Republican Leader Mann asked nanimous consent to incorporate the tire Winona speech in the record, and Mr. Mann's motion was carried.

The Democratic majority tomorrow will make a determined effort to pass e bill over the veto.

They have hopes that they will be able to do this. Representative Mann and other Republican leaders expressed confidence tonight that this would be mpossible. Representative Dwight, the Republican whip, has told the president that the majority will not be able to muster enough to carry the bill by a two-thirds vote. On the recent passage of the compromise bill in the House, the vote was 206 to 90.

Many members of both parties reached Washington today, and all absentees are ordered to be on hand tomorrow. The Democrats expect with their full quota of members present together with thirty Republicans who oted for the bill, that they can develop two-thirds majority

In accepting the nomination. Mr. Smith expressed his confidence in the avorable result of the election for the Liberal party on the reciprocity issue, and in briefly going into the question he declared that for himself he was an absolute free trader, but as he considered it was impossible to get free trade Canada at the present time, he accepted the installment which the gov-

He also pointed out to the free traders. of whom there were several present at the meeting, that by giving the people a measure of reciprocity it would unquestionably lead to the realization of their ideal of free trade, and he added that if anybody who wanted free trade did not vote for Sir Wilfrid Laurier's party who, he asked, would they vote for? Would it, he again asked, be for the party which proposed to increase the duties all found and give even higher protection?

The man was well dressed and with the exception of a book found in his possession, all marks of identification had been carefully removed. The name on the fly leaf on the book, was the same as the one under which he registered, but the police are inclined to believe this is not his right name. The coroner has communi-

UF MR. BORDEN

His Reception at Simcoe Far Excels that of Sir Wilfrid Laurier-Welcomed by a Great Crowd

SIMCOE, Ont., Aug. 17.-Mr. R. L. Borden is marching from triumph to triumph in his tour of Ontario. Tonight he came to Simcoe, to which city Sir Wilfrid Laurier paid a visit on Tuesday last, and was the guest at a phenomenal demonstration, which was a fitting climax to the events of the past three days. Indeed it was freely conceded that the reception accorded the Conservative leader tonight, in warmth and in the number of those participating in it, far excelled that given the premier on Tuesday last. Mr. Borden replied with vigor and eloquence to the statements made by Wilfrid in Simcoe last Tuesday He offered proofs to show that not all the Canadian statesmen during the last forty years had been advocates of reciprocity, and declared that Sir John Macdonald, far from endorsing such a policy, had characterized as treason just such a proposal as that now presented to the Canadian people by the government at Ottawa. He quoted the late John Charlton, to whom Sir Wilfrid Laurier referred in his speech on Tuesday, as saying:

"If the reciprocity treaty of 1854 had been continued until 1902 I do not know whether the stars and stripes would be floating over Canada, but I do know you would not have known the two countries apart." Mr. Borden pointed out the fatuity of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's argument that Canada might experiment awhile with the reciprocity agreement. If the Canadian government proposed to abrogate the treaty, he said, there would be an outcry against the suggestion on the ground that business would be dislocated. The United States government would doubtless protest, and might even hold over the heads of the Canadian ministers the threat of a prohibitive tariff which brought Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues to their knees last year. Mr. Borden, said that (Continued on Page 10, Col. 3)

Arrivals by the Tamba maru reported that the recent floods in the Yangizse kiang valley have been the worst for many years, the loss of life totalling thousands while great distress will follow. The foreign quarters at Hankow were flooded. The Central China Post of Hankow said: "Governor Yang of Hunan telegraphed an account of the great distress in his province through the floods to the board of revenue. He stated how the rice fields had been turned into a vast ocean, and how innumerable people had been drowned, while the condition of the survivors was desperate. Another revolution at Canton was alpped in the bud shortly before the steamer Tamba Maru sailed, according to advices brought by that vessel. The revolutionists were bringing a large quantity of explosives, to Canton on the steamer Kwantung when Chinese soldiers boarded the boat and seized the shipment, and the seizure put an end to the plot. About the same time a revolution was suppressed at Mukden n Manchuria, where an attempt was made to set fire to the arsenal. A party clambered over the compound wall and cut a breach in the wall where they placed rags soaked with kerosene, but heavy rain extinguished the blaze before harm resulted. Chinese newspapers published at Shanghai state that the government has " sent a quantities of troops to Mukden and Kilin to prepare for eventualities. As a result of the threatened outbreak at Canton a scheme Dr. Heald says that there is also has been brought forward to fortify the city. A Canton correspondent says: "The authorities in Canton are doing their best to transform the city into an impregnable stronghold. It is their intention to establish a fort outside the small northern gate of the city. The two old forts situated in the east and west of the city will be fortified and guarded by soldiers stationed there. In front of these two fortresses, a deep ditch will be dug. It is generally be-

Herman Weeks, the brother, recognized him on the street. Sullivan says he killed Weeks in self-defence, according to the police.

SAANICH TRAGEDY

Despondent, apparently over continied ill-health, T. R. Cayzer, a rancher, living among the hills, ended his life in Mount Newton woods in North Saanich, by the aid of a shot gun early vesterday morning. He is alleged to have fired a full charge of buckshot either into his mouth or by placing the double barrels at his chin. The gun was found lying between his legs nointing to his head, upon the ground, when the body was picked up by the owner of the home to which he had come the night before in ill-health seeking aid and companionship.

