A REAL High Foot-Lift Gang and MORE.
 High means HIGH in the J. I. Case High Foot-Lift Gang Plow. With the foot alone the bottoms can be raised from plowing position six inches in the ground to more than six inches above ground or vice versa. And a boy can do it easily. It is not only a high lift, but an easy lift, due to the powerful leverage and strong lifting springs.
 But the feature that is even more important to your ease and convenience and one which you will find on no other Foot-Lift Gang, is the double service accomplished by the floating lever. This lever is connected to the cross-bar to which the foot lever is also attached and can be used to assist the foot lever in lifting the bottoms out, or to force them into hard ground. This lever is also used to lock the bottoms up in the frame, making it impossible for them to drop down when the plow is being transported. It may also be used to lock the bottoms in the ground, holding them securely to their work. And remember this lever can be instantly and easily changed to either a lock or a floating lever. Don't you see the importance of this feature? Wouldn't you like to become familiar with all the working principles of so marvelous a plow? Ask your dealer about it or write to us for full particulars.
