

Temperance Column.

The Church of England Temperance Chronicle says:

ONE of the most serious dangers that are threatening the progress of Temperance reform is the tendency to make it a party cry, and practically to ignore other great questions of Imperial interest.

NOTES BY THE WAY:

THERE were 61,250 seafaring men, fishermen, and bargemen pledged to Total Abstinence from intoxicating drinks by the Missions to Seamen Branch of the C. E. T. S. during the last eight years.

Les signes des temps, a Herald of Prophecy, published at Basle, gives an interesting account of the International Alcoholic Congress at Zurich, and strikes the true key-note in its concluding remark that these habits of Intemperance would disappear of themselves under the powerful influence of the Spirit of God in the heart transforming the desires, sanctifying every act of life, changing the face of the world.

THE sale of intoxicating drinks to children is forbidden in Bengal.

THE London (England) School Board has issued a recommendation to its teachers to inculcate temperance both by example and instruction.
