AROUSING THE PUBLIC TO STAMP OUT CONSUMPTION.

tion of Leaflets and Delivery of Lectures Means to the End in View-Literature to Teach the People How to Avoid the

The Commissioner's Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Mr. W. A. Clemons, Ottawa, has sent out the following:

Many of the most thoughtful and public-spirited men of the Dominion are numbered among the officers and members of the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Consumption and other forms of Tuberculosis, which held its fourth annual meeting in Ottawa on April 20th and 21st. Every thinking man and woman must be impressed with the necessity for united action to check the ravages of a disease which causes one death in every eight in this country, and gives rise to a vast amount of suffering and permanent ill-health. It is calculated that in Canada at the present moment between 30,000 and 40,000 persons are suffering from it, yet it is undoubtedly a preventable disease, and one that is curable in its earlier stages. and other forms of Tuberculosis, disease, and one that is curable in its earlier stages.

Arousing the Public.—The report of the executive council pointed out that the operations of the association have combined with other influences to concentrate public attention ences to concentrate public attention in some degree upon consumption and to awaken a desire for information regarding the measures which ahould be taken to stay its ravages. The secretary, Rev. Dr. Moore, of Ottawa, during the year distributed by mail and otherwise over 100,000 leaflets on "How to Prevent Consumption," "Rules for Consumptives," etc. Many lectures were also given, with the hearty co-operation and sympathy of medical health officers and other members of the medical profession, the mayors and members of Municipal Councils, the clergy of all denominations and the proprie-cal profession, the mayors and members of Municipal Councils, the clergy of all denominations and the proprietors of newspapers. As the president, Hon. Senator Edwards, pointed out, literature such as the association distributes should be in every home, so that the people might be taught the simple means by which the scourge may be avoided.

Infection from Animals.—A phase of the question in which farmers are particularly interested was discussed by Dr. Ravenal, an eminent United States authority, who is assistant medical director of the Henry Phipps Institute at Philadelphia, in an able address on "Animal Tuberculosis in Their Relation to Human Health." Dr. Ravenal detailed with exactness the advancement made in the study of consumption since Koch of Berlin made his famous discovery of the tubercule bacillus, and said that in the course of many years experiment—ing he had not found any animals tubercule bacillus, and said that in the course of many years experimenting he had not found any animals that were immune from tuberculosis. The lecturer vigorously combatted the opinion of Koch and others that there is an essential difference between human and bovine tuberculosis, and cited a large number of experiments in support of his view that these were practically identical. While admitting that the majority of cases of consumption were due to in-cases of consumption were due to infection by inhalation, he claimed that a considerable percentage could be definitely traced to infection through the digestive tract by food, particularly milk and meat. The few figures available seemed to indicate that about 25 per cent. of children's cases were due to the latter cause. He had no knowledge of any case of an adult becoming consumptive in this way. Fresh Air, Light and Sunshine.—The keynote of the convention was: "Live as much as possible in the open air." Fresh air, light and sunshine are most important preventives of consumption, and all rooms occupied by consumptives should be as well lighted and ventilated as possible. Living in over-crewded, ill-ventilated, dark, dirty rooms; insufficient or bad food; dissipation; or anything which enfeebles the constitution and thus impairs its power of resistance, is likely to facilitate the invasion of the system by the germs. These are found in vast numbers in the dust particles of the dried spit of the consumptive, and in the minute droplets sprayed into the atmosphere by the consumptive in coughing, consequently spitting about the streets or in buildings (churches, schools, theatres, railway stations, etc.) is a dangerous as well as a filtly habit.

The Safatorium Treatment.—The ideal place for treating incipient cases of tubercular disease is in the municipal fresh air sanatorium, where the patients may enjoy the best of care, without being altogether removed from the watchfulness of their friends and family physicians. Every patient who is cured in the sanatorium becomes an apostle of their friends and family physicians. Every patient who is cured in the sanatorium at Kentville with a capacity for 18 patients. In the whole Dominion there are only four other institutions devoted to the treatment of consumption. Three of these are under private control and management, and one is the property of the National Sanatorium Association of Ontario. The total accommodation in all of these, with that in hospitals to which con

"He Won't Die

Of consumption" is a remark often made of a fleshy man. The remark expresses the popular recognition of the fact that the sign of consumption is emaciation, loss of flesh. On the other hand, a gain in flesh is a sure sign that wasting diseases are being cured.

