

TO FLY ROUND G.T. BRITAIN IN SEVENTY-TWO HOURS

London Newspaper Putting Up
Big Prize To Be Open
On August 16

London, June 27.—Rules have been drawn up by the Royal Aero club for the waterplane flight round Great Britain for a prize of $25,000 offered by the proprietors of The Daily Mail. The prize is to be awarded for the aircraft which first completes the prescribed circuit within a period not exceeding 72 hours. Southampton is appointed as the starting place, although the home office has made the whole of the Solent a prohibited area, while Dover and Falmouth name das controls, are also not at present approved. The competition will open on Saturday, August 16, at 6 a.m., and will finish at latest on Saturday, August 23, at 6 p.m. Should no aircraft have completed the course within the stipulated time the proprietors of The Daily Mail reserve to themselves the right to extend the period of the competition till the following year. Both the entrant and pilot or pilots must be British subjects and duly entered on the competitors' register of the Royal Aero club. Pilots must hold an aviator's certificate issued by the Royal Aero club, or other club affiliated to the International Aeronautical Federation. A passenger must be carried throughout the flight, and the combined weight of the pilot and passenger must be not less than 254 lbs., any deficiency in weight being made up by means of ballast. Pilots or passengers may be charged during the contest. The complete aircraft must all its parts, including the motor, must have been entirely constructed within the confines of the British empire, but this provision shall not be held to apply to raw material.

The entrance fee is $500 per aircraft, and entries will be received up to 12 noon on July 16. The entrance fee of $500 is payable either in one sum, or as follows—$150 by noon on July 16, $250 by noon on August 1, and the balance of $100 by noon on August 16, in which case the entrance fee will be $100. No part of the entrance fee is to be received by The Daily Mail, but all amounts received will be applied towards payment of the expenses of the Royal Aero club in conducting the competition. The course will be a circuit starting from Southampton, Water, and proceeding via Dover, Yarmouth, Scarborough, Aberdeen, Liverpool, Dublin, and Falmouth, and in that order, and returning to Southampton. The course will be at or near each of the above places, and competitors must alight at each of these points for the purpose of identification. The aircraft must remain 30 minutes in each control, during which time it will be examined by the official of the Royal Aero club and of the official timekeeper.

Competitors may start at 6 a.m. on August 16, or at any subsequent time and date, provided the complete circuit is accomplished by 6 p.m. on August 23, within the 72 hours. All starts must be made under the supervision of the official of the Royal Aero club and of the official timekeeper.

There is no restriction as to the number of starts made by competitors, but in every case the start must be made from the official starting place. Stoppage between the controls are prohibited, but all alightings must be effected on the sea, an inlet of the sea, an estuary, or a harbor. Towing is not prohibited, but the finishing line must be crossed in flight.

Individual replacements and repairs to the aircraft and motor may be made en route, but neither may be changed as a whole. The aircraft may be taken ashore for such repairs and replacements. Any time thus spent will count in the 72 hours.

Macleod

Macleod, June 26.—The regular weekly meeting of the town council held in the town office on Monday evening was short and decidedly uneventful, the only business of note being the turning down of a $250 advertising scheme presented by a William Buff Ors of Vancouver, and the refusal to lease the town hall for the putting on of a motion picture show. The matter of disposing of the refuse of the town was also taken up, and Mayor Stedman being authorized to go east to negotiate for their sale. His Worship Alderman Macdonald left on their high-spirited mission on Thursday.

High School Principal Watt threw a card on Tuesday when in a venture to the town office on Monday evening was short and decidedly uneventful, the only business of note being the turning down of a $250 advertising scheme presented by a William Buff Ors of Vancouver, and the refusal to lease the town hall for the putting on of a motion picture show. The matter of disposing of the refuse of the town was also taken up, and Mayor Stedman being authorized to go east to negotiate for their sale. His Worship Alderman Macdonald left on their high-spirited mission on Thursday.

That the Macleod board of trade is for a busy year and one that will in all probability be the forerunner of an important era of the town's history is the impression that is to be gleaned from the first regular meeting of the board of trade executive on Tuesday afternoon. Since undertaking the task of boosting the finest little town in Alberta the commissioner has handled considerable correspondence and from the tenor of the communications, it is clear that the board is attracting a fair share of attention from prospective manufacturers and settlers. Mr. May brought up the idea of a board of trade, and the result of the discussion that ensued was that it should be held on August 7th, the last evening of the Macleod fair. It was also decided that the commissioner should go to the Lethbridge and the Calgary exhibitions as the official representative of the board.

A remarkable case of Indian stoicism came to light here this week when a Blood reserve squaw drove fifty miles in a fierce electric storm with the body of her dead husband beside her in the buggy. Short Man, a Blood Indian, was driving home with his wife and child when the storm broke. The lightening was stunningly sharp and when it killed by a bolt. As the unfortunate squaw sank to the bottom of the buggy she squaw, with true Indian stoicism, grabbed the reins and continued the trip to the reservation. The journey being completed in 24 hours.

For the past few days Old Jule Plutus has been showing his blessing and likewise his rain on the Macleod district and the local farmers are quite optimistic as to the quantity and quality of the crop they expect to get this year. The reason for the big thunderstorm and squall that has visited this section last week, he thought had been broken and on several occasions a heavy persistent rain has fallen. The sun, too, has been strong between showers so that

CAT JUMPED ON TRANSFORMER, STOPPED LIGHTS

English People in Calcutta Greatly Alarmed When the Electric Fans Stopped

Calcutta, June 27.—When most English people in Calcutta were at dinner the other day all the electric lights went out and the electrical fans stopped working. Many people, fearing that it was the work of Bengali terrorists and looked about for weapons. In a little while the lights came on again. The incident was due to a cat which jumped on a transformer at the electric light station, making a short circuit. The cat was destroyed.

ITALY PROTECTS ANIMALS BY STRICT LEGISLATION

Vivisection Restricted to Persons Holding Special Licenses

Rome, June 27.—The chamber of deputies, after passing the government's proposal for taxing and imposing a censorship on "cinematograph films," adopted the bill for the better protection of animals. It prohibits the blinding of birds and other tortures in connection with the exploitation of animals, recognizes the agents of animal protection societies as public police, and restricts vivisection to persons holding special licenses from the

WOMEN RUN STRIKERS' CARS

Phoenix, Ariz., June 27.—Three women operated street cars as strikers last night. They stuck to their jobs for some time in spite of threatening street crowds, but the manipulation of controllers and busses finally proved to be too much for them and they abandoned their gongs after a struggle of three hours.

When the motorman walked out at 6 o'clock the women offered their services and were accepted. The strike was caused by the discharge of a motorman.
