THE MUNICIPAL CONTEST

JUL 2 8 1942

New Men.

THE BYLAWS DEFEATED.

It is not often that Guelph has an aldermanic contest in every ward, but such was the case yesterday, and a keen contest it was. In St. Patrick's "the syndicate," as it was facetiously ealled, got a renewal of the confidence of the electors; mainly owing to their good work for the Ward last year, and Ald. Itstle may well feel proud of his vote. Mr. Kennedy made a hard fight; and he was only defeated by a narrow margin. In St. George's the preference of the rate-payers was very plainly expressed. Mr. Little, one of the younger bisiness men, will make a good alderman. In St. George's the preference of the rote-payers was very plainly expressed. Mr. Nelson heads the poll, while Ald. Reed fails by the way: there seemed to be an impression that the worthy Alderman was too much interested in that half mile track to attend to other things. The defeat of Mr. Spragge as School Trustee is to be regretted; overconfidence on the part of his friends may explain it. In St. David's some surprise was given yald. Kelly's defeat. Ald. Sully has the honor of heading the poll, while Mr. Moffatt made a remerkably good second for an untried man. Ald. Barber lost a little for the same reason likely that caused the defeat of the Waterworks bylaw, while some of the ratepayers explain the first of the waterworks bylaw, while some of the ratepayers explain the first of the waterworks bylaw, while some of the ratepayers explain the first of the waterworks bylaw, while some of the ratepayers explain the first of the waterworks bylaw, while some of the ratepayers explain the first of the waterworks bylaw, while some of the ratepayers explain the first of the waterworks bylaw, while some of the ratepayers explain the first of the waterworks bylaw, while some of the ratepayers explain the first of the waterworks bylaw, while some of the waterworks bylaw, while some of the ratepayers explain the first of the waterworks bylaw, while some of the ratepayers explain the first of the waterworks bylaw. It is not often that Guelph has dermanic contest in every ward, caused the detest of the Waterworks bylaw, while some of the ratepayers explain Ald. Kelly's defeat by saying that he antagonized everyone else in the Council, and no one would work with him hence the Ward did not get fair play. In St. Andrew's Mr.

od, and no one would work with bim, hence the Ward did not get fair play. In St. Andrew's Mr. Smith got a great vote, while the return of Ald. Scroggie and Palmer will be welcomed, as they have faithfully discharged their duty. Ald. Kerr had to succumb to the fortunes of war. In St. James', Ald. Lamprey survives as usual. Mr. Fischer will make a good representative, while Mr. Slater will probably be sobered by the responsibilities of office; he will know how it goes himself. Mr. Russell's defeat was largely due to the fact that he was not a resident of the ward, but he was close up to Mr. Slater. On the whole, the personnel of the Council has been improved; the presence of Meseare. Little: Nelson and Smith, three of the city's younger and successful business mea, should help to the conduct of city affairs on a business basis.

The Local Improvement bylaw was defeated for want of proper agitation and information, while the Waterworks bylaw was lost because of the refusal of the Council to give a more definite scheme as to where the mains where to be laid, together with the reluctance of the people to increase the debt.

From half past five to seven the cityal wall was crowded with electors waiting to to where the mains where to be laid, together with the reluctance of the people to increase the debt.

From half past five to seven the city hall was crowded with electors waiting to hear the returns which were read out by Dr. McGuire as they arrived. During the monotony of waiting for the last return, which was announced from Tras Mercurn extra, Mr. Slater was vigorously called on to make a speech, and ascended the platform amidst a storm of applause. After thanking his supporters for his election, and telling a humorous story parallel to his third and successful candidature as alderman, be said that he would do the best he could for the ward and the city generally, the same as if he was working for his own interests. He would try to keep down the expenses, and would not allow anyone to pull the wool over his eyes. Mr. Slater retired amids great applause. This was the only oration, and the meeting dispersed. It was blooked on its exit, however, by the enterprising earrier boys of Turn Mraccurs reling extras of the full returns, which were sold more rapidly than they could be supplied, although there, were half a hundred of boys on the warpath.

-Darocher ST. GEORGE'S SCHOOL

The Fine New Building Publicly Opened.

This morning the fine new school building over the river, known as the St. George's Ward School, was publicly opened by an inspection of the school by the large number present, and by a meeting at which addresses were delivered by prominent gentlemen connected with the school system and the ward. The oniside of the new building presents a stately appearance, its generous proportions giving the observer a most favorable impression. Inside this good opinion is heightened by the bright and roomy halls, and the four spacious rooms, all of which are equipped with well arranged cloak rooms and the latest improved furniture. The sanitary and heating arrangements are on the Smead Dowd system which is considered the best in the Province. Altogesher, the ratepayers of the city, and of St. George's in particular, have reason to feel proud of the building which takes front rank among the school buildings of the Province, and is a monument to the faithfulness of the Beard to the duty of properly developing the educational advantages of the city, and to the good sense of the citizens in backing them up.

Among those present were Dr. Keating, chairman of the Board of Education, Rev. Dr. Torrance, Secretary; Mr. Mo-Laren, chairman Sties and Buildings, and Mr. Anderson, chairman School Property, the representatives of the Ward at the Board; Mesurs. Watk Schinner, Dr. McGulre, Spragge, Deike, Schingsour, and Chief Randell, E. R. Bollers, John Moore, Jas. Ferret, George Herper, and Chair, the Collegiste Institute, staff; Coll-Highnobthem, Robt. Melvin, J. Mr. Bond, Chief Randell, E. R. Bollers, John Moore, Jas. Ferret, George Herper, and other citizens. A large number of ladies brightened the event by their presence.