Emaciated people with obstinate coughs, bleeding lungs, night-sweats and weakness, have been perfectly cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The several steps Dr. Fierce's Golden

Mr.Will W. White.

Mr. Will H. Whitmire, of Arkion, Rockingham Co, Va., writes: "Our son contracted a deep cold about the first of July, 1899, and had a terrible cough. We called a doctor and he pronounced it irritation of the bronchial tubes, with asthmadt crouble, and he informed me that my son was liable to die at any time. He told me that if we could keep the bronchial tubes open, he might cure him; but after treating him several weeks and my son growing worse all the time. I concluded to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets.' I had seen several almost miraculous cures brought about by the use of these medicines, and of course I had wonderful faith in them. He used three bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' at home and one vial of the 'Pellets' and was then well enough to go to West Virginia, taking a supply with him. I am just in receipt of a letter from him from which I quote: 'I am well and hardy and gelting very fachy.'"

Why the Sea Is Salt, Why should the sea be salt, when the lakes and rivers are fresh? This the lakes and rivers are fresh? This is a question that comparatively few people stop to think about. They recognize the fact, but do not take the trouble to reason about it.

There are four salts in sea water-sodium chloride (common salt), magnesium, potassium and calcium. These are minerals and are washed out of the rocks of the earth by the streams and carried to the sea in a state of solution.

streams and carried to the sea in a state of solution.

The water of the sea is being constantly evaporated and it comes to the land as rain, snow, hail or sleet. But this evaporation leaves the salt in the sea, and as the streams are all the time carrying more salt there the quantity is constantly increasing, but so gradually that it is not noticed in the water. It has been estimated that if all the salt were obtained out of the waters of the sea there would be enough to cover the continent of North America to a depth of half a mile.

In the many parts of the world the salt used by the people is all obtained from sea water, but not where there are salt mines or salt springs, for the quality of that obtained from them is much superior to that yielded by sea water.

Soon we shall see an end of blue uniforms in the United States army and navy, drab being the color substituted. Poets who have been wont to make patroitic rhymes on "blue" and "true" will find "drab" and grab" a bit rude and imperiatistic.

GREATLY ALARMED.

By a Persistent Cough, but Permanently Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. H. P. Burbage, a student at law, in Greenville, S. C., had been troubled for four or five years with a continuous cough which he says, "greatly alarmed me, causing me to fear that I was in the first stage of consumption." Mr. Burbage, having seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised, concluded to try it. Now read what he says of it: "I soon felt a remarkable change and after using two bottles of the twenty-five cent size, was permanently cured." Sold by All Druggists.

fate that the most famous of all painters of the realities of war should have lost his own life in a tragedy as ghastly as any that his brush had ever depicted.

Verestchagin's genius places him in the very front rank of the world's greatest painters. No one ever put on canvas so vividly as he the brutal realism of warfare. He was with the brush what Tolstoi is with the pen.

His masterpiece, "The Pyramid of Skulls," dedicated to all the conquerors that have been, that are, and that will be, has been fittingly termed the apotheosis of the Glory of War.

of War.

Verestchagin, who was a Russian of the Russians and of Tartar origin, was born at Novgorod in 1842.

