

NEW BIBLE WITHOUT
OBSOLETE WORDSPastors and Editors Agree On Changes for Edition of the Version of King James.

New York, July 3.—The conference of clergymen and editors, for the purpose of arranging a tercentenary edition of the English authorized version of the Bible, which conference has been in session at Princeton, N. J., for the past ten days, has adjourned, and the remainder of the work will be done by the sub-committee.

The object of the work is to bring out a new edition of the King James version, correcting obsolete words, etc. The chief changes to be made were summed up briefly yesterday as follows:

1. Where a text is misleading it will be changed, as an instance in point: the word "damnation" in I. Corinthians, xi, 29, may be changed to "condemnation."

2. Where the authorized version has an obscure rendering of a passage sufficiently clear in the Hebrew or Greek text, it will be changed.

3. Also where the authorized version is infelicitous in the choice of English words, even if not actually misleading.

4. Words absolutely obsolete will be dropped for words now in common use. The usage of good writers. The point was discussed that "halt" is still good, and while not so common, is more dignified than "imp." The word "yet" or "hinder" was also mentioned.

It is understood that the modern usage will be followed thoroughly in the use of pronouns, and, generally, where an authorized version rendering is wholly consistent with good present day custom.

It is planned to have this new edition printed in England in May, 1911, three hundred years after the printing of the first edition of the Bible.

While the committee proper had adjourned, two committees, each consisting of three persons, one on the New and one on the Old Testament, will continue their sessions throughout the summer at Asbury Park.

It was learned last night that at the session of the larger committee, there had been considerable agitation for a revision of the Bible.

Prof. Robert D. Wilson said that the committee would do no revising, as those who desired the Bible revised had been defeated, but that there would be an adherence to conservative lines, merely replacing old English words whose meanings have gradually changed, with modern words more clearly expressing the intended meaning.

MARY GARDEN DENIES

Actress Says She Is Not to Wed Partner of Pierpont Morgan.

Paris, July 4.—Miss Mary Garden will not marry Edward T. Stotesbury, of Philadelphia, wealthy banker, and a partner of J. Pierpont Morgan.

In her dressing room at the opera, after a performance of "Salome," Miss Garden herself denied the report. Raising her right hand, which had been caressing the head of St. John the Baptist a few minutes before, the songstress declared that she had no intention of marrying Mr. Stotesbury or anybody else.

"This report is entirely new to me," said she. "I do not know where it started, but it is on a par with the many absurd stories with which my name is connected constantly—that is, there is no truth in it. I know Mr. Stotesbury and greatly admire his unselfish interest in opera. But I am quite certain this report will be as surprising to him as it is to me."

The prima donna declared that when she makes up her mind to marry she will not take a husband secretly, but will ask all her friends to the wedding.

RAILWAYS GIVE IN STRIKE CALLED OFF

Pay Increase Varies 10 to 40 Per Cent—40,000 Men Were Involved.

Washington, July 4.—Official announcement is made by the mediators that an amicable adjustment of the controversy between the railroads of the southeastern territory and their conductors and trainmen has been reached.

The agreement provides for a substantial increase in the wages of the employees and improved conditions and hours of labor. The adjustment will also avert a threatened strike of 10,000 men, which would have involved approximately 40,000 others. The settlement is regarded as a distinct victory for the employees, although concessions were made by both sides. While no statement is made concerning the terms of the settlement, it is known that the men have been granted an increase of wages ranging from 10 per cent to 40 per cent.

Mediation was the longest and most trying in the history of the proceedings, under the direction of both Chairman Knapp and Dr. Neill have worked practically day and night on the matter for sixteen days.

LINER HITS BARQUE.

New York, July 3.—The steamship Baltic, of the White Star fleet, and before the launching of the Cunarder Lusitania the biggest passenger carrier in the world, arrived off the Ambrose channel lightship this evening, slightly damaged through collision in mid-ocean on Thursday last with a German tank steamship, Granddard. Captain Rupert, who sailed from Philadelphia for Copenhagen June 25.

A wireless message sent to C. W. Thomas, of the Independent Mercantile Marine Company, to which the White Star Line belongs, said that the collision had occurred 1,800 miles from this port.

EXPECT DULL SUMMER
IN LONDON THEATRESPlaygoers Will See Few New Productions On English Stage.

London, July 4.—It looks now as though it will be an exceptionally dull summer here as far as theatricals are concerned. Managers are flying low and preparing few productions. Theatregoers will mainly have to content themselves with the plays now going on and a few revivals. There will not be much stage activity until October.

