Of Atrocities

Boise, Idaho, June 10.—The cross-examination of Harry Orchard, by his own confession the slayer of eighteen men with bullet and bomb, is likely to last through Monday and Tuesday of next week, possibly longer. Orchard has now been on the stand for 14 hours. The state had him in hand for nearly eight hours. In that time told a horrible tale of crime during the last eleven years of his life.

Orchard spared no incident under questioning by the state, which might prove to the jury his readiness to slaughter for low pay and his utter indifference as to the number or condition of his victims.

Defense Will Try to Shift Responsibility For Awful

Orchard Keeps Cool on the Stand-A Horrible Tale of Atrocities

termined that Orchard shall relate in his testimony the most diabolical or the most squalid detail. Slowly but surely the defence is developing the lines by which it hopes to break down Orchard's testimony, so far as it affects Haywood. If it is possible to heap further obliquy on the witness, they have done so by proving him capable of petty crimes.

No Crime Too Low.

By his own admission, Orchard is a bigamist, a thief, a liar and an incendiary; he has been treacherous to his employers; he has deserted two wives, and his children. All of these offences he has been forced to confess, but not withstanding a gruelling examination by Mr. Richardson he has stuck stubbornly to his story.

by Mr. Richardson he has stuck stub-bornly to his story.

By its questions the defence has plainly indicated its intention of prov-ing that Orchard was the hired agent of the mine owners, who, harrassed by the Western Federation of Miners, or the mine owners, who, harrassed by the Western Federation of Miners, and determined to wipe out union labor at the Idaho and Colorado mines, planned assassinations, train wrecking and mine explosions which could be laid to the federation and thus keep militia on the ground while non-union men worked the mines.

It has been shown under cross-examination that Orchard trafficked with railroad detectives in the mining region of Cripple Creek during the great strike there, while almost at the same time he was in the confidence of the leaders of the Western Federation of Miners. Led on by Mr. Richardson, Orchard has stated that he was hired by Moyer, president of the federation, to act as his guard against alleged thugs said to have been hired by the mine owners to attack and terrorize Moyer.

alleged thugs said to have been hired by the mine owners to attack and terrorize Moyer.

Orchard the Coolest.

The coolest man in the court is Orchard. Under Mr. Richardson's grilling he has seldom changed the tone in which he first told his awful tale. His answers come without hesitation. So far he has not made any material contradictions. From time to time he has actually corrected the record itself when his answers of the day before have been read and transcription shows an error. At times his reply to an assertion made by Richardson is positive in the extreme. "I made no such statement," or "I said nothing of the kind," is a frequent answer, and when he finds some statement not to his satisfaction he will change it, always preceding the change with: "I beg you pardon, sir, but I would like to change that answer."

The warden at the penitentiary says The warden at the penitentiary says that Orchard shows no sign of nervousness or strain. He eats well, and speaks without particular emotion of the events of the day.

One of the interesting features of

One of the interesting features of yesterday's examination was that Orchard aids his first wife, whom he deserted in Canada in 1895 to run away with another man's wife. He testified that since imprisoned he sold a locket and chain and other objects for something like $115, the greater part of which he had sent to his wife. The objects, beside the locket and chain, were a fishing-rod, a gun, a revolver, and some little things. He said that the warden disposed of these for him, with the understanding that the person buying them could have them "after the trial."

son buying them could have them "after the trial."

Wife to Testify.

There arrived in Boise yesterday, Mrs. Ida Toney-Orchard, a widow, with three children, whom Orchard married, notwithstanding he had another wife in Canada, and known there under Orchard's true name, Horsley. Mrs. Toney will testify, it is said, that while Orchard lived at Cripple Creek he was in the employ of the mine owners. It is expected by the defence that she will be able to throw light on the motives of Orchard, and that she will strengthen the assertion of the defence, that the mine owners, and not the Western Federation of Miners, were the conspirators who employed Orchard to murder. Some new light has been thrown on the murder of Lyte Gregory in Denver. According to statements made by the police in Denver, Orchard, or Simpkins, or whoever Orchard's accomplice was, were suspected of murder. Bloodhounds tracked the murderers to the yard behind Pettibone's store, where Orchard says he hid his guns. Other evidence was also discovered. The police were about to arrest the two men when, the story, goes, orders came from some mysteri-

WIFE SUICIDES.

Could No Longer Bear Mother's Death and Husband's Disgrace.

Karlsruhe. Germany, June 10.—Karl Hau, professor of Roman law at the George Washington University, Washington, who is in prison here charged with the murder of his mother-in-law, Frau Molitor, was visited by the governor of the prison Saturday and informed that his wife had committed suicide by drowning in a lake near Pfaeffiken, Switzerland.

The governor had quite a lengthy conversation with the professor, which led to a report that he had confessed that he had murdered his wife's mother, which he has strenuously denied. The state's attorney subsequently denied the report that Hau had made a confession.

went back to Pfaefikon.

On arriving there Mrs. Hau went directly to a bathing establishment on a small lake near Pfaefikon and requested to be given a separate dressing room. The attendants later saw her swimming out in the lake, but soon afterwards they observed that she was no longer moving.

A boatman rowed out to the spot and brought the body ashore, where a physician, who was hurriedly sent for, attempted in vain to resuscitate the unfortunate woman.

Confessed to Wife.

It has not been possible to discover the origin of the story that Hau had confessed the murder of his mother-in-law to the governor of the prison, but it is assumed here that Hau did make a confession to his wife when she last saw him.
