People Are Disgusted.

We publish to-day an interesting letter from "Watchman" on the failure of the Morris Administration to keep the pledge of the Tory party to make it easier for people to live by a reduction of taxation. This promise was made in the Manifesto published nearly four years ago. It is signed "E. P. Morris," dated "St. John's, Oct. 3, 1908," and contains the following paragraphs:—

"REDUCTION OF TAXATION, so that it will bear equitably on the working classes, can be best accomplished by placing on the free list such items as tea, sugar, pork, and the other prime necessities of our people on which very heavy taxes are now imposed. That this can be easily accomplished without in any way affecting the necessary revenue required to maintain the various public services of the Colony is shown by the fact that nearly $100,000 has been collected annually for the past eight years over and above what was required to meet the demands of the public services."

COAL AND PEAT.
"The serious situation created by the present price of coal is so far-reaching, touching as it does every fire-side in the colony, as well as every industry, that it has become a nation-dence of the increases in taxation falls on the very articles which can bear them least.

It is notorious that prices have increased everywhere and there is an outcry on both sides of the Atlantic against the hardships of increased prices.

In Newfoundland the hardship is intensified by the addition of increased taxation to the increased invoice prices.

Under these circumstances, the Government should have given relief even if they had not pledged themselves to do so in their manifesto. But they have not done it, although pledged to do it. They have not done it, although four Budgets have been presented to the Legislature under financial conditions which were highly favourable to carrying out the policy. The Government has preferred to continue the exactions. The Government has preferred to continue the extortions of heavy taxes, and to hoard of surpluses, and to riot in wanton waste.

As to the coal situation it is much worse than it ever was before, and no means has been found for effecting a reduction in the price of coal. Sir Edward Morris solemnly promised that "if elected, we shall take steps to bring about such a result." Instead of bringing about such a result, we find the price of coal is much higher than it was when Sir Edward Morris took over the Government. People may groan about the high prices of the necessities of life, they may be cold because coal is too high to get enough to keep them warm, and they may be exasperated at the extravagant expenditure of public money, and all the comfort they get is the assurance from those who are batten- ing on public monies, that all is well and things were never so prosperous as they are to-day. People who feel the pinch of high taxes know the difference.

Four sessions of the Legislature have been held since the issue of this Manifesto, and items such as tea, sugar, pork and the other prime necessities of our people have not yet been placed on the free list, and the heavy taxes are still imposed on these articles. Nay more, as we have frequently pointed, and as is emphasized in "Watchman's" letter, the taxation on many articles is much heavier now than it used to be. On many articles the taxation is collected on the invoice value of the article imported, at some percentage of that value. If the invoice value of an article has doubled in price, the amount of taxation on that article is doubled. If the invoice value of an article has increased fifty per cent, the taxation exacted goes up fifty per cent. If the invoice value of an article has increased twenty-five per cent, then twenty-five per cent more taxation is taken by the Government. In this respect the system is most iniquitous, because the burden of the taxation is increased when it can be borne with the greatest difficulty, and the inci-

Reduction in Cable Tolls.

LONDON, To-day.
The newspapers publish an official announcement from the British Post Office, the substance of which is as follows. As a result of representations made to the Western Union Telegraph Company by the Postmaster-General of Great Britain and the Postmaster-General of Canada, the following additional reductions will be made at an early date in cable rates: (1) For telegrams in plain language, the present deferred rate of sixpence per word will be reduced to four and one-half pence, and besides these telegrams instead of being subject to a delay of 24 hours will be transmitted without any more delay than what is necessary to give priority to ordinary traffic at one shilling per word; (2) Another rate of night telegrams is inaugurated at a charge of three shillings for twelve words and two and a half pence for each additional word; (3) There is at present in existence a rate of one shilling for thirty words and one shilling for each additional group of five words for week-end cable letters, handed in up to Saturday for delivery for the following Tuesday. This arrangement is replaced by the following rate of four shillings and sixpence for 24 words and five cents for every additional word, but the time of delivery is Monday instead of Tuesday as before.