Mr. Cayzer resided on a one-acre ranch in the back woods of Mount Newton. He lived alone. He had been ailing for many months and on Friday evening came two miles to the residence of some friends, who reside Sidney. Here he spent the evening and decided, upon invitation, to stay Although not feeling very well, there was nothing to indicate that the deceased might commit suicide. It was early the next morning that the sick man went out of the house into the yard, and apparently shot himself. His body was shortly afterward found in the yard.

He was a middle-aged man and had ived in the district for some time past. He leaves one brother in Metchosin. The remains have been removed to the Victoria Undertaking parlors. Deputy coroner Bapty will hold an inquest this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Opening New Mine,-Mr. W. L. Coul on, general manager of the Canadian Collieries, Ltd., who was a visitor here yesterday, said his company would open work on a new mine in 60 days. The mine, which will prove an important addition to the well known collieries, is situated southeast of the present workings near tidewater. The company will probably have to sink its shaft between 700 and 1000 feet for the required workings, which are expected to employ a large number of men. While they are sinking the shaft for the coal, the company, said Mr. Coulson, will go steady, emembering that great coal pits grow from small beginnings. Some idea of the magnitude of the present workings may be gathered from the fact that, in the past twelve months, Mr. Coulson estimated the output as considerably over 900,000 tons. This year he has no doubt but that they will easily exceed a million tons output.

Richard Foster, an ex-brakeman of the C. P. R., attempted to get away a few nights ago with $305 which he had stolen from the Dominion Express Company's safe in the baggage car. He was caught by Express Messenger Forrester, badly mauled, and afterwards turned over to the police. The port Alberni Liberal Association has been resurrected, with J. A. Maughan as president.

ON REGIPROCITY

Does Canada Want to Forget What the Old Land Has Done for Her?" is a Ques-

There is a very strong sentimen gainst Canadian-American reciprocity mong Cambridge university men, acocrding to Dr. C. B. Heald, M. A., who with his father, is a guest at the Empress. The conviction is, Dr. Heald says, that if reciprocity is adopted there will be nothing to prevent Canada from bringing in British goods under the preferential tariff and exporting them to the United States under reciprocity. Naturally, he points out, the United States will not put up with that and the result will be the first dictation to Canada from Washington against Great Britain, "The feeling," Dr. Heald con tinued, "that in the light of the history of other close commercial pacts such as that now proposed there will be made an attempt to harmonize governmental systems and the result cannot be other than something close to annexation and inimical to the interests of the British empire."

very decided sentiment among Cantabs opposed to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's policy with regard to Canada's status in the event of war. It appears to those looking on, he says, as if Canada wanted to forget what Great Britain has done for her in the past, as if she wished to benefit by the strength of the empire without contributing to that strength. Dr. Heald is one of the original members of what is known as the Raleigh club at Cambridge. This interesting organization admits only those who have been at least 2,000 miles in a direct have been at a point on the globe at least 2,000 miles in a direct line from Cambridge. It was formed largely through the good offices of Professor J. Stanley Gardiner, F. R. S. who came into prominence recently through his discoveries with regard to coral formations in the south seas. The name of the club is, of course, that of the great traveler. Sir Walter Raleigh. It was formed among the members of Caius college about three years ago or more and has an active, energetic membership. It is hoped that eventually other colleges will form similar clubs and that these may be amalgamated.

Cosmopolitan Club. The benefits to be derived from the club is manifold. All colonials entering the college are eligible for membership naturally and a majority vote of the members is sufficient to elect a man to membership. One of the rules of the club makes it incumbent on all members to call upon each freshman who is eligible. All members and past members dine annually and at the weekly meetings held in the college members read papers descriptive of the places they have visited. The same good fellowship exists after graduation among members and a past member knows that in his travels he will find a welcome in any parts of the globe the Raleigh club at Caius college embraces members from Canada, Asia Minor, Australia, New Zealand, Buenos Ayres, South Africa, West Africa, India and Chili. One of the strong features of the club is the tendency it has to break up colonial cliques and the success that has attended the venture in Caius college warrants the assumption that the idea is popular and that the movement will progress.

Dr. Heald has been in Canada before and notes a very great improvement and growth. This is his first visit to the far west however, and he finds it quite up to the expectations engendered by literature and reports previously assim ilated by him. He was particularly struck with the fruit districts of the province, but he feels that he was misled to some extent as to the amount of game available here and the ease with which it might be obtained. There is a very large colonial representation at Cambridge at the present time Dr. Heald says and much more is heard of Canada than was ever the case He feels that the prospects here for the educated Englishman are of the very hest provided the newcomer is willing to start "with a clean slate" and is willing to learn before trying to teach. Dr. Heald will read a paper on his im pressions of Canada before the Raleigh club on his return and will illustrate his talk with lantern slides. The paper will probably be published later in the college magazine with photographs.

GAME LAWS

No Definite Announcement Yet Concerning the Vancouver Island Open Season—News Expected

The announcement, made from certain unofficial sources, that the game shooting season for Vancouver Island opens on October 1st is premature. No definite decision has yet been reached by the provincial government although it is expected that there will be news of what is proposed in a few days. It is believed, however, that the authorities will adopt the same schedule as was in force last season.

Some misunderstanding appears to have arisen among sportsmen as a result of an article published by the Colonist some days ago, in spite of the fact that it distinctly stated that the regulations quoted provided "chiefly for the season's sport on the mainland," Owing to the fact that the conditions prevailing on the mainland and on the island have nothing in common, it is necessary, for the proper protection of the game of the province, that the laws should be of such a character as to meet with the requirements in the several districts frequented by hunters.
