

to a Protestant audience, and who—the Trans-cript told us—is a lecturer "second to none in the United States," thus spoke of Oliver Cromwell:—"He proved himself an enlightened monarch and friend to England and civilization. He established religious liberty, and tolerated all sects but Catholics and Quakers!"

Such are a representative Protestant's ideas of "religious liberty," toleration for all sects "but Catholics and Quakers." Can the man who enunciates such sentiments have any idea of religious liberty? We think not.

UNGENEROUS BUT SAXON.—In the October of 1873, sham manoeuvres unparalleled (?) in military annals, took place in eastern France. The young German soldiers occupying the country were made to act over again the tactics which routed the French from Worth to Styring and from Argonne to Sedan, and the French authorities received lists of the towns and villages to be occupied in the operations. This is ungenerous but Saxon, and is only to be paralleled by those bastard Irishmen who, having seen their country conquered by Dutch troops under a Dutch leader, renew the remembrance of their shame by an annual celebration of their country's downfall.

We have received the first number of the Catholic Universe, published at Cleveland, Ohio. It has taken the place of the Celtic Index, lately published there, and has the approbation of the Rt. Rev. Bishop Gilmour. We wish the Catholic Universe a long and prosperous career.

On the 1st of October next will be the two hundredth anniversary of the founding of the Roman Catholic diocese of Quebec. The event will be marked by grand religious ceremonies, musical soirees, illuminations, and other festivities. His Grace the Archbishop has invited all the Archbishops, Bishops and the Vicars Apostolic of North America, some sixty in number, to be present.

The sum of $140,000 has been subscribed towards the erection of an hotel in an upper quarter of the city; operations will be commenced when $300,000 have been obtained.

It is proposed to remove the Jacques Cartier Normal School to the St. Nicholas Hall Cartier Sq., to be occupied until the new buildings will be built on Logan's farm; the sale of the present building, Notre Dame St., is in prospect.

Several persons keeping small stores on St. Joseph street, near St. Martin street, have been for some time past subject to petty annoyances from a gang of rowdies who congregate there nightly. On Saturday night a number of these fellows were tormenting an old man when Detective Fahey, who happened to be in the vicinity, assisted by Messrs. Maillette, Dow and H. Girard, undertook to disperse them, which was only done after one of the rowdies had been felled to the ground by a skull-cracker. Napoleon Labreche, a well-known thief, for whom Fahey has been on the look out in connection with the theft of the horse and buggy stolen from Mr. Angers, being espied in the crowd, was arrested. Threats were made that the prisoner would be rescued, but owing to the valuable assistance of the gentlemen whose names are mentioned above, who accompanied Fahey to the Police Station, no attempt at a rescue was made.—Witness.

The new Police Station in Jurer street, though occupied for some time by a section of the force, still requires some further attention from the Police Committee, such as the painting of the partitions, benches and desks, in the Sergeants' and Constables' rooms, the repair of the rear gallery and staircase which are much dilapidated, and the stoppage of a leak in the eaves which, during every storm, lets a quantity of water run down inside the building.—Witness.

BAD SIDEWALKS.—We must call attention to the disgraceful state of the sidewalks in this city, and more especially to that on Cadieux and Sherbrooke streets, the state of which is such, notwithstanding that complaints have been many times laid without any other satisfaction than promises, that on many occasions during the last few nights several ladies have but narrowly escaped broken limbs therefrom.—Witness.

IRISH HOME RULE LEAGUE.

