Does Your Stomach Feel Happy When Meal-Time Comes?

When you sniffle in the air the appetizing aroma of something cooking, do you feel that you could sit down, open your mouth, pin back your ears and eat with a delicious gusto, everything set before you, and not feel any bad effects from it?

In other words can your poor stomach take care of everything and anything you put into it? There are thousands and thousands of people who do not know what it is to have a good, strong, healthy stomach, nor do they realize what it is to have a good appetite.

You can have an all-powerful stomach and a fetching appetite for every meal, and every day, if you give your stomach a rest, and let something else take hold of your food for you and digest it as it comes into the stomach, something that is harmless but that really does the work of digesting, quickly and thoroughly.

This "something" is Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the most effective little tablets in the world for curing anything that may be wrong with your stomach. One ingredient of these precious little workers digests 3,000 grains of the coarsest or richest food put into the stomach. Think of it, 3,000 grains! They are really an artificial stomach, because they act just like the stomach, they digest your food, just as though you didn't have a stomach at all. It supplies the stomach with the digestive juices which have become weak and scanty.

Then your indigestion, dyspepsia, sour risings, brash, belchings, acidity, fermentation, loss of appetite, aversion to food, bloaty feeling, heartburn and nausea, will be no more. You can then eat anything you want, all you want, whenever you want, and your stomach will feel fine before and after your meals. Your appetite will be a thing of pleasure to have, your meals will be a pleasure to eat and relish, and your digestion will be thorough and soothing to the whole body.

You can't do your work well or be cheerful, or have energy or vim or ambition when your stomach is bad. Make yourself feel good after a hearty meal, feel good all over, clear your mind and make you enjoy life by taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Give your stomach a rest so it can right itself, then you need fear nothing. Send us your name and address to-day and get a free sample package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets by return mail. are attached to the C.M.S. The scholars are nearly 12,000, in 600 schools. During 1905 there were 3,430 baptisms (about ten every day in the year). The Chinese Christians contributed last year $80,000 for religious purposes. "This sum,"

Mr. Lloyd writes, "ought to be reckoned as £80,000 in English currency, considering the relative value of money in the two countries."

The Very Rev. Charles William Stubbs, D.D., Dean of Ely, has been appointed Bishop of Truro in succession to Dr. Gott, deceased. The probable selection of Dr. Stubbs for this vacancy has been forshadowed in the daily press, probably due to the fact that he has so thoroughly justified his appointment in 1894 by Mr. Gladstone to succeed Dr. Merivale at Ely, where he has worked assiduously, and has taken an enthusiastic interest in all that concerns the Cathedral. Early in the present year he announced that arrangements were being made for the celebration on October 17th of the 800th anniversary of the consecration of the Cathedral, when the Archbishop of Canterbury would preach the sermon. He has published "Historical Memorials of Ely Cathedral," a "Handbook to Ely Cathedral," and "In a Minster Garden" (Colloquies of Ely), and has in every way identified himself with the Cathedral and its traditions. He is a picturesque writer and an able preacher.—Guardian.

A missionary of the Church of England Zenana Missionary Society writes the following short account of a curious Chinese custom: "Last Sunday, while I was taking the afternoon hospital service there was a deafening noise in the street. Afterwards they told us that a very large paper boat was being carried through the immediate neighborhood by men dressed in white, which is the mourning color. The boat was being taken to a canal near by, and thence to be thrown into the sea, with the object of pleasing the idols and stopping the plague. The people are terrified of the boat, for they believe that if by chance it touches anyone on its journey through the streets that person will die, or any house it may knock against they think will be most unlucky and that some of the inmates will certainly die of plague. Poor things, it makes us more and more sad as we see them day by day wholly given up to idolatry, superstition, and sin. We seek to do all we can in dispensary and hospital, as well as in visiting, to win them for Jesus."

GOOD MANNERS IN CHURCH.

Once upon a time there was a Boy who went to church. He was a Boy who usually played in the streets unless he was delivering papers, his only source of revenue. He wasn't a bad Boy, only careless and easy-going, one of that large family of Boys who never know what to do next on Sunday, and think it much more manly to stay away from church and Sunday-school, wasting a lot of time "doing nothing."

This Boy in the story happened to pass the church just as the bell was ringing for service, and, feeling rather cold, and having nothing in particular to do, he went into the church to see what it was like.

When he got inside the church he felt confused and shy, and recognizing an acquaintance sitting in the very last seat, who was a Boy like himself, sat down beside him. He felt very strange, and imagined that every one was looking at him, wondering why he had come; and he tried to make himself as small as possible, slinking down into the seat, taking a Prayer Book in his hand, and opening it aimlessly that he might look down and not be so easily recognized.

The Boy first in the seat whispered, "Take off your cap."

"What for?" asked the Second Boy.

"Because this is a church," said the First Boy.

"When did you take off your hat?" asked the Second Boy.
