Death of Ex-Lieut-Governor Morris of Manitoba.

Comment Over Hon. Mr. Dewdney's Speech in Victoria.

A Discharged Railroad Employee Wrecks a Train to Get Even With the Railroad Company.

Death of Hon. Alex. Morris.

OTTAWA, Oct. 28.—Hon. Alex. Morris, ex-Lieut. Governor of Manitoba, died at his residence here this morning.

The late Hon. Alex. Morris was born in Perth, Ont., in March 1828. He was educated at the University of Glasgow, Scotland, and at McGill University, Montreal, studied law, and was admitted to the bars of Upper and Lower Canada in 1851.

He began practice in Montreal, and in 1861 was elected to the Canada assembly for South L'Angeles, which he continued to represent till the Union in 1867, when he was elected to the House of Commons.

He was a member of the party known as the Unionists, and in 1864 he was active in the negotiations that resulted in the formation of the coalition government in that year, and also in introducing a confederation, which he had long before proposed.

In 1868 Mr. Morris became a member of the Executive Council of Canada, and minister of inland revenue. From July till December 1872, he was the first Chief Justice of the Court of Queen's Bench of Manitoba, and in 1876 was appointed lieutenant-governor of Manitoba and western Ontario.

He became commissioner of Indian affairs for Manitoba and the Northwest Territories in June, 1873, and was retired from the lieutenant-governorship, and in 1878 was a successful candidate for the seat of St. John's in the Dominion parliament; but in December of that year he was elected for Toronto East to the Ontario legislature, where he held a seat till 1880, when he retired owing to failing health.

He was appointed Queen's Counsel by the Dominion government in 1881, and was president of the St. Andrew's Society of Montreal; governor of the University of McGill College, and chairman of the board of trustees of the University, Kingston. He was the author of "Canada and Her Resources," a prize essay published in 1873, and "The Dominion of the Hudson Bay and Pacific Territories," a lecture (Toronto, 1884); "The Treaties of the Hudson Bay and the Northwest," (1880), and "Nova Britannia," a collection of speeches and lectures on confederation (1869).

A Train Wrecker.

OTTAWA, Oct. 28.—Detective Goss, of Montreal, arrived in the city today, having in custody a brakeman named Beauchamp, who he arrested on a charge of tampering with a switch on the Canadian Atlantic railway, whereby the east-bound freight train was thrown from the track and the engineer and fireman had a narrow escape from death on Monday night last.

Beauchamp was a discharged employee of the Canadian Atlantic, and it is alleged he had threatened to be even with the company.

Not Insured.

TORONTO, Oct. 28.—The Minister of the Interior's speech at Victoria, which favored Chinese immigration, is causing a good deal of comment. The government's organs and leaders yesterday at Vancouver, were assailed by the whole existing social fabric as to hasten its total overthrow and the establishment of a universal co-operation.

Beauchamp and his lawyer therefore have almost read out of the socialist party by reason of their having descended to practical methods.

A Fatalistic Notice-Ended.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—While the unionist candidate was addressing a meeting yesterday at Camborne, he was assailed by stones and bad eggs and finally driven from the platform. The mob threatened to burn the meeting and unanimously adopted a resolution that the constituency was satisfied with the result of the election.