The monthly meeting of the Montreal Branch of the Irish Home Rule League was held on the 7th inst., in the hall of the St. Patrick's Society, corner of Craig and St. Alexander streets. The attendance was large and much interest manifested. The President Edw. Murphy, Esq., occupied the chair, the minutes of last meeting were read and approved, after which the President read the cable despatches on the Home Rule debate in the Imperial Parliament and pointed out that the speeches of the Marquis of Hartington, the Attorney General for Ireland, the traitor O'Donoghue, Mr. Dierani and others were well reported by the "Cable" and the speeches of the Home Rulers, with the exception of Mr. Butt, were despatched by merely mentioning their names; this is unfair and too often the way Irish affairs are treated. He, the chairman, said we must not regard the late division in the House of Commons on Home Rule as final—61 to 458—He read extracts from the Dublin Nation, of the week previous to the debate, which pointed out that (in advance) that 60 to 70 votes were all that they could expect in favor of Mr. Butt's motion, the result verifying this prediction.

The great point to be gained he said by the debate was that the whole programme of the Home Rulers would be thus brought before the English people, who would be thereby enlightened and educated, so to speak, on the claims Ireland has to self government. When the full report on the debate comes to hand, he said, they would find that the speeches were open, manly and to the point; full of information on the vital question at issue and quite up to the expectations of the Irish race at home and abroad. The division would show as on previous occasions—(see True Witness of 12th ult)—that a large majority of the Irish members had voted for Home Rule but were overwhelmed by the English and Scotch votes, in fact it would be found that the division on the debate was one of race—"Saxon versus Celt"—and not at all on the merits of the great question at issue. He said a vote condemning the O'Donoghue would probably be proposed, but he thought it would be better to wait till next meeting where fuller information by mail would be to hand of the debates. The conduct of the O'Donoghue should not pass unnoticed by the members, as it was an insult to every Irishman "at home and abroad" who favored the present patriotic and National movement as he (the O'Donoghue) said "Home Rule was conceived by those who did not dare face the penalties of Fenianism." This is the language of the traitor and refers to such noble and patriotic Irishmen as Dr. Butt, Rev. Mr. Galbraith, Dean O'Brien, T. D. Sullivan, honest John Martin and a host of others not second to them in love of Ireland.

He said it should be borne in mind that the O'Donoghue was never a member of the Home Rule Association or the League, he was elected as a "Gladstonian Liberal" and opposed and defeated the Home Rule candidate for Tralee. He was happy to say that the O'Donoghue was not one of the glorious band of Home Rulers returned at the late general elections.

He denounced the Marquis of Hartington, who, at the debate, said "that the great bulk of Irishmen do not desire Home Rule" this he characterized as a wilful untruth, as the late elections must have shown the Marquis long since, that the people of Ireland had returned 59 Home Rulers out of the 103 members. He announced that the council had sent $209 to the parent association on the 13th ult, the receipt of which was noticed in the last Dublin Nation with warm remarks on the spirit of this association.

Mr. Carroll said he considered a resolution should be sent off at once about the O'Donoghue, as some in Montreal now imagined Home Rule was dead, in consequence of the late vote. They should work with energy and let the people see what they could do.

Mr. J. J. Curran, advocate, addressed the meeting in a very eloquent manner. He said he agreed with Mr. Carroll that they should act at once, but he considered it better to wait until they would have the Irish papers. In the course of an able speech he said that it was an insult to the humblest member of the league in Montreal and every other place. We here who were enjoying Home Rule wanted to procure it for our Irish brethren at home. It was the most barefaced thing he ever heard of the O'Donoghue to say that Home Rule, openly and constitutionally as it was carried on, was covert-fenianism. At the next meeting they would have a resolution prepared that would show the Irish people the feeling of their countrymen at this side of the water (Great cheering).

The president stated that he would call a special meeting on receipt of full reports of the late Home Rule debate in the British House of Commons. After the handing in of some subscriptions and transacting of other routine business the meeting adjourned.

THE ALDINE.

