THE TORONTO WORLD

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 21, 1883.

LOCAL NEWS PARAGRAPHED.

The Brockton postoffice is to be removed under the town hall.

Ald. John Turner, who has been ill for some time, is convalescing.

Work was resumed on the new King street water mains yesterday. Not much progress could be made however.

The name of John Albert, now in penitentiary for the Grenadier pond shooting affray, was yesterday stricken from the county constables' list.

Mr. A. P. Sherwood, chief of the Dominion police force, arrived from Ottawa yesterday to prosecute a deserter from the northern mounted police, now in custody here.

At 8.30 last night an incipient fire in Morrison Bros'. foundry in the Esplanade caused an alarm to be sounded. No damage. There is an insurance of $23,000 on the premises.

Mr. J. F. Thomson, lessee of Horticultural gardens, telegraphed from New York last night that he had secured Sonnekalb-Josseffy's best pupil to appear with the Eichberg company.

Mr. Dobson don't want one of the old streets in ex-Yorkville called after him. He asked the board of works yesterday to substitute "Yorkville avenue" instead. The board, however, stuck to their original name.

Dr. B. B. Osler says that the case of Phipps, the Philadelphia fugitive, in which he is counsel, will be appealed to the privy council as soon as certain evidences of good faith are laid before the minister of justice.

The Easter egg question is troubling the man who turns the editorial crank in the Telegram office. If he had waited a day or two the Globe Easter-egg-statistic-fiend would have told him all about it. He was seen on his rounds yesterday.

Last evening Mr. Clarke, an express messenger who runs between here and Montreal, received a telegram that his father had been run over and killed by a Grand Trunk locomotive at St. Marys. He immediately left for that town.

There was a good attendance at Harry Gilmore's benefit at Albert hall last night. Harry and Joe Pop did some neat sparring. Jack Smith was on hand and called for Muldoon, but the solid man came not. The entertainment was a good one.

Last night a man named John Burke was trying to sell a roll of cloth in York street, and Policeman Davis thinking that he had stolen it took him to headquarters. The cloth tallied with a theft from the door of Angus Cameron in Queen street west, for which the police were on the look-out.

At the semi-annual meeting of the St. Jean Baptiste society of Toronto, held last Monday evening, the following gentlemen were elected officers: L. Charlebois, president; J. Falardeau, vice-president; C. Letaresseur, secretary; A. Lahaie, treasurer. Directors: O. Dubrule, L. Belanger, L. Lalonde, T. Bricault.

A drunken fracas occurred at 63 Chestnut street on Saturday last, in the course of which a woman named Mary Hughes got rough usage at the hands of Donald McCarthy and wife. Hughes got a warrant out for McCarthy and wife last night, for aggravated assault, and had them placed in the Agnes street station.

A man named John W. Elmunds was walking in Yonge street yesterday evening when he was taken to police headquarters by Policeman Maurice O'Connell. A telegram had been received from Galt to be on the look-out for Elmunds, whom it is understood embezzled money from the Citizens' Insurance company. He was their agent. The nature of the embezzlement was not known here.

"Chopsey" Oliver is one of the worst kids in town and has been arrested on many occasions for larceny. Last night he appeared in the role of an assaulter. He was around the St. James' hotel, when Mr. Hodge, the proprietor, ordered him out. He would not go and was about to be ejected when he threw a soda water bottle at Mr. Hodge, inflicting a severe wound on the head. Policeman Breckenreed captured him and took him to police headquarters.

Modjeska as Rosalind.

If ever Madame Modjeska played well, it should have been last night, for the curtain never rose on a better house, and everyone seemed alive in expectation of a great treat. No doubt they got it. We are not sure which of her plays the fair actress considers her greatest, but to one who had enjoyed and studied her in Camille, it must be confessed that As You Like It fell a little flat. It would be hard to tell the exact reason for this, but perhaps the nearest is that Rosalind is too light a character, with no opportunity of bringing out the greatest efforts of an actress like Modjeska. There are no extreme emotional parts, and in this the lady certainly excels. To draw a comparison; however, between her Rosalind and that of Langtry's would be absurd, for last night's could hardly be, and certainly never has been, excelled in this city. Modjeska's improvement since her last appearance here will be measured in her Camille by all lovers of the stage, and improved she certainly has, both in voice and action. The slight accent still adds interest to her pronunciation and affects her distinctness only in the very rapid passages. The support was all that could be desired, and where all were so excellent it would be hard to distinguish. Mr. Barrymore's Orlando was, although perhaps a trifle stagy, a polished piece of acting. We could not imagine a better Adam than Mr. Griffithe, nor a better Touchstone than Mr. Owen, while Miss Milton as Celia was very pleasing. The fencing characters were well received and brought before the curtain frequently. Those who wish to hear Camille this afternoon, we should predict, had better be in their seats as early as possible.

