

- (d) agree to inform on request, the Canadian contractors, their employees, agents and foreign subcontractors of any local regulations and laws that could affect their work;
- (e) shall save the Government of Canada harmless for any claims, damages, interest, losses or expenses that could result at any time for the Government of Canada from injuries to third parties (including fatal injuries), loss of goods belonging to third parties or damage to the property of third parties that may have been caused or suffered as a result of the execution of the project or any of its parts;
- (f) shall save the Canadian contractors and their employees, agents and foreign subcontractors involved in the execution of the portion of the project located on their respective territories harmless for any claims, damages, interest, losses or expenses that could result at any time for any or all of them from injuries to third parties (including fatal injuries), loss of goods belonging to third parties or damage to the property of third parties that may have been caused or suffered as a result of the execution of the project or any of its parts, unless such injury, loss or damage is the result of an act committed deliberately or omitted through gross negligence;
- (g) agree to obtain, issue or see to the issuing of all permits, licences and other documents which the Canadian contractors, their employees, agents and subcontractors may need for the execution of the project. The above-mentioned countries agree to issue, at any time during the course of the work and for a six-month period after it is completed, all export and departure permits required for the return to Canada of all equipment, tools, supplies and effects, including personal effects, belonging to Canada, its employees or officers, and to the Canadian contractors, their employees, agents and subcontractors involved in the execution of the portions of the project located in their respective territories;
- (h) agree to take all necessary steps to ensure that the employees and agents of the Canadian contractors and their subcontractors involved in the execution of the portions of the project located in their respective territories are able to obtain suitable accommodation when they arrive;
- (i) agree to provide free of charge, in so far as they are able, offices and office services in accordance with the standards of Dahomey, Upper Volta, Mali, Niger and Senegal, including, where necessary, appropriate office furniture, office staff and stenographers, professional and technical equipment, and telephone, postal and other services which the Canadian contractors, their employees, agents and foreign subcontractors involved in the execution of the portions of the project located in their respective territories will need in order to carry out their duties effectively; and
- (j) agree to provide free of charge all medical services and treatment required for the health and welfare of the employees and agents of the Canadian contractors and their foreign subcontractors involved in the execution of the projects, as well as their dependants, in accordance with the regulations governing public employees of the host country.

3. In addition, Dahomey, Upper Volta, Mali, Niger and Senegal agree to facilitate the entry to, movement in or departure from their territories of all vehicles, goods and materials that may be required for the execution of a portion of the project located in the territory of another country. No taxes, customs or inspection duties or import or export charges shall be levied on the Canadian contractors, their