If terms can be arranged, Miss Ethel Irving may go to America for a season. She has had a big offer to do so, but her husband thinks the terms should be still larger," says the Pelican. Somehow that sounds familiar.

When Miss Phyllida Terry made her debut last winter she took the stage name of "Terson," a combination of her parents' names, Fred Terry and Julia Neilson. She has now decided to abandon that name and in the future will call herself Miss Neilson Terry. This is much more sensible, as the name of Terry is too well known and prominently connected with the English stage to be lightly abandoned. She has already made a meteoric success, and will have the leading part in "Priscilla Runs Away" when it is produced at the Haymarket.

At last we know why American plays do not draw in London. The Globe has been kind enough to explain it. In discussing the question it says: "America stands today in matters of the drama where England, or, at any rate, London, stood in mid-Victorian times. It loves the unsophisticated drama, but we have ceased to tolerate it, hence the many failures of plays from the States."

Bert Levy has just arrived from America with his cartoons and his whistle to appear at the Palace, where he is always a favorite.

The Stage states that Harry Lauder has received an offer to visit every place in the world where English is spoken, including such out-of-the-way spots as Alaska, Singapore, and the Straits Settlements. The amount of the salary offered is not disclosed, but Mr. Lauder is booked up and under contract until 1914, it will be necessary for him, etc.

Miss Humphrey Better, Miss Ola Humphrey, a charming American actress, who was forced to close her season in London and undergo an operation for appendicitis, has now quite recovered and is visiting with Countess de Never at her place in Nightingale road.

Miss Adrienne Augarde has just returned from New York, where she has been playing in "The Dollar Princess," bubbling with enthusiasm over American audiences and consoling herself with the fact that she goes back next season. Meanwhile, she is to the Express, she will go on the Stoll tour with a one-act play written by Norman McKinnel called "Dick's Sister."

The American song, "Tip-i-ahdy," over which all London has gone daft for more than a year, has at last had its day at the Gaiety, and has been cut out of "Our Miss Gibbs." In its place Mr. Grossmith sings "Angelica." Several other changes have been made in the piece, and Edmund Payne has returned to the cast after being absent all winter.

The Referee says that Miss Johnna Redmond, daughter of John Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalists, has been playing in a play which will soon be seen in London. Miss Mildred Kearney, daughter of the late Dennis Kearney, of San Francisco, has returned from Russia, where she has been singing for a year and a half. She will spend the summer in England and then go to America for a short visit. She has a ten years' contract to appear in Russia. Probably no other music hall artist has so long a contract.

POPE'S HEALTH IS GOOD

He Has Felt Better Since Discontinuing Private Audience.

Rome, July 4.—The Pope's health continued excellent. Recently he suspended private audiences to take part in a series of religious exercises, which he himself established by decree. He has been stronger and brighter since.

The religious exercises which have been going on since Thursday are attended by the Pope and about 30 ecclesiastics attached to the Vatican. Hereafter these exercises are to take place every three months. They consist chiefly of sermons by the Jesuit Father Turchi, two services in the morning and two in the evening.

O'BRIEN ON REDMOND

Independent Nationalist Says Irish Leader Is a Molly Maguire.

London, July 4.—William O'Brien, the leader of the Independent Nationalists, continues to take the warpath against John Redmond, the leader of the Irish Nationalist party. He said today: "The result of the budget discussion is that for all practical purposes Redmond's party has been thrown into the scrap heap as a parliamentary force. Not only has the veto conference been held in defiance of them, but the chancellor did not even thank them worthy of purchasing by reducing the whiskey tax."

"Redmond tells us that the only crumb of comfort he has seen in many weeks is the prospect of an autumn session, which will enable him to drum the United States for descriptions on the promise of what he will perform in November. Unhappily, even that crumb of comfort will bring no consolation to anybody except Redmond's own distressed dependents. When November comes either the conference will have agreed upon a compromise, in which case Redmond's vote on the budget will not matter a hawbee to anybody, or the conference will have proved abortive and Redmond and his Socialist allies will proceed to almost certain overthrow at the polls."

"The utter collapse of every hope with which Redmond's evil advisers have befuddled the country makes inevitable. Nothing except American ignorance of the facts, can keep the Molly Maguire party in existence for another parliament."

THE BILTING. Alexander Park, England, July 2.—The Bilting waterweight for 100 sovereigns for three-year-olds and upward, distance of 1½ miles and 110 yards, was won today by August Belmont's Norman III. Justification was second and Junken third. No others started.