Markets and Health Matters.

Ald. Love presided at the meeting of the markets and health committee yesterday afternoon. A complaint about stagnant water in University park was referred to the health officer. A complaint of a filthy yard at 102 Albert street will receive the attention of the city commissioner. J. Wood's request to be allowed leave to give up stalls 7 and 8, St. Andrew's market, remains in abeyance. The appointment of a successor to Mr. Harding, the late engineer at the jail, came up. Every member of the committee had a man. The following names were submitted: John Gray, A. Whitesider, R. Maxwell, A. Johnston, John Flannagan, Thos. B. Smith, R. Edmunds. Edmunds received five votes of the nine, and his name will be recommended to council. The proposition to reduce the distance of butchers' shops from the regular city markets from 600 to 300 yards was negatived.

A Popular Establishment.

We wish to call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Petley & Petley in another column. This firm have erected during the past few months a handsome new edition to their present premises in a style so thoroughly modern that it will surpass anything of the kind in Canada.

Petley & Petley have only been doing business for the past six months, during which time their straightforward dealings and the attention which their many patrons receive at their hands, added to the very low prices at which they sell the many different articles in their line of trade, has given them a popularity of which they may be proud.

We would therefore ask our many readers to visit this establishment when in want of dry-goods, carpets or clothing, and we are convinced that they will be more than satisfied with the result.

The Parkdale Council.

The Parkdale council met on Monday night, Reeve Frankish presiding. The following bills were passed: Godson & West on drainage account $4000, Walter Page drainage $804, James Hunter coal $269, Anderson fire alarm $530, salaries $273. The following resolution of condolence with Councillor Booth, who lost his wife on Friday last and his child on Sunday, was passed: "That the council of the corporation of Parkdale take the earliest opportunity of expressing their deep sympathy with Councillor Booth in the great affliction under which he is now suffering by reason of the loss of his wife and child. In tendering to Mr. Booth this expression of their sympathy, the council feel that no words of theirs can avail to lighten the burden of his grief, but they sincerely trust strength may be given him to bear up under the sore bereavement and that it may be sanctified to him and his family."

The Semi-Centennial.

The executive committee of the civic semi-centennial committee met at the city hall last night, ex Mayor McMurrich presiding. Mr. R. B. Hamilton was the choice of the committee for financial and corresponding secretary, W. S. Lee for treasurer, and James Rose and Thos. Sanderson for recording secretaries. These names will be submitted to the general committee for ratification. It was decided to ask the council for $1000 for preliminary expenses, printing, stationery, etc.

John Argue Dying.

Poor old John Argue, who for 31 years has inhaled the clammy, foul odors of the city buildings as housekeeper, is at the point of death. Last night at 9.30 Dr. McCollum had to be speedily summoned to his aid. Dr. Wright happened to be in the city hall at the same time and he too went to the old man's bedside. Mr. Argue is suffering severely from a double attack of bronchitis and pneumonia. The doctors were of opinion that he might not live through the night.

Police Court People.

George Burt appeared before the magistrate yesterday morning on a charge of vagrancy and was remanded for a week. Robert Swain, George Rose, James Palen and Stuart Farrel on a charge of larceny were remanded for a week. Joseph P. Blackhall deserting from the mounted police was remanded till to-day. David Boyce for assaulting Jane Forbes was remanded till to-day. James Packenham, insane, was remanded to be sent to the asylum.

A Young Pickpocket.

Last Friday Miss Minnie Woods was walking in King street, when a boy came along, snatched her purse containing $5 and made off. The young lady managed to retain a good description of the young pickpocket, which was given to the police. Yesterday evening Detective Reburn arrested Fred or "Bluff" Davis, a newsboy, at the Mail corner as the culprit. He was locked up at police headquarters.

Came Home to be Arrested.

James Gunning, implicated in a highway robbery last October, whereby a Niagara fruit dealer lost his watch, has since made himself scarce, but all this time there has been a warrant hanging over his head. On Monday he returned to town, and went to his mother's house at 18 Edward street, where Detective Burrows arrested him last evening and locked him up at No. 2 police station.

Number Thirteen.

From the New York Morning Journal.

