BERNIER SAILS AWAY

Gallant Captain Given Command of the Arctic.

Major Moodie Receives His Commission As Commander-in-Chief of the Expedition to Hudson Bay—Inspector Pelletier Head of the Mounted Police—Minister Prefontaine and Many Friends See Expedition Start For North.

Quebec, Que., Sept. 19.—There were thousands of spectators on the King's Wharf and on the Dufferin Terrace when the steamer Arctic left at 12.30 o'clock Saturday afternoon for her three years' cruise in the waters of Hudson Bay and Mackenzie River.

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries, Hon. R. Prefontaine, went on board at 12.15 p.m., after having thoroughly inspected the steamer in the morning, and addressed the crowd from the bridge of the vessel. He was surrounded by many prominent citizens. Hon. Mr. Prefontaine bade God-speed to the officers and crew, saying that they had a very important duty to fulfill, a very important mission to execute for the Government, the organization of a vast extent of Canadian territory in the northern part of the country.

He expressed the hope that, in three years, they would come back, enjoying good health, after having been true to themselves and their country. He said that next year a relief steamer would be sent to them. Turning towards Major Moodie, he gave him his commission as commander-in-chief of the expedition.

To Capt. Bernier, he said that he had the full command of the vessel and its crew, and that he was responsible for the ship. He (Captain Bernier) would in three years from now, perhaps, be in a position to realize the dream of his life—a trip towards the North Pole for its discovery. The Government thought that, for the moment, there was something more important to accomplish, that is, the organization of the vast territories of the far north.

Hon. Mr. Prefontaine then gave to Inspector Pelletier his commission as head officer of the detachment of Mounted Police on board.

The steamer Arctic then left slowly, accompanied by the Drift, with many officials on board. Mrs. Herbert, wife of Major Moodie, accompanied her husband on the Arctic.

PRINCE BISMARCK DEAD.

Son of Builder of the German Empire

Dies Yesterday

Friedrichsruhe, Sept. 19.—Prince

Herbert Bismarck died yesterday morning at 10.15. The end was painless. Since he ceased to be

Foreign Minister, on the retirement of his father in 1890, Prince

Bismarck has taken part in public affairs only as a member of the Reichstag. His attitude had been that of a man not appreciated by his sovereign, and who was waiting in the background for an opportunity to resume his career.

His delivery as a Parliamentary speaker improved year by year. He always declined to join any political group, steadfastly calling himself an independent.

Prince Bismarck's father trained

him for his successor as chancellor of the German Empire, and advanced him rapidly in the diplomatic service until, at the age of 40 years, he was Minister of Foreign Affairs, in which position he took part in nearly every important international transaction.

The title of Prince Bismarck and the large fortune of the deceased will go to his 7-year-old son, Otto. The estate is now estimated to be worth

$4,000,000, exclusive of the lands.

BUFFALO CHARGES FAIL

Election Trial of North Grey Petition Has Been Postponed.

Judges Hold That the Evidence Was Too Contradictory—Minister Davis Only Witness on Saturday—Said He Had No Knowledge of a Central Organization in Connection With the Liberal Party—Significant Neglect.

Owen Sound, Sept. 19.—Only one witness gave evidence in the North Grey election trial Saturday morning. Hon. E. J. Davis, Commissioner of Crown Lands, said that he had arrived in the riding on the day of Mr. Mackay's nomination, had addressed the convention and departed the following day. A week previous to the election he had returned and had not been in the riding since that occasion. He arrived in Owen Sound on Christmas eve and returned to Toronto in the early morning following. During his brief stay he had merely made arrangements for speakers at public meetings. He had seen Mr. Marshall, the organizer, but had not seen Mr. Mackay. The witness had no knowledge of a central Liberal organization, and did not know who had employed Mr. Marshall. Messrs. Smith and Vance had assisted in the work of organization. Mr. Smith's office was in Toronto, and he did not know who maintained the office.

"Did you really think it necessary to come away up here Mr. Davis with your three leading organizers here to make arrangements for public speakers?" asked Mr. Blackstock in a tone of incredulity.

"Under the circumstances I thought it was very important," replied the Minister of Crown Lands.

The witness said that he had not interested himself in the protest, and could not say who was supplying funds to respond to carry on the trial. This concluded the evidence on the group of charges embodied in the testimony of the Buffalo operators, Nelson and Mulloy.

Significant Neglect.

Mr. Blackstock addressed the court in unusually vigorous style. The procuring of the men to go into a constituency was illegal, and the actions of Mulloy in the riding was corrupt. Four persons could contradict the evidence of Nelson, Sullivan, Vance, McCarthy and Massey. They had not been called by the respondent. This was significant, and a circumstance that pointed to the truth of the story. The stories of Roy McCarthy and C. C. Pearce, the man of many Government jobs, were "extraneous and ridiculous," that a stranger should meekly submit to being bundled out of town by two men who he had never seen until that very day. The story was preposterous. Dr. Hough's denial was unimportant, as he was an innominate party.

