THE WESTERN FAIR.

London, September 5th to 14th, 1901.

The first Western Fair of the twentieth century promises to be a record-breaker in all the essential features that go to make up a varied exhibition of the products of the soil, the skill of daymen, the judgment and knowledge of our breeders of thoroughbred stock, the skill of the artisan, and the general perfection of a day or two of pleasurable sight-seeing that one is enabled to realize at a glance the richness of the section from which the Western draws its patronage and the vast possibilities of the land we inhabit.

At the Fair grounds all conveniences have been improved, and exhibitors will be pleased to know of such additions and alterations in the Prize List as are calculated to give the greatest amount of satisfaction to the exhibitors. The speeding in the ring, always a feature of the Western Fair, will this year, with enlarged purses, be more attractive than ever, while the incidental attractions are the highest-priced that could be secured. The gymnasts are all of the first-class in the vaudeville world to-day, and not the least interesting feature is a full troupe of performing elephants.

Prize Lists may be had on application to Mr. J. A. Nelles, Secretary.

GENTLEMEN WHO ARE BALD, or have thin hair, should call on Prof. Dorenwend at the Garner House, Chatham, on Friday, July 12, to Saturday, July 13, noon sharp, and see his wonderful devices in Toupees, and Wigs worn on over 65,000 heads. Explanation and demonstration free. Private apartments at hotel. Don't miss to see his new invention, patented all over the world.

DISTRICT DOINGS. DRESDEN.

July 11.—Miss Trine Trerice, of Toronto, is visiting Miss Eva Aikens, here.

Mrs. Los. Cronk, and daughter, visited Detroit yesterday.

Wm. Rubie is confined to the house through illness.

Henry Sharp, son of the late Thomas Sharp, and Miss Elizabeth Cragg, North Dresden, were married here yesterday.

J. E. McGlochon paid Chatham a visit to-day.

WALLACEBURG

July 11.—Miss Hambridge, of Watford, who was one of the former teachers in our school here, is visiting Miss Mitchell and other friends in town.

Mr. J. A. McKelvey, of Cleveland, formerly of Wallaceburg, left to-day, after renewing acquaintances in town for a few days.

A crowd of young people drove to Walpole Island last evening and had a very pleasant time.

The sad death of Mr. McDonald, one of the old residents of this place, took place this morning at 3 o'clock. Mr. McDonald was postmaster here for many years before his son, Mr. D. McDonald, took his place, and consequently was well known all around this community. A few days ago he had an attack of apoplexy and since then never gained consciousness.

BLLENHEIM.

July 11.—The question that our merchants were very anxious to have solved yesterday was, where is the street sprinkler? The facts of the case are, that our merchants are paying a heavy tax towards the watering of the streets, and to have the dust blowing down our front street the way it did yesterday is a disgrace. We would ask our Town Council to take the matter in hand and see that the streets are kept properly watered, especially while the tank stands full of water and running to waste.

About a dozen members of Rondeau Lodge, I. O. O. F., drove to Ridgeway yesterday afternoon to attend the funeral of the late Bro. Joseph Brown, a member of the lodge in Ridgeway.

Mr. Brown was the former owner of the Greenwood Cemetery, Ridgeway. Mr. Geo. Thompson is erecting an addition to his store, occupied by E. G. Thompson. He is also having the old building remodelled and new plate glass windows placed in the front and a new elevator put in. When completed he will have one of the most convenient and up-to-date stores in the county.

James Rouse, of H. W. Edmonds' drug store, is on a holiday trip east this week.

T. L. Pardo, M. P., is having a new tramway placed in his mill for the purpose of hauling up the logs. It will be completed to-day.

Miss G. Johnston arrived home yesterday, after spending a pleasant holiday trip to eastern points.

Wm. Hewett, M. D., of Cleveland, O., is visiting friends in town.

James Watt, of Ridgeway, was in town yesterday.

We are pleased to see Geo. Myland, who was reported so very ill in last week's Planet, on the street again.

Special Summer Trousers

Odd pairs of white duck, flannel, or porous unlined cloth. They are happy combinations of style and comfort, and every dressy man wants two or three pairs in his wardrobe at this time of the year.

In this class of wear the factory comes in with splendid helpfulness. Every store buyer soon learns how hard it is to get natty odd garments promptly in season and right in price. The customer knows what he wants, and the store knows what the customer wants, but getting it is an entirely different proposition. Here the customer gets suited because we make the garments to suit him. If there's a fault, your criticism goes to the right place and the fault disappears. It's almost like making things to order.

Greatly in the interest of good cloths is this close touch between maker and wearer.

Prices of these odd garments are less than we could profitably sell at if any other factory had made them.

Thornton & Douglas

ing his new fence, which looks very nice.

CEDAR SPRINGS.

We are pleased to see Mrs. R. Smith around again, after her serious illness. Miss M. McGuigan, of Detroit, is the guest of her sister, Miss Cora McGuigan.

Many of the farmers here have purchased hay loaders from J. H. Doey, and are more than satisfied with them. Mr. Doey has been unable to get sufficient loaders to supply the demand.

Mr. Taylor, general agent for the Maxwell machines, is hustling for his firm in this vicinity.

The work on the new school house at the station is being rapidly pushed forward.

Most of the cottages at Erie Beach are now occupied.

LADIES LOOK YOUNGER

Which is the desire of one and all. Take the trouble of visiting Prof. Dorenwend's private show rooms at Garner House, Chatham, on Friday, July 12 to Saturday, July 13, noon sharp, and see the many beautiful inventions in Styles of Human Hair Coverings, Wigs, Bangs, Switches, etc., and inspect his new patent structure.

The Planet

RONDEAU, THURSDAY, JULY 11, 1901.