A collection of thirteen excellent pictures, all fine works of art, embellish the July Aldine, which is the finest publication in the world for the drawing-room. The pictures in The Aldine are new, beautiful, interesting, and exquisite as gems of art. Mr. Thomas Moran opens the July number with an appropriate and full-page tinted picture—"A storm in the Mountains," which is full of the midsummer splendor and action of a July thunder-storm. David Neal contributes a full-page picture of "Watt and the Kettle," it being a copy of his famous painting now on exhibition at the Royal Academy, London. Young Watt is shown solving the problem of steampower. Three charming pictures of Pennsylvania scenery are contributed by John Howe, a full-page showing the great "Horse-Shoe Bend at Kittanning Point," where the Pennsylvania Railway crosses the Alleghany Mountains. Another picture is Kettle Run, Altoona, a wild, gloomy brook in a deep wood. The last of this interesting series is the "Old Aqueduct on the Conemaugh River," in Pennsylvania, which shows the ruins of a great stone bridge. "An Indian Scout" is a strong picture, showing the red man with all his war trappings and ugly features. A Connoisseur shows the interior of an artist's studio, and reveals a whole volume of romance at the first glance. The picture is a pleasing study, one to charm. "Our Pet" shows as handsome a female face, with as perfect as has ever been seen in print. J. O. Davidson has a full-page picture, "After the Battle," which is a grand and graphic view of a fight at sea, where the war-ships have taken fire, and the sailors are leaping overboard. Three views of Westminster Abbey are given an exterior view of the building, "Entrance to the South Aisle," and the "South Transept." This magnificent series of illustrations closes with a fine portrait of "David Neal," the American artist in Munich. The literary contents of the Aldine for July are of a high order, embracing a musical poem "Raking Hay," by Thomas E. Garrett; the story of "A Stampede in 1524," a quaint love story, by Lucy Ellen Guernsey; a sketch of James Watt; a full description of the "Pennsylvania Pictures," a strange poem, by J. C. O. Kelly; a fine essay on "Marine Painters of America," Earl Marble; a description of "Penquese Island," by Chandos Fulton; a sketch "The Indian of To-Day," and a short article on "A Connoisseur," a poem by W. W. Bailey, called "Aethusa," a charming story of New England life from the pen of Mrs. H. G. Rowe, called "Pook in the Pulpit," "After the Battle," an editorial article; "Noon and Night," by Kate Putnam Osgood; "Fantine to Algernon," a poem, by Mrs. M. V. Victor; "Mrs. Gray's Spare Room," by H. W. Wright, and "Westminster Abbey," by Fuller-Walker. The editorial articles consist of Literature, a sketch of "David Neal," "Musical Matters Abroad" and "Home," and "Drama." Subscription price, $5, including chromos "The East" and "The West," James Sutton & Co., publishers, 58 Maiden Lane, New York City.

Hon. Mr. Fournier was on the 8th inst, sworn in, at Tadoussac, Minister of Justice, and Hon. Mr. Geoffrion, Minister of Inland Revenue.

Drowned.—On Wednesday afternoon a lad named David Bradshaw, 12 years of age, was drowned while bathing in the quarries, Cote St. Louis.

On Thursday last, a man named Morin fell off a sea-filing erected alongside a new three-story house being erected in Delisle street, and was badly injured.

Stock to the amount of $140,000 has been subscribed for towards the erection of the new hotel on Dorchester street. It is intention of the proprietors to begin operations as soon as the sum of $300,000 shall have been obtained.

CASE OF SUNSTROKE.—Madame Edouard Demers, of St. Doyrie, near Laprairie, while gathering strawberries about noon on Thursday, received a sunstroke and died a few hours after.

An urgent appeal is made from Minnesota on behalf of those who are in great straits through failing crops. Utter and wide-spread destitution is said to exist.

FIRE.—At half past eleven on Saturday evening, an alarm was sounded for a fire discovered in the engine-room of a saw mill on Bonaventure street, near St. Martin. But little damage was done.

ACCIDENT.—Mrs. Behea broke her leg by falling from her balcony on St. Urban street, Saturday, and was taken to the General Hospital.

ACCIDENT.—A man named Casey, employed on the S.S. Delta, fell from the gangway on Saturday evening and broke his left arm; he was removed to the General Hospital.

