

A NEW LINE OF LOW PRICED GLOBES.

Handsome and Attractive Mountings, our Regular Maps, and Lower in Price than any line of Globes ever offered to the Public.

We have added to our line of low priced Globes a 12-inch Terrestrial and Celestial, mounted on an iron stand, with full meridian and horizon, hour circles at both poles. The stand, meridian and hour circles are nickel plated. The workmanship first-class throughout. Encouraged by the remarkable success of others of the same line, we have decided to make the retail price $15. This is a reduction of $10 from the price of the 12-inch bronze stand, which has been our best selling Globe in the past. This Globe being complete is adapted to the solution of all problems in Astronomical Geography, and will be especially useful in High Schools, Academies, and in the Private Library.

12-Inch, Full Frame. Price $15.

12-inch Semi-Frame,	$8 00
12-inch Inclined Axis,	7 00

Comments of the Press on the Journal.

"THE PENMAN'S ART JOURNAL is one of the most attractive and interesting of our exchanges. It is most ably edited by D. T. Ames and B. F. Kelly, both of whom are penmen of great skill and experience, alike as artists and teachers. Their able and skilful conduct of the JOURNAL has certainly placed it a long way in advance of any other paper of its class, and even given to it a very high rank among the class periodicals of our times. Its editorials are powerful appeals for good, practical writing, while the practical lessons in writing and correspondence have been of value to all classes, and specially so to teachers and young ladies and gentlemen who are seeking self-improvement at home or in the office. We know of no paper that is doing a more useful work than the JOURNAL, and it really ought to find a place in every home, school and counting-room in the land. It consists of sixteen pages, elegantly illustrated, and fine typography."—American Counting-room.

"Every number is replete with hints and lessons in practical writing and a choice collection of literature. We cannot speak too flatteringly of this journal. It needs only to be seen to be admired."—House and Home.