Day's Doings At Rondeau, Maple City's Summer Resort.

How Cottagers and Campers are Spending The Season of Recreation on the Shores of Lake Erie.

A few nice fish were secured yesterday.

The yacht Winona went ashore last night during the blow.

Morton Sheldon was a guest at the Bothy, Sand-Knowe.

Richard Davy is putting up a new cottage in Riddell Hollow.

The family of George Roddick are domiciled in the street cars.

Alex. VonGuten is building a substantial addition to his cottage Ill-ciliwaet.

There are sixty guests at the Bungalow. The majority are from Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Rutley are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Rutley, Thursavella.

The family of J. W. Mann will go out to his summer cottage, Solid Comfort, on Saturday.

W. E. Hall and family and George Bounsell and family are in their respective cottages.

John McCorvie and family move out to the Eau to-day. They will occupy E. R. Smith's cottage.

The family of John Turner have leased the cottage of Dr. Hall and will move out Saturday.

All the cottages at Samsonville are inhabited. Archie Samson and family are at Drumtochty Lodge.

The family of Dr. McKeough are enjoying the Eau breezes at the doctor's fine summer residence.

Will and Garnet Brackin were out preparing Happy Days for the advent of Principal Brackin's family.

The game warden would do well to visit the Eau in the evening. The shooting of game birds is being indulged in.

W. H. Harper, city passenger agent of the C. P. R., is established with his family at his summer residence, Sand-drean cottage.

Some boys camping at the Eau are plentifully supplied with rifles and shot guns. Some of the residents threaten to take the guns away from the youths.

Capt. Stevens ate his breakfast in the smoking car. Archie Park stopped all smoking, claiming that the Grenvillians had turned the smoker into a dining car.

Thos. Stanton, Jr., and family and Mrs. Geo. Somerville are residing at The Mushroom. They came in Friday, when the family of J. E. Oldershaw will move out for the summer.

Glenville, too, has an inhabited appearance. The families of W. E. Campbell, Archie Park, J. E. Thomas, W. W. Seane, Capt. Stevens and Mrs. Ryan are in their summer quarters there.

At Schwemler's Cabin Miss Nellie Brisco, Napanee; Mrs. Harry Andrews, Miss Eva Schwemler, Miss Susie Barassin, Jessie and Wilfred Andrews are registered, and are enjoying the Eau breezes immensely.

The Shenango arrived at the Eau last evening with a load of coal cars. She had also two private cars from the Pittsburgh, Bessemer and Pennsylvania R. R. in which were the officials of that road who purpose staying a few days at the Eau to enjoy the fishing.

The season at Erieau has opened, and all those fortunate enough to own or to rent cottages at this delightful summer resort have left the heat of the city behind and taken their place to Chatham's great watering-place. At Minnie Ha Ha cottage, the family of Thos. McCormick is summering.

Chief Young's electric vapor launch the Winkie towed the Red Bird in last evening. The yacht was lying out in the Eau waiting for a wind that never came. Capt. Stevens and Capt. Stringer were on board. Capt. Stevens says that there were so many commanders on the yacht that the wind got frightened and went down and that the Winkie saved him spending a night on the Eau.

Quite a blow struck the bar last night. The tent belonging to Wilton Ball and Alvin Moore, pitched on the Lake Shore next to Mr. Greening's cottage, blew down and the boys sought shelter in the Greening's cottage. Garnet Brackin was calling at the time and he too was buried in the debris when the tent went down. The boys had quite a time collecting their things, but they aroused Norman Harper from bed, secured a lantern, and rather enjoyed collecting their scattered domicile and belongings.

The yachts are now nearly all in commission. In the west end the Bonnie Belle, the Louise and the Winkie are all at their anchorages. Commodore Harper hasn't put his fleet in commission yet. The Red Bird, Wm. Nicholl; Baden-Powell, Glenvillian Syndicate; Rondeau, Capt. Post; the Percival, J. W. Mann; Eric Geo. Bounsell; Outlaw, Bert Merritt, and Capt. Fellows' fleet are all in use. The Eau, with her scores of white-winged craft, presents a beautiful appearance every evening and furnishes enjoyment from many.

EXTRACTS FROM THE LOG OF THE WINONA.

The yacht reached the Eau at four o'clock Tuesday morning. Owing to the wind going down, the boat had to be towed the last five miles with the dingy. S. B. Arnold gives the following extracts from the log of the Winona: We left Toronto early Sunday morning, June 30, and sailed down off Niagara, and then beat down shore to Port Dalhousie. We had fine weather and a good breeze, and passed many fine yachts going to the Hamilton races. Among their number was the Gloria, who is a beauty.

The United States Lighthouse supply boat, the Haze, was waiting to lock through the canal, and the captain, becoming enamoured with the good looks of the Maple City yachtsmen, towed their craft through the lock. The American boat was ahead flying the Stars and Stripes, while the little Canadian yacht, hanging on the rear of the big United States sloop, had the blue ensign of the British navy proudly shaking its folds to the breeze. Some there were who said that the Lion had caught the Eagle by the tail feathers, while others claimed that the Eagle was towing the Lion by the nose. Admiral Farquhar and family were on board the Haze.

The Winona lay at Port Colborne for a day while the party visited Buffalo and the exposition. Friday morning in the face of the probabilities predicting equals on Lake Erie, the Winona set sail for Port Stanley. When about half the distance was made, storms broke on all sides of the yacht, and while the yacht lay with her sails idly flapping, hurricanes were sweeping Lake Erie all around. Soon a heavy sea was running, but, the wind rising, the staunch little yacht ran along nicely, and made Port Stanley. The lake was very rough and the Winona tossed about like a cork. But safe came the ship to the harbor at Port Stanley, and then the run to the Eau was made successfully, but with some difficulty.