TAFT WITHDRAWS
MILLIONS OF ACRESU. S. President Takes First Step in His Own Conservation Policy.

Beverly, Mass., July 3.—President Taft today took the first step in his own conservation policy by signing orders of withdrawal covering 8,493,731 acres of power site, phosphate and petroleum lands.

The President also appointed the five members of the advisory board who are to constitute a board which will pass on the reclamation projects to be completed under the recent appropriation of $20,000,000. It is hinted that there are other important announcements to come with regard to the conservation policy of the present administration.

The President has summoned Secretary Ballinger for a conference on Tuesday, when phases of the work to be done in the near future will be gone over.

The withdrawal orders signed by the President today are the first specially authorized by Mr. Roosevelt, as president, inaugurated the policy of withdrawing public lands under the general theory of the right of the executive to do anything in the interest of the public domain not prohibited by law. Mr. Taft has acted in the same way.

Act Possible Under New Law. But the right of the executive to be questioned in suits now pending in the federal courts and the President secured the passage of a bill by the last Congress giving him definitely the authority to withdraw lands pending special legislation for their disposition. The bill was made an administration measure and was finally approved the day Congress adjourned.

Mr. Taft has signed orders of withdrawal today covering public lands in Alaska, in which the President has made a withdrawal of 2,594,119 acres and the petroleum lands 4,447,119 acres.

The board of engineers is headed by Lieut.-Col. John Biddle, who until recently was the engineer-commissioner of the district of Columbia and who is now on duty in San Francisco. The other four members are Lieut.-Col. Wm. C. Langitt and Major William H. Harts, Charles W. Kutz and Harry Burdette, all of the engineer corps of the army. Col. Langitt is the commandant of the engineers' school at Washington.

The order designating these officers to serve on the reclamation projects has been forwarded to the Secretary of War at Washington.

In the expenditure of the $20,000,000 the President is made the final arbiter. He must approve each project before any of it can be expended.

Col. John Biddle Heads Board. The water power sites withdrawn by Mr. Taft cover a total of 1,454,499 acres. The phosphate lands withdrawn total 2,594,119 acres and the petroleum lands 4,447,119 acres.

GETS A REPRIEVE
IN NICK OF TIME

Murderer Was in Electric Chair and Current About To Be Turned On.

Trenton, N. J., July 3.—With less than half an hour to spare Arthur Rose was saved from the electric chair tonight by a stay signed by Judge McInturn on a moving train and thrown from the window to the condemned man's lawyer.

Rose was strapped in the chair and the electrician was waiting with his hand on the switch for the second signal to send 2,100 volts through the body of the wife murderer when the frantic cry, "Stop! Stop! A stay!" rang through the death chamber and Rose was literally pulled out of old Charon's skiff just as his journey was about to begin.

The execution of Rose was set for 15 minutes after nine o'clock, but at that time all the witnesses were gathered in the death chamber awaiting the coming of Head Keeper Osborne with the condemned prisoner.

There were no doubts when Rose was brought in. He was led at once to the chair.

Condemned Not Pleased. Rose had fully prepared for his death. His lawyer had told him he intended to make an application for a stay, but Rose tried to discourage the lawyer.

"It won't do any good and it will only spoil all the plans," said the disconsolate Rose.

Nevertheless the lawyer had worked like an electric motor for hours. He massed his authorities into telling array and then gone tearing forth into the streets in search of a supreme court judge who could sign a stay.

He found there was only one judge in the town and that he was on his way to his country home, in Hudson County. He was at that time at the railroad station, the lawyer was told.

Dashing through the streets of Trenton in an automobile in thorough attempt of all speed laws, the lawyer found Judge McInturn about to step into a train.

Talking three hundred words to the minute, the lawyer rattled off his reasons and authorities for asking a stay and convinced the judge just as the train was starting.

"Write out an order and I will sign it," said Judge McInturn.

The order was hastily scribbled on a slip of paper and handed to Judge McInturn through the car window by the lawyer, who was running alongside the train. Hastily scribbled his signature at the bottom of the order the judge tossed it out and the lawyer, catching it on the fly, leaned again into his automobile and shot away toward the prison.

But he brushed past all the guards, shouting that he carried a reprieve, and burst into the death chamber just in time to stay the hand of the electrician.

