DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Met Formally Yesterday and Transacted Its First Business. Speech From the Throne.—New Conservative Leader Given a Splendid Reception.

Ottawa, Feb. 7.—Parliament met formally this afternoon and transacted its first business. The attendance of spectators was very large and the galleries were crowded.

The appearance of R. L. Borden, the new conservative leader, was the signal for the first outburst of applause from the opposite benches, in which those occupying government seats joined heartily.

The formal communication from Secretary Harris Graham, announcing that his excellency Lord Minto desired to convey to them his own congratulations and those of the government side of his house to his honorable friend, the senior member for Halifax, Mr. Borden, on the elevation to the high office of leader of His Majesty's loyal opposition.

Since our last meeting the empire has been called on to lament the demise of her late majesty Queen Victoria. The universal regret and sympathy with which the tidings of her decease have been received throughout the entire civilized world afford the best testimony to the manner in which she has at all times discharged her duties both as a woman and a sovereign.

Mr. Borden, replying thanked the premier for the kindness and courtesy so well expressed. He (Borden) wished to say in passing that if he could remain leader of the opposition for as long a period as Laurier's job was old and it would be wholly beyond his own expectations and beyond the expectations of the members of the opposition.

Acting on the advice of his ministers, I had previously to the great grief which has fallen upon the nation tendered an invitation on your behalf to His Royal Highness the Duke of Cornwall and York, to conclude his intended visit to Australia by one to the Dominion of Canada, and I am glad to be able to inform you that His Royal Highness has been pleased to signify his acceptance of the same.

Last summer I made a tour through Canada as far as Dawson City, and was everywhere received with unqualified proofs of immigrants are a subject of much congratulation and afford ample proof of their usefulness as citizens of the Dominion.

It gives me great pleasure to note the excellent display made by Canada at the universal exposition in Paris. The fine quality and varied character of Canadian natural and industrial products is evidenced by the number of awards won in nearly every class of the competitions.

The improvement of the St. Lawrence route continues to engage the very careful attention of my government. During the past year ship channels have been widened and deepened, additional lights and buoys have been provided, and in a short time there will be a safe and comfortable navigation with the ice.

Mr. Borden's motion Monday morning, under which the government would direct to the House of Commons to be introduced "An Act to amend the Pacific Cable Act of 1878."

Illegal Caribou-Killing.

Game Warden Robinson Catches Three Old Violators.

Notwithstanding the open sympathy with game law violation in certain quarters where better might be expected, Warden John Robinson has again detected and secured the punishment of some illegal work in caribou killing in Northumberland.

When Bering came upon them they had no idea of his identity and Victor charged him to say nothing about this as we are afraid we'll be caught," to which Bering replied that Mr. Robinson had sent him to look after his business, "and," said he, "you couldn't be caught worse than you are now."

The men, seeing the bad case they were in made the best of it and Fournier assured Bering that the meat and skins would be all right if left in his barn.

The case was finally disposed of on Tuesday, Feb. 5, by Police Magistrate Connor, before whom all three of the offenders appeared by summons, pleaded guilty and were each fined $50 and costs, E. A. Lawlor, Esq. appearing for the crown.

T. W. Butler, Esq., who appeared for the defendants, signified his intention of appealing the matter to the Surveyor-General.

The meat that was recovered was sold at auction on Tuesday, by Mr. Wyse in front of Chatham post office and brought $5.45.

A PECULIAR INCIDENT.

Canadian Soldier Meets His Brother For The First Time In His Life Under Very Peculiar Circumstances.

A soldier in the E. C. R. (First Contingent) was wounded in the ankle on the morning of Cronje's surrender at Paardeberg in that memorable charge made by the Canadians and in which they lost heavily, and was accordingly sent back to one of the hospitals on the line of communication where he would receive proper treatment for the injured member.

After receiving a report of the joint librarians, the inmates to meet tomorrow.

It is the senate the galleries were crowded, and the same solemn appearance was to be seen as in the case of the four were seated Lady Minto, Lady Antrim, and members of the royal household ministers.

After the usual formalities, Sir Mackenzie Bowell brought to the notice of the senate the grave charges and affidavits made by H. H. Cook, and said that on Thursday next he would move for the appointment of the following committee to investigate the allegations: Senators Barker, Ferguson, Pelletier, Ellis, Landry, Cox, Kirkhoff, Young, King, Loughheed, Wood and Bowell.

On Tuesday next Mr. Mullock will introduce "An Act to amend the Pacific Cable Act of 1878."

The Tourist Question

From a New Brunswick Standpoint.

