case as summed up by cabinet officers and other officials familiar with the messages that have been passing between Rear Admiral Mayo, Charge O'Shaughnessy, and the Washington government, was described as follows:
Assistant Paymaster Charles C. Copp and a boatload of marines landed at Tampico last Thursday to obtain supplies. They were arrested but later discharged. In accordance with regulations in all navies of the world Rear Admiral Mayo on considering that an unauthorized arrest had been made and that the disregard demanded reparation in the form of a salute to the American flag, while not taken...

WIGMORE LEADS POLL WITH BIG MAJORITY

Potts, Agar, Fisher, Russell and de Forest the Others Who Survive Primaries—Heavy Vote Poiled in First Election Tuesday—Labor Candidate Makes Good Showing—Weather Not Pleasant But Sun Was Out All Day—Many Vote After Six O'clock.

THE VOTE BY WARDS

Although not altogether a surprise, the tremendous vote polled by Commissioner Wigmore was the feature of the primaries yesterday. With P. L. Potts, G. Fred Fisher, Commissioner Agar, J. Russell and C. W. deForest, Commissioner Wigmore is now in the lead, and in view of his polling practically two-thirds of the whole vote cast yesterday, there appears to be no doubt that he will be returned in the primaries to serve four years as commissioner of water and sewerage...

As the campaign during the next two weeks promises to be very lively, Commissioner Wigmore's total of 4,105 was not only twice as much as the next highest man, but it was probably the largest vote ever given a civic candidate in St. John. In the 1912 Commissionnaire McAllan was given 3,000 votes, and this was regarded as a very high proportion of the total vote cast. As there were about 6,000 votes cast yesterday, however, it will be seen that Commissioner Wigmore polled nearly seventy per cent. He led the poll in every ward. His 1912 Commissioner Wigmore was given 1,847 votes in the primaries, and 2,955 in the finals.

Mr. Potts ran well over the entire city, but an exceptionally good showing in the Lewis and Lennox wards pushed him ahead of his nearest competitor. His total of 2,020 votes yesterday was 678 more than he received in the primaries in 1912 and 61 more than he received in the finals.

Mr. Fisher made his debut in public life in rather aggressive fashion and was only two votes behind Mr. Potts with a total of 2,018. For a new candidate to make such a showing is a very fine achievement.

Commissioner Agar was not far behind the third man, and his friends confidently predict he will be given sufficient support in the finals to give him another term at City Hall. He polled 1,970 votes, which was slightly below his vote in the primaries two years ago. His total in the finals of 1912 was 2,690.

James V. Russell is the fifth man with a total of 1,658, and he still promises to be a factor in the finals. The showing of Mr. deForest, who qualified with a total vote of 1,540, was also very gratifying to his friends, and they expect to do considerable work on his behalf before April 28.

FLEEING MAY BE THROUGH OVERBOARD

FINE TRIBUTE TO R. E. ARMSTRONG Associates in Panic Over Charges Party Leaders Confer Earnestly Over Situation

Address Presented to Now Board of Trade Secretary Here by His Old Friends in St. Andrews.

The following is the address which was presented to R. E. Armstrong, the retiring editor of The Beacon, by the citizens of St. Andrews. Accompanying the address was an elegant gold watch, bearing an appropriate inscription. Dear Sir—It is with feelings of deep regret that the citizens of Saint Andrews have learned that you are soon to make a change in your business, which will necessitate the permanent removal of yourself and family from this town...

For almost a quarter of a century, now that you have in every walk of life, exemplified the true principles of good citizenship, among the people of St. Andrews and in every place where your name has been known and your influence has been felt, and as citizens of this town, which has been your adopted home during that time, we do not want to allow this opportunity to pass without giving you some small assurance of their appreciation of the many things which you have done, both as a private citizen, and as a public man...

As a professional man, you have exercised a potent influence upon the community through the columns of your newspaper, and lost no opportunity of pointing out everything which, in your best judgment, would make for the common good. In your life as a newspaper editor, you have been candid, outspoken and fearless in advocating what you believed to be right, and in condemning what you conceived to be wrong or contrary to the public good...

On the moral and religious side of the life of this community, you have always been a champion of the cause of right, and an upholder of the highest standards to be sustained by the community by your removal from among us, from these standpoints, will be great. As a public man, you have served this town well and faithfully, and the improved conditions which you have been largely instrumental in bringing about, as an alderman, and as mayor of the town, are a testimony to your wisdom and judgment...

Intense interest has been aroused in every corner of the province by the Dugal charges. During Easter recess these things have been the subject of conversation in every county, and it is noticeable that a great many independent Conservatives have come out in favour of a house-cleaning, beginning with a straightforward and manly investigation, at which anybody, with knowledge of value, would be permitted to testify without technical obstacles being placed in the way.

Premier Fleming is reported still at his home in Woodstock, and reports in St. John have been that his principal associates have decided to throw him overboard and attempt to save the government without regard to what may become of him. Whether this is so or not, it is certainly only by the exercise of a commission and beginning its session.

San Diego, Ca., April 14.—Sir William Whyte, retired second vice-president and director of the Canadian Pacific railway, died here today at a hotel, of complications of disease. Sir William Whyte was born in Piffesshire, Scotland, on Sept. 15, 1848. He first became junior clerk in the office of the factor of Lord Elgin's estate in Scotland, where he remained for two years. In May, 1869, he commenced railway work as a station agent on the West of Fife railway, and came to Canada in June, 1869, where he secured a position on the Grand Trunk railway for which company he worked for twenty years. He served eight months as brakeman and two years as freight clerk at Cobourg, five months as freight clerk at Toronto, one year as foreman of the freight department at Toronto, and one year as yardmaster at Toronto. He also served two years as conductor and was night station master at Toronto for six months, and over three years occupied a similar position at Stratford and was for six years station master and freight and passenger agent at London (Ont.). He returned to Toronto for eight months as freight agent, and was for one year divisional superintendent of the Credit Valley railway, and also served in that position with the Ontario & Quebec railway, which also included the Credit Valley and Toronto and Bruce railways.