He was educated with a view to the navy. Very early in life, however, he developed such a talent with his pencil that he abandoned the sea and devoted himself to art. He studied in St. Petersburg, and afterwards in Paris, and at nineteen exhibited in the Salon. But the fascinations of the adventurous life soon overcame him, and he left Paris to spend five years wandering among the tribes of Turk-estan and in India. Then he returned to fight for his country against Tur-

One of his brothers was killed and another wounded in the assault at Plevna, which he saw standing by the side of the Emperor Alexander

One of the best known of his pictures was the result of the campaign which culminated in Plevna. It is called 'All Quiet in the Shipka Pass,' and represents three stages in the life of a soldier. In the first he stands knee-deep in the snow, keeping a look-out. In the second the snow has risen, and the soldier's head is bowed. In the third the cold head is bowed. In the third the cold-has done its work. He has become unconscious, and he reclines, clasping his rifle, in the sleep of death. Perhaps his most famous series is that which depicts Napoleon in Mos-cow in 1812. When these pictures were exhibited in France they affect-ed some patriots to tears, while oth-ers declared that they had never he-fore realized the intense human pathos that underlies the imperial tragedy.

Verestchagin went all through the war between Japan and China. In private life he was the most lovable of men.

A Mosque in London.

A Mosque in London.

London is to have a mosque. It is being planned by the l'an-islamic Society, which affords a centre of union in the metropolis to Muslims from all parts of the world. Subscriptions are being asked from private persons, and it is proposed to seek the aid of all Sovereigns, who have Mussulman subjects.

Founded in 1886 as the Anjumanislam, the society took its present title last year. During his recent stay in London the "Emperor of the Sahara," formerly known under the more modest name of M. Lebaudy, yielded to the proselytising efforts of the Secretary. Oriental picturesqueness and splendid architecture will be blended in the proposed mosque—that is, if the society's plans are fully realized. The edifice will be built of green stone—the color of Islam—and in the interior it will be embellished with all kinds of beautiful mosalc.

And Use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets You'll Never Healty Know What Dyspepsia Means.

The time to cure Indigestion is right at the start, before it makes eating a terror and sleeping a nightmare; before it gets firmly fixed in the body with all its aches and despondency.

Take it right at the start and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure it so quickly you will never realize what Dyspepsia really means.

But if your Indigestion has become Dyspepsia and got you firmly in its cluiches there is no reason to despair. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have cured thousands of cases just as bad as yours. They'll do it again. They never fail. Take the case of Hene Trudei of Three Rivers, Quebec. He says:

"My Dyspepsia made alarming pro-sleep."

If funds are not soon forthcoming for a structure on the pretentions lines mentioned, a more modest building will be erected.

Fresh Air Cure for Grip.

Fresh Air Cure for Grip.

An English physician adds grip to the maladies for which fresh air is the best specific. He says:

"I have lately attended a case of influenza. I saw the patient thirteen times. As yet we have no antitoxin for influenza, though we know the microbe, so that I could only watch and wait. However, I gave various drugs, etc., that were perhaps of some little value. But of those thirteen visits only two were of direct and certain value to the patient. On these two occasions I opened a window. The first time the patient was under six blankets and miserable for want of air. The second time she had had four hours of distressing nausea, which vanished with the advent of a little fresh air. The public knows about open air for tuberculosis, and it has heard that we now treat pneumonia with open windows. Why can't it help itself to air in case of grip?"

A Mill Rus by Mice.

David Hutton after some experiments in 1812 calculated that by equipping a thread factory with 10,000 mice and an equal number of miniature treadmills for them to operate he could secure a yearly profit of $15,000. In order to do this each mouse would have to run ten and a half miles every day, or over 3,800 miles a year. He found that they could perform this task with ease. Indeed one of his test mice ran eighteen miles a day. Mr. Hutton's untimely death is said to have prevented a practical test of the mice will.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Life looks dark indeed when a woman feels that her strength is fading away and she has no hopes of ever being restored. Such was my feeling a few months ago when I was advised that my poor health was caused by prolapsus or falling of the womb. The words sounded like a knell to me, I felt that my sun had set; but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound came to me as an elixir of life; it restored the lost forces and built me up until my good health returned to me. For four months I took the medicine daily and each dose added health and strength. I am so thankful for the help I obtained through its use."—Mrs. Florence Danforth, 1007 Miles Ave., St. Joseph, Mich.

A medicine that has restored so many women to health and can produce proof of the fact must be regarded with respect. This is the record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which cannot be equalled by any other medicine the world has ever produced. Here is another case;—
