Anger's Action

Sharply Criticised by the Quebec Press.

Some Pertinent Queries Put to the Commissioners.

Mr. Mercier Replies to the Lieutenant-Governor.

The Nationalists Prepared for an Appeal to the Country.

THE NATIONALISTS PREPARED.

QUEBEC, Dec. 17.—The Nationalists are mot unprepared. They have taken Mr. Angers at his word, and they will reserve a discussion of his action till they go to the country. They have already their candidates selected and their organization is in a fair way of completion. The dismissal was not unexpected, and already a large amount of campaign literature is in the hands of the county members. The news was received too late for any concerted action, and indeed at a later hour some doubt is cast upon the report of dismissal, and those who profess to know say that the Lieutenant-Governor merely transmitted a copy of the report to Mr. Mercier.

GOVERNOR ANGER'S SOMERSAULT.

Since the Letellier affair, in which Mr. Angers was one of the Ministers sent about their business (says the Globe), it has almost come to be regarded as sound doctrine for the representative of the Crown to seize the first excuse at hand for getting rid by his own mere ipse dixt of constitutional advisers who happen to be opposed to him in a politics. The Letellier coup d'etat and the present one bear an unpleasant resembfance to the goings on in Latin America countries, where the people have not yet learnt how to "run" free institutions. It is very unfortunate for Quebec that it should be so.

The Letellier crisis, as it was called, emtered an acute stage on Feb. 25, 1878, when the Governor, an old-time Liberal, yetote a note to his Tory Premier complaining of certain acts of the Administration. It culminated on March I, when, after a reply from Mr. De Boucherville, the O overnor summed up his grievances against five Government, which had a large majority in both Houses of the Legislature. He drew attention to the enormous outlays, which he deemed out of keeping with sound thance: to the attempt of Ministers to con-the Government, which had a large majority in both Houses of the Legislature. He drew attention to the enormous outlays, which he deemed out of keeping with sound finance; to the attempt of Ministers to concreal the true state of things from him; to their conduct in proposing important measures (one for levying new taxes) in the Legislature without having previously submitted them for his approval; and declared that he could no longer retain them in office. Mr. De Boucherville thereupon made way for Mr. Joly, a Liberal. Mr. Angers, now Governor, induced the Assembly to pass the following resolution: "That the dismissal from office of the Decentral the declaration of the liberties and will of the people."

In the House of Commons, Sir John Macdonald, then in Opposition, moved in amendment to a motion of Supply: "The declaration of the door and received no reply. Then

In the House of Commons, Sir John Macdonald, then in Opposition, moved in amendment to a motion of Supply: "That Mr. Speaker do not leave the chair, but that it be resolved that the recent dismissal by the Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec of his Ministers was unwise and subversive of the principles of constitutional government." In his speech in support of this resolution Sir John referred to a number of asses in order to show in the words of Bagehot, which he quoted that "the power of dismissal has almost, if no quite, dropped out of the reality of our constitution."

Mr. Angers came upon the scene again as the signer of a petition addressed to the out of the reality of our constitution."

Mr. Angers came upon the scene again as the signer of a petition addressed to the Governor-in-Council at Ottawa praying for Mr. Letellier's removal. Ultimately, Sir John having carried the Dominion elections of 1878, this prayer was answered and the Governor dismissed as a waxning to others against usurping functions which in these days belong exclusively to the representatives of the people.

JUDGE JETTE'S LETTER.

QUEBEC, Dec. 17.—Hon. Mr. Mercier sent a memo to Hon. Lieut. Gov. Angers this morning asking his Honor to give him the letter or a copy of the letter addressed to the Lieutenant-Governor by Judge Jette. The Lieutenant-Governor rafused to give either, as he considered Judge Jette's letter personal. Mr. Mercier's answer to the Lieutenant-Governor is not yet realy.

AN ACT OF CONSPIRACY. The members of the ex-Cabinet are holding a council at Mr. Mercier's residence and are discussing the answer clause by clause very carefully. The opinion prevails here that Mr. Mercier will not accept his dismissal unless a unanimous report is arrived at, and that he is inclined to treat the Government's intervention as an act of conspiracy against his Colinia. conspiracy against his Cabinet.

conspiracy against his Cabinet.

THE NEW PREMIER.

Hen. Mr. De Boucherville arrived at the St. Louis at 12 o'clock. He positively refused to give any information. It is said on good authority that he drove to Spemcerwood, the official residence of the Lieutenant-General, leaving the train at the C. P. R. station at 10 o'clock this morning.

QUEBEC PRESS COMMENTS.

QUEBEC, Dec. 18.—Le Elocteur, in anouncing the dismissal of Mr. Mercier, ays: "The Federal officer whom we call the Government of the Covernment of th Le Governor, trampling under foot the constitution, obeying an order from his master at Ottawa, pursuing a vengemee tweive years old, dismissed from power yesterday the advisers which the Province had given him. He has thus upset all constitutional motions and replaced by fife tyrannical government of one man the general movement which was real movement. eral movement which expresses itself by the vote of its members. It is only on the strength of Judges Baby and Davidson's rebort that the Lieutenant-Governor has dismissed his Ministers. What caused the precipitation of these two commissioners? Did they believe that they were the delegation of the Lieutenant-Governor, the National party's born enemy and that they had to help him in concluding his scheme? Who can explain the indelicacy of these two men, who, forgetul of the duty imposed on them by the dignity of the magistrate's office, and forgetul of the laws of Judge Jette should have inspired them, came in a hurry to share a responsibility of which the illness of Judge Jette should have inspired them, came in a hurry to share a responsibility of which the Lieutenant-Governor was too much of a coward to accomplish, what would it matter to them whether the report was finished yeaterday or in two weeks? If they were not the willing instruments of the Lieutenant-Governor, and if their judgment was one which in their intention should be scaled with impartiality, why did they display such haste in preparing it? It remains with the Province to inflict on the culprit of Spencerwood and on the low ambitions that inspired him the Province to inflict on the companitive against our constitution. In democratic countries like ours the supreme jury, the tribunal from which there is no entailly understand. In France a new and starteling theory is being advanced to the effect that the popular diagnosis of the disease is entirely wrong, and shat the epidemic is not really influenza, but a major of a typhoid form. In support of his theory some very strong evidence is not papeal, is the people, whom we ask to remain despite the many provocations in placed before them. It is the people whom we ask to average its oursged dignity and to sattle down firmly on its base the oscillating constitution.

Montefal, Dec. 18.—There is much comment in political circles at the attitude of the Quebec Chronicle towards De Bouch erville, who has been called to form the new Quebec Ministry. The Chronicle is well-known to be ablied to Caron, and its opposition to the new Premier, who is a personal friends of the Minister of Militia, is unexplicable.