The Thirteen club of this city, now something more than a year old, has given occasion for much comment concerning the superstitions attaching to that peculiar number. Every one knows, or should know, that the bad reputation of thirteen at table came from the important and solemn event which is called the last supper, when Judas was exposed as the traitor. But in none of the many articles recently published about the fatal thirteen do we remember to have seen any allusion to the well known fact that there were thirteen American colonies in 1776 that threw off the yoke of English oppression; or that there were thirteen original states in the American union; or that there were for a long time only thirteen stars on the flag; or that there are now only thirteen stripes on the flag; or that the grand motto of the union—E pluribus unum—consists of thirteen letters; or that our three great military presidents—Andrew Jackson, Zachary Taylor and Ulysses S. Grant—each had thirteen letters in his name.

Would Rather Be A Man.

From the Detroit News.

Several weeks ago a young girl dressed in male attire was arrested in Windsor for drunkenness, and Magistrate Bartlet sent her to Sandwich jail for 21 days. She said she had discarded dresses over four years ago, and that she was an engineer and had followed the lakes for a living. She stated that she went by the name of Frank Chambers, but refused to say anything about her antecedents. Some one paid her fine before her sentence expired. Last Tuesday evening Patrolmen Fitzpatrick, on duty at the D. G. H. M. depot, saw what he supposed to be a girl dressed in a natty sailor's suit walk into the depot with a young man. On questioning her she readily admitted her sex, said she went by the name of Frank Chambers, and was taken to the central station, but on showing Sergeant Martin a ticket for Chicago and saying she was going to leave next morning, and no charge being made against her, she was released. She told the officer who arrested her that she was 19 years old, and ran away from home at Elmira, N. Y., five years ago on account of the cruelty of her stepmother. Her right name was Aura Scott. She drove a street car in Cincinnati for two years, but her chief occupation was selling. During the past winter she said she had been keeping ship on the steam barge A. A. Turner, at the foot of Eighteenth-and-a-half street. She was now going to Chicago to await the opening of navigation.

A Lecture on Legs.

There is an outcry about legs. We are told that we have too much of them at theatres. We do, and I say this not because the exhibition is indecent, but because it is ugly. What a woman is expected to hide and what to show is purely a question of convention. I remember once passing an afternoon lounging about at the Sweet Waters of Asia, on the Bosphorus. Princesses and other lights of the harem were being dragged about in bullock-carts. Soon some of them got out of their conveyances and sat down upon the grass. Among them was a girl who I felt convinced was pretty, and I sat down near her. Her face was covered with a thin veil. Nothing would have induced her to raise it, but slowly she pulled her wide trouser up above her knee and proceeded to scratch her bare leg. This was her idea of a mild flirtation with a Frank. And why not? Her English sister would go to a ball with neck and arms bear; or, to put it more correctly, with about a quarter of her body concealed only by shoulder-straps. Am I not right, therefore, in saying that the rule as to what portion of the female form divine may with propriety be submitted to the eyes of mankind is local and not general? Here faces, necks, backs, shoulders, and arms may be shown; in the east legs may be shown; while in Zululand, according to all accounts, the ladies walk about like Eve before the fall. But even in England the rule is different in theaters and in ballrooms. If a girl were to appear at the latter in a dress only reaching down to her knees she would be regarded as a peculiar girl, whereas she might do this on the stage without adverse comment. I make these preliminary remarks in order to prove that I approach this solemn subject without prejudice. Ten or twelve years ago the ballet girls used to wear skirts which came down a little below the knee. These skirts were made of muslin, and there were so many of them that when their wearers were dancing they looked like a cloud. The effect was pretty and graceful. But of late this cloud of skirts has disappeared, and has been replaced by a piece of silk, fitting tightly to the figure like the "trunks" of an acrobat, and which do not cover any part of the leg. To emulate this display the principal dancers eschew everything except one muslin petticoat, and this a very short one. What is the result? Exceeding ugliness. I suppose that it may be taken as a rule that when a girl has small, thin arms, she generally has small thin legs. Anyone, however, has only to look at the modern ballet girl to perceive that, although her arms may be sticks, her legs are elephantine in their proportions. This girl goes to a theatrical hosier; the shape of her leg is taken, and then a pair of tights is made, with wool woven into them as the case may acquire. A girl with her legs done up in cotton wool with a small piece of silk drawn tightly in by a band, and with naked arms and shoulders can not be said to be making an indecent exhibition of herself, but she is ungainly. She shocks no morality, but she does shock good taste. In the name, therefore, of good taste, let us go back to the days of cloudy muslin.—London Truth.

Odd Wagers.

In a shaving match for $200 a side in Chicago, the winner's time was 2 minutes 56 minutes.

