a beauty, and this is what I have written about my Doll:—

"I am all the girl just one year old.
My Doll came from Germany. As I am told she has a very beautiful face, like a flower and I am just in love with her. I do declare she is sweet and also a winsome,
she is tall and the age 4.
And when I hear her I just mean to play with her."

I do love her dearly,
I fondly embrace
My dear little Doll

NOW is the time to lay plans for securing a good list of subscribers for The Farming World. Write for terms. We have some splendid offers to make you.

Receipts this week at the Union Stock Yards, Toronto Junction, have fallen off somewhat. Some choice exporters were offered on Tuesday which sold as high as $475, the bulk going at $4.40 to $4.65 per cwt. Some feeders of good quality sold at $4.80 per cwt. With these exceptions prices were the same as at the city market. Everything was cleaned up by 11 o'clock.

MARITIME MARKETS

Halifax, Oct. 10, 1903

Farmers throughout the Annapolis valley are very busy at present marketing their apples. The gravensteins are turning out 50 per cent better than expected and the prices so far have been very satisfactory. The market in London by the first steamer netted $4.00 per barrel to the grower. This week's advices by cable are to the effect that the market in London is better than expected. The growers are advised not to rush shipments at present. Owing to the good quality of the fruit and the strong export demand, high prices rule on the Halifax and St. John's markets. The quality of the fruit is small. A Mr. Brown, of Berwick, has patented a new method of packing apples. They are wrapped in paper and shipped in boxes. The fruit is equivalent to the best and is forwarded in this manner which brought the equivalent of over seven dollars per barrel. There is a great scarcity of barrels, as the apple crop has been greatly exceeded.

Cheese are jobbing at Halifax for 12 cents, which is the price at which sales were made at the factories last week. The market now is easier, but dealers are not likely to sell any lower than this quotation. Stocks in the city are fairly large. Creamery butter is rather scarce locally. Most of the factories are making prunts, which are jobbing in Halifax at 22 cents. Dairy butter is in fair demand at about 18 cents and the supply is rather limited. Eggs are firmer at 18 cents. Receipts continue moderate and buyers are paying 16 to 17 cents at the P. E. Island points.

The flour market is very firm, but Halifax has not responded to the advances of the mills as readily as St. John's. Dealers are confident that present prices will not be exceeded this season. Half-bushels unchanged. The Nova Scotia farmers are holding very firmly and so far dealers have been compelled to meet their terms. There is some talk of a strike among the mill hands, which would lead to an easier tendency. Ontario oats are very firm, in part due to an increase in freight rates on grain consigned to the Maritime Provinces. The price of corn is very firm. Corn jobbers here are not disposed to sell under 42 cents. Cornmeal is easier than a fortnight ago and beans have declined from the high point recently reached.

Sugar declined to cents last week owing to the approach of the season when Western beet-root must be marketed. The market has been dull since the start of the season, but is somewhat easier at St. John's, but firmer at Halifax. St. John's dealers have a larger supply than usual, and a disposition is shown to move it as quickly as possible. Dealers at Halifax are not so numerous as are looking orders at reduced figures. Lard has declined to cents for pure leaf. There is a great scarcity of fish. The prices of fish at the fish banks are expecting $5 per quintal for their catch, but the majority of them will likely market their fish as soon as cured at about $4.75. Last sales of fish were $4.50 per quintal. Fresh fish are scarce and high.