Rose was anything but pleased. He did not throw his arms about his lawyer and with tears of gratitude thank him for the noble work he had done in giving him at least another month of life. In fact he expressed considerable dissatisfaction and remarked

Nervous
Prostration
For Three Years

"Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine cured me of a period of nervous prostration of over three years duration, and the Anti-Pain Pills are as necessary to us as the roof of our house. They have been household remedies with us for many years."

Much sickness is due to nervous troubles. Headache, dizziness, epilepsy and insanity are nervous troubles. Then there is a large class of disorders which arise from a weakness of the nerves of an organ or part, as weak lungs, heart, stomach, kidney, bladder, eyes, etc. Dyspepsia and indigestion are usually the result of nervous disorders.

Restorative Nervine soothes the irritated nerves, and assists the nerve cells to generate nerve force.

that now it would "all have to be done over again."

Rose killed his wife a few weeks ago by cutting her throat at the breakfast table after accusing her of infidelity. The stay was granted on the ground that there had been an error in the trial. The case will go to the court of errors and cannot be heard for a month at least.

ANNEXATION OF KOREA TO JAPAN IMMINENT

Recent Convention Is Believed To Forestall Consumption of the Imperial Edict.

Tokio, June 30.—There is every reason to believe that an announcement of the annexation of Korea by Japan is imminent.

In accordance with the convention recently made between Korea and Japan, the Korean Emperor has issued an edict delegating to the Japanese Government the police administration of the country. This is the first step, and the final step will be taken when Korea is practically under guard. The garrisons are being steadily strengthened.

The mass of Koreans accept the reports of the approaching annexation with indifference, but a decided spirit of unrest and activity among the anti-Japanese element necessitates precaution prior to the forthcoming announcement.

Lieutenant-General Viscount Tei-rauchi, the Japanese resident-general of Korea, will leave for Seoul, the Korean capital, on July 1, to confer with Emperor Yi-Syok, of Korea, who is reported to be in a complaisant state of mind in view of the provision made for him, immediate family and other members of the royalty under the annexation arrangements.

Broadly speaking, annexation will mean the wiping out of the hermit kingdom as a nation; the strengthening of the military status of Japan, and an effect upon the financial affairs of all countries doing business with Korea as the flat 5 per cent custom tariff of the present Government is likely to be increased to meet the expense of Japanese administration.

Until 1894 China was the suzerain of Korea, but on the conclusion of the war in 1895, China relinquished her suzerainty and the independence of Korea was acknowledged. Following the Russo-Japanese war, the paramount interest of Japan in Korea was recognized, and a subsequent treaty between Korea and Japan provided that the external relations and affairs of Korea, and be represented at Seoul by a resident-general. This was accomplished while the late John Hay was secretary of state of the United States, which was the first Government to withdraw its legation from Seoul.

A FINE FLIGHT

Amateur Harmon Breaks All Records for Continuous Flying.

New York, July 3.—Although an amateur, Clifford B. Harmon, broke all American records for length of time in the air in a continuous aeroplane flight at Mineola, L. I., this evening. He remained aloft in his biplane for two hours and three minutes, and only descended when his gasoline became exhausted.

The best previous record for duration of flight was 1 hour, 55 minutes and 32 seconds, made by Louis Paulhan at Los Angeles last January. Harmon ascended before an enthusiastic crowd at 5:45 o'clock, and touched the earth again at 7:48. During the flight he made 57½ laps over the course. In the 45th he flew over the grandstand, made a figure eight and reversed his course.

When he alighted the spectators crowded about the aviator and attempted to shake him hand, but he retreated, explaining that his right arm was almost paralyzed from continuous handling of the levers of his machine.

Harmon is wealthy, and has recently made aviation his hobby. He carries a cane with him when he goes aloft.

MADE MAD BY HEAT

New York Woman Kills Her Baby and Suicides.

New York, July 4.—Haunted by the intolerable heat and fearing insanity, Mrs. Jeanne Hodgson Catlett gave cyanide of potassium to her two-month-old daughter, Jeanne, and swallowed a draught of the same poison herself. Both lay dead on the same bed when the husband, a supervising chemist employed by the Western Electric Company, came home.

Beside the young mother lay a long letter to her husband. "Don't think me cruel to the little life I've made," she wrote, "but rather that I am saving her so much pain, for bodily pain is nothing to this that is either insanity or nervousness—only God knows she would surely inherit it."

"Don't mourn for me. I wish I could go on with just you and our love. My very life is one continuous thought of thankfulness for it, but my mind must be relieved. The tension is frightful."