The winner of a corn-raising contest near Rome, Ga., raised thirty-seven bushels on a half acre.

A Salina, Mo., woman won $25 on a wager that she could chop a cord of wood in less time than a certain man could.

For a sum of money two package wrappers at Davenport, Iowa, entered into a contest. The winner wrapped 3,300 bundles in a single day, using 4,000 yards of twine.

A man in a Berlin beer house wagered four geese that he could stand on one leg for two hours. He fell over in a fit at the end of fifteen minutes, and cut his hands and face on a beer glass.

William Campbell, a young farmer of Mexico, Mo., won a wager of $100 and received 2½ cents a bushel besides for his labor at a corn shucking bee. In eight days he threw over his shoulder 542 bushels of corn.

Give me Back my Kiss.

Since for kissing thee, Minguillo,
My mother scolds me all the day,
Let me have it quickly, darling—
Give me back my kiss, I pray,
If we have done aught amiss
Let's undo it while we may;
Quickly give me back my kiss,
That she may have naught to say.
Do; she keeps so great a bother—
Chides so sharply, looks so grave;
Do, my love, to please my mother,
Give me back the kiss I gave!
Out upon you, false Minguillo!
One you gave, but two you take!
Give me back the two, my darling—
Give them for my mother's sake.

Catarrh—A New Treatment.

From the Weekly (Toronto) Mail, Aug. 24.

Perhaps the most extraordinary success that has been achieved in modern medicine has been attained by the Dixon treatment for catarrh. Out of two housand patients treated during the past six months fully ninety per cent have been cured of this stubborn malady. This is none the less startling when it is remembered that not five per cent of patients presenting themselves to the regular practitioner are benefited, while the patent medicines and other advertised cures never record a cure at all. Starting with the claim now generally believed by the most scientific men that the disease is due to the presence of living parasites in the tissue, Mr. Dixon at once adapted his cure to their extermination—this accomplished, he claims the catarrh is practically cured and the permanency is unquestioned, as cures effected by him a two years ago are cures still. No one else has ever attempted to cure catarrh in this manner, and no other treatment has ever cured catarrh. The application of the remedy is simple and can be done at home, and the present season of the year, is the most favorable for a speedy and permanent cure, the majority of cases being cured at one treatment. Sufferers should correspond with Mr. A. H. Dixon, 305 and 307 King street west, Toronto, Canada, and enclose stamp for his treatise on catarrh.

He Would Like Them, but she Wouldn't

A lady residing in Middleton, N.Y., says the Mercury of that place, the mother of a bright little boy, was talking to him the other night, just as she was putting him to bed, about the efficacy of prayer, and told him that if he would ask God for anything that he particularly desired she had no doubt his request would be granted. The little fellow knelt at his mother's knee and prayed God to send him fifty little sisters and one hundred little brothers. The prayer was never finished, for the mother, aghast at the prospect of having her house turned into an orphan asylum, lifted the boy to his feet and tucked him into bed without a moment's necessary delay.

Flies and Bugs.

Flies, roaches, ants, bedbugs, rats, mice, gophers, chipmunks, cleared out by "Rough on Rats." 15c.

There has been a great depreciation in butter the past two weeks, and holders must have lost a large amount of money. Good to choice stock, which was selling a short time ago in Boston and New York at 30c to 35c a pound, can now be bought at 20c to 25c, and some more coming in, that cost last summer and fall 28c to 30c, will not realize over 15c to 17c.

Chas. T. Parsloe's Chinaman has been so often praised that little remains to say. It is very funny and a stoic couldn't help laughing over it.

"SPECIALISTS."

A. F. Albright, Deerneville, Ont., says:
DR. M. SOUVIELLE,
Dear Sir—I am glad you have put within the reach of everyone, rich or poor, a remedy for catarrh, so effectual in its operations. I believe it will relieve the worst cases, and cure the majority of cases of either Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis or Lung Disease.
THE INTERNATIONAL THROAT AND LUNG Institute is the only one in Canada where diseases of the air passages alone are treated. We have twelve eminent specialists employed in our practice in Canada alone. With the aid of Dr. M. Souvielle's invention, the Spirometer, and the new treatments we adopt, we are making wonderful cures of Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption, and all diseases of the head, throat and lungs. Consultations and a trial of Spirometer free. Those unable to come to the Institute, or see our surgeons, who visit all the principal towns and cities of Canada, can be successfully treated by writing, enclosing 3c stamp for a copy of our International News, published monthly, which will give you full particulars and references, which are genuine.
Address 178 Church Street, Toronto, or 13 Phillips' Square, Montreal.