A correspondent calls the attention of the Grand Trunk Railway authorities to the dangerous part between what is known as Reilly's Crossing and the Lower Depot. Some improvements are now being made in the shape of ballasting it &c., but nothing in comparison to what should be done especially along that section of the road.—Witness.

SCOTCH DEATH.—M. Brauk, aged sixty-seven, who for several years past has been employed in the Circuit Court Department, Court House, died on Saturday at his boarding house on St. Louis street; he was formerly a notary and had retired about three months since from the position he more recently held. Ten minutes prior to his death he had been reading a newspaper. He was a married man and leaves a family.

LAW EXAMINATION.—On Saturday the following gentlemen were admitted to the practice of law, after having undergone the necessary written and oral examinations:—Pierre A. Arouhambault, Louis H. Archambault, John B. Abbott and Arthur Glogensky. For study the following passed:—P. J. Curran, Charles B. Dalbec, John D. Purcell, L. W. Dorion, Leon Lortain, Nap. Hudon Beaulieu, Adolard Forget, Ludor Eckter, Archibald McGowan; Marc Ethier, Louis C. Peltier and P. Ph. Charrette. Five unfortunates were rejected, one for practice and four for study.

DROWNING ON SATURDAY NIGHT.—An Englishman, named Charles Miller, 24, laborer, while bathing near the sugar factory, at St. Gabriel's Locks, about 9.30 on Saturday evening, was drowned. There were bathing at the same place at the time James Rail and J. W. Leslie, Grand Trunk street, who brought the clothes of the deceased to the Police Station, and reported the case. They stated that the deceased sank almost immediately after he plunged into the canal, and they are under the impression that he was intoxicated when the accident occurred. The clothes were identified on Sunday morning by Mr. Patrick Mahon, 47 Richmond street, who states that Miller was an unmarried man, and had been boarding at his house for nearly a year. The police dragged the river yesterday, but unsuccessfully, and as the body is naked there will be difficulty in recovering it.

SMALL-POX AND VACCINATION.—We find in the annual report of the Registrar General for Scotland the following remarks relating to vaccination:—"Before the introduction of vaccination into Scotland, from 12 to 14 per cent of the total deaths were annually caused by small-pox; while nearly 2 per cent of those who survived its ravages lost their eyesight, and a very large proportion had their countenances disfigured for life. Since vaccination was introduced into Scotland, in 1799, the average annual death-rate from small-pox to the present day has been only 1 1/2 per cent of the total deaths, and even that number has chiefly been caused by the deaths of persons who never had been vaccinated." This single fact proves itself more convincingly than any arguments the saving of human life which the general adoption of vaccination has effected. If instead of advancing absurd theories, some of our health authorities would learn wisdom from proofs like this, we would soon have compulsory vaccination in Montreal, and our population cease to be carried off in such numbers by this fearful scourge.—Gazette.

BLASPHEMY IN A CHURCH AND CEMETERY.—A laborer from St. Martin, named Desire Miller, has been bound over for trial before the Police Magistrate on the following charges—put forward in two depositions by villagers. It is alleged first that on the 26th of May last, Miller, while attending the funeral of a relative of his in the St. Martin Catholic cemetery, used gross, indecent and blasphemous language thus desecrating the consecrated ground, and insulting the priest and those present. Another deposition alleges that Miller used blasphemous language and acted indecently in the Parish church at St. Martin during the progress of mass. It is reported that defendant is of intemperate habits. Another informant stated that he was a Swiss Protestant.

QUEBEC, July 9.—The Hon. Mr. Justice Stewart rendered the following judgment this morning in the Levis election case:—"Having heard the parties by their counsel, and maturely weighed the petition and the evidence adduced in support thereof, I do hereby determine that the petitioner has failed to prove the allegations of his petition, and that the sitting member was duly returned, and I do condemn the petitioner to pay to the respondent the costs of the said petition, the trial, and the other proceedings therein."

