

9. Draw a map of Eastern Canada, showing the chief canals, and tell how they are useful to the country. (See section on canals, Canada Year Book, obtainable through your M. P.)
10. What are the best roads in your vicinity? When were they constructed and how are they maintained?
11. Trace the growth of the railway system of Canada. How is it being extended at the present time?

N.B.—Students would do well to consult the good farmers and business men of their neighborhood in framing their answers to these questions. Also they should make use of such government publications as the Dominion Census and the reports of the Provincial Bureaus of Industry.
