Advice to Young Husbands.

The Rev. C. C. Goss, during a lecture in New York on "The Honeymoon, and How to Perpetuate it," said: Look out for your habits, young man. Don't get into the habit of neglecting the little courtesies of life in your home. Just see the young men in a bobtail horse-car sit forward on the edge of the seat, and when a pretty young woman enters the car they watch for the first chance to put her fare in the box. Why don't you watch just as eagerly to wait on your wife? Again, my young husband, you and your wife must cultivate mutual confidence. Distrust of each other is the bane of human society everywhere. Of course, you and your wife ought to hold different opinions. I was forty years old before I married my wife, and I knew a thing or two before I knew her. Wher we were married we did not empty out our brains and become fools. When she comes to vote I want her to vote on the side opposite to me, because if she syndicate the negotiations with the government for the Pacific railway contract. Every member of that syndicate, with one exception, are foreigners; yet Mr. Abbett was their dear friend throughout, and he aided to the best of his ability in procuring the defeat of the Canadian syndicate's offer Now he is working just as vigorously to prevent the Montreal, Portland and Boston railway extending itself in Quebee, and one of his reasons is that its capitalists are not Canadians:

cially the assessment law, and session after session half a dozen or more bills are introduced and discussed. The law relating to income and personal property is a subject of constant meddling, and this fact of itself ought to suggest to legislators that the evil which they seek to remove is in the principle of the measure, not in the details. There must be something radically wrong with a law which is being continually tinkered with, but which is never right. The true remedy will, we believe, be found in entirely abolishing the assessment of personal property and income.

Toronto World

The great success THE WORLD has achieved as sures its position as one of the permanent institutions of Toronto. It is now read extensively, not only in Toronto and its suburbs, but in most of the towns and villages within a radius of one hundred miles on the lines of, the Oranto Trunk (east and west), the Great Western, the Northern, the Credit Valley, the Toronto and Nipissing, and the Toronto, Grey and Bruce radiways. The large and rapidly-increasing direulation of THE WORLD on the one hand, and its reasonable rates on the other, must commend it to all classes of advertisers as a most desirable medium of communicating with the public.

Three regular editions of THE WORLD are published daily—at noon, at three and at five o'clock. Extra editions are also published whenever there is news of sufficient moment to demand them. Advertisements are inserted in all editions at the price of a single insertion.