Mr. Aylesworth made capital out of the part of the witness's story which told of his morning run to Owen Sound from Stratford, and his return the same day. Agent Dench had proved by the books of the railroad that this was impossible at that time by the regular passenger service. Nelson's second appearance in the box had served only to work on his story and to demonstrate that it was a manufactured yarn from start to finish. He also dwelt upon the unreliability of men who would lend themselves to such a purpose.

Dismissed the Charge.

Their lordships said that in view of the evidence of men of undoubted ending and character who denied the story of these men absolutely, they had no other course open to them than to dismiss the charge.

This adjournment does not mean an end of the trial. It will resume undoubtedly if the statement of counsel for the petitioner may be accepted, and they promise developments of the most startling kind.

The postponement of the North Grey election trial Saturday till Oct. 31 was inevitable on account of the multiplicity of the judges' engagements.

JUDGES REPORT TEN.

C. N. Smith Called on By the Court to Pay All Costs.

Sault Ste. Marie, Sept. 19.—In the Soo election trial, the judges Saturday morning reported the following persons for corrupt and illegal practices: William Coyne, assistant to the president of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company; Sack Kennedy, alias Ferguson; Pat. J. Galvin; David Hopkins, a C.P.R. conductor; J. D. Lamonte; Napoleon Audette; Charles Griswold; William H. Godwin, mayor of Steelton.

W. C. Kilpatrick, mayor and postmaster of Copper Cliff; John F. Bonathan, who admitted he had received a bribe; They also report that, in their belief, corrupt practices, extensively prevailed throughout the entire constituency; they direct C. N. Smith to pay all the costs of the petition.

The court, referring to J. Kennedy, general superintendent of the A. C. R., who wrote to Hopkins, said he was a weak agent in Coyne's hands.

Passenger Train Wrecked.

Port Arthur, Ont., Sept. 19.—Passenger train No. 2, eastbound, was derailed at Dexter yesterday morning. Some of the cars were wrecked. No person was injured. A wrecking train from Port William cleared the track and the train arrived here twelve hours late.

SACHEL OF
THE SATELLITE

I hope Mr. Stephens won't attempt to board those 5,000 river dredgers all in one place.

To the Lacrosse Team—A little winning now and then is appreciated by Chatham men.

By what right and on whose authority is campaign literature franked from Ottawa?

Be sure you hear the orator of them all, Mr. E. L. Borden, K. C., M. P., leader of the Canadian Opposition.

Armour & Mack's Comedians, billed for the Grand to-night, did not come in on an "Armour" express.

I don't care who opens the Fair so long as Babcock's Tecumseh wins from Orilla at Galt on Wednesday.

Mathinks I could write a capital article on "The Canadian Mail, its Use and Abuse." Of course, it would be an entirely political story.

There must have been over a ton of Grit campaign literature brought into Chatham through the mails, and the Chatham pays for this.

I see my old friend, J. D. Lamont provided transportation for voters at the Soo election. The only surprising thing about it to me is that he bought the tickets.

O, I guess it's pretty near time that another High Court Judge was puzzling his learned head about the Sapient Bon Mots of the Satchel column.

You know I feel lonesome when I haven't a judge or some other celebrated lawyer endeavoring to conjecture just what I did mean to say. It's generally mean enough at that.

Being a little ignorant, I'd just like some good-natured Grit to tell me how it is that Mr. D. A. Gordon, who isn't even a member, can send campaign literature without postage from Ottawa.

If the General Honorable Sid Fisher wants a can opener with which to open the Fair, I could lend him mine. If he wants a corkscrew, most any St. Thomas visitor could furnish him with one. If he wants a pair of Jacks, I think that Jack Edmondson and Jack McGoig would probably do.

When George Stephens, M. P., has arranged for board for those 5,000 who'll dredge the river next year—perhaps, he will then be ready to arrange for Sunday church accommodation and provide Sunday school collection.

The great mistake of Romeo and Juliet reminds us that we are all liable to make a mistake once in a while. Do you know, even if the Satellite could make a mistake there are people waiting around to point out the error.

You have doubtless heard a great deal about Ayer's Sarsaparilla—how it makes the blood pure and rich, tones up the nervous system, clears the skin, reddens the cheeks. Ask your doctor. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

HOW TO SNARE A MAN.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Mrs. Linda Ross Wade has given away the secret. The oracle of the National Dressmakers' convention has told "how to snare a man." Here is her recipe:

"Be stunning," then she told them how to be stunning, if not beautiful. Here are some of the things she told them:

"Wear simple gowns, but be sure they are becoming. Show your charms. Let modesty dictate where to stop. Wear low cut dresses. If shoulders and skin are good. Pad if you are a human hatter; don't show the hooks. Be natural. In desperate cases try red. Don't pull your skirt tight unless—Be attractive in the morning. Don't let men call you 'dowdy attire.'"

To these things Mrs. Wade added:

"Study man. Never wear high heels except in the ballroom or on the stage. Don't be mannish. Play to man's hobbies. Don't always smile, be cross and fight occasionally."