Every little while we see reference to the matter of ways and means to induce the tide of tourist travel to swell its visit to N. B. and slowly but surely are getting our share of the same, but it New Brunswickers could visit certain sections of Nova Scotia and see the immense number of tourists who come there and spend weeks and months in that favored Province they would think they knew little of the tourist question.

The St. John and Fredericton Associations have done good work but we regret to say they are not supported by the citizens, business men and other factors in the way they should be—and more funds are required to do the work justly.

The display of the Province in addition to the tourists' efforts at the Spargman's show in Boston some two or three years ago was productive of great good, and the only thing the public wonders at is why the efforts were not repeated—not only at Boston but at the Spargman's Fair in Madison Square Gardens in New York, which is one of the most important events of the kind in the United States, and one that would direct attention to New Brunswick in a marked degree.

We understand that a few private individuals, possibly aided in a half-hearted way some manner by the government, purposed to have an exhibit of some kind at Madison Square Gardens in March next.

However we believe it would pay our tourist association, our business men, our hotel keepers, our S. S. owners and our rail way people to put forth renewed efforts this spring and more fully write up and advertise Nova Brunswick.

It is a noble hall, richly decorated, with heavy red curtains and plush seats. The horns are magnificent and interlocked in a way not often seen. The head of the black bear killed in October last by Mr. Crawford is also something to be coveted.

The animal weighed 500 lbs., and his age is indicated by his long and powerful teeth. He probably was fifteen years old when Mr. Crawford found him on the mountain side.

Mr. E. J. Moore, whose epicurean taste is not excelled, prepares you for dinner with what he calls a star cocktail, made of old apple brandy and vermouth, and then surprises you after with soup and absinthe with carbon steak, with celery white and crisp, with delicate onions from Chesapeake Bay. The Brut champagne is followed by Madeira of 1849, bottled in 1866, and rebottled in 1890 by Henry Hilton, and when coffee and cigars come on you feel in general mood and are ready to discuss the affairs of the whole world.

The most aristocratic fishing club in the world controls the principal ponds of the Restigouche, and this fact prompted Charles Halloe to write: "Once we were woe to associate fish with billingsgate and bad smells. In the Old World we know that the chase alone enlisted the royal favor. From time immemorial hunting was regarded as a regal sport, and in some domains it was the exclusive prerogative of kings.

The growth of the salmon is thus tersely described by Genie C. Scott: "The fingerling scales to cover the parr, the parr develops becomes to cover the bars on its side and becomes a smolt; goes to sea and returns back a grilse, then returns to sea and comes back a salmon." The pleasure of capturing a salmon is not confined to the moment of capture. The impression made upon the mind is vivid and the joy lasts until memory is a blank. How often in quiet moments are the lines of Stoddard recalled:

A whirr, a whirr; the salmon's out Far on the rushing river; He storms the stream with edge of might And, like a brandished sword of light, Rolls plashing o'er the surges white.

At Bradford, on Thursday, Walter E. Sugden, grocer, Wakefield road, Bradford, was summoned for selling adulterated baking powder. Mr. Herbert Haskinson, deputy town clerk, who prosecuted, said the inspector called at the defendant's shop and purchased samples of baking powder. There were two kinds on sale. The article described as the best was sold at 24 for four cents, and the other at 24 for five cents.

AN ARDENT SPORTSMAN.

The Turf, Field and Farm Tells us Something About Mr. Wm. Crawford and his Beautiful Residence at Glen Lea.

Mr. William Crawford, the absolute director of the great drygoods house of Simpson, Crawford & Simpson, finds recreation from the cares of business in shooting and fishing and in growing fruit, flowers and live stock.

Glen Lea, his farm of 300 acres, is near Monroe, 50 miles from New York on the Erie railroad. The orchards and buildings are sheltered from chilling winds by a range of hills mountain-like proportions, and yet the view from the broad piazza is far-reaching and full of beauty.

The Jersey cows and the broodmares and colts drink this water with as much relish and more freedom, on some men do the famous vintages of France, Germany and Spain, and they do not compare with the pure water of Glen Lea.

The greenhouses are extensive, and between two and three thousand carnations are cut every week, in addition to great clusters of roses and violets. Wild geese, with wings clipped so as to prevent flying, are in the poultry yards with domestic fowls, and they are used by Mr. Crawford as decoys in shooting excursions to Carriacou and other places along the Atlantic Coast.

The homing pigeons are thrifty, and the flight from New York to Monroe is made in two hours or less. The house has been greatly enlarged since it passed under the control of its present owner, and it is now one of the impressive country homes of the State.