QUEBEC, July 13.—On Saturday the detectives arrested three young lad named McCaffery, Richardson and Giroux, for robbery. McCaffery was employed by Mr. Donahue, St. John street, and being entrusted with $33 to pay an account, he loitered on the road and met Richardson and Giroux, who persuaded him to appropriate the money and take a trip to Montreal. In Montreal the young scamps spent the plunder and they returned to Quebec. Giroux had been connected with the recent robbery of metal from the magazine. A clever confidence game in the shape of business was opened up on Saturday evening by a party of seven strangers, who had taken out licenses as pedlers. The police interfered, but met with some resistance from the operators, and some of their friends in the crowd, which numbered about 200. Reinforcements being obtained from the Central Station, a clearance was made, and the seven operators marched to their hotel, where they were given the alternative of paying their bill and clearing out, or being arrested and taken to jail for obtaining money under false pretences. They decided to leave, paid their bills and were accompanied to Levis by a detachment of police, where they secured tickets for the West.

OTTAWA, July 9.—The Six Portages, a dangerous Rapid on Gatineau River, about six miles below the Desert, was the scene of a terrible disaster last Monday. A gang of six shanty men in the employ of Mr. Gouin, attempted to run the Rapids. They had not proceeded far in when their boat struck on a sunken rock, and turning swiftly round broadside to the current, was quickly swamped. Four of the men instantly drowned, the other two managed to reach the shore. The Ottawa Free Press says Mr. Wickstead, Chief Law Clerk of the House of Commons, Mr. Cardinal, Chief Messenger of the Library of Parliament, are to be superannuated. Mr. Cardinal will likely be succeeded by Mr. Dube. Major Postvoje, Deputy Minister of Militia and Defence, is also to be superannuated. PEMBROKE, July 9.—A large and influential meeting of rate-payers of this town was held in the Town Hall last evening to receive a report of a committee appointed at a former meeting to decide on the course to be pursued with reference to a proposal made by the President of the Canada Central Railroad Company regarding the extension of that road to this town. The report of said committee, which was unanimously adopted, recommended the passage of a by-law by the village of Pembroke of $50,000, and committees were appointed to canvass the neighboring municipalities with a view of raising a further sum of $20,000, to make up the 70,000 in terms of Mr. Foster's proposal. Several influential men from the country attended the meeting, and thought the country municipalities would willingly contribute the $30,000; so that Pembroke bids fair to secure that long expected boom—railway communication with the outer world. A new bell weighing 1553 lbs. has been placed in the R. C. Church, Fredericton, N. B. ROBBING THE MAILS.—On Thursday, while some men were employed erecting a fence along the line of the Intercolonial Railway, between Polly Bog and Brookfield stations, Mr. Isaac L. Barnhill, senior postal clerk on the line, who was in charge of the postal car, was observed by them to throw a torn envelope out of the door. After the train had passed, prompted by curiosity, one of the men picked it up, and found it was addressed to Mrs. Thompson, who lives at Nine Mile River. The fact was reported by him to Mr. James Graham, post-master at Brookfield, who immediately made enquiries, and found that another young man had picked up a letter torn in four or five pieces, and which seemed to have been enclosed in the envelope first found. The letter was for Mrs. Thompson, from her husband, stating that money was enclosed in it. Mr. Graham communicated with Mrs. Thompson, who stated that she never received the letter in question. Mr. Graham went over the track between Polly Bog and Brookfield, and found sixteen letters partially destroyed, which were shown yesterday afternoon. One of them bore date Saint John, N.B., June 30, and had we understand, reference to money matters. The facts were then made known to Mr. Woodgate, Post Office Inspector, who caused all the parties who knew anything of the affair to be brought to town, and their affidavits taken. The men swear that it was Mr. Barnhill who threw the torn envelope out of the car door. Mr. Woodgate, finding that Mr. Barnhill was in town yesterday afternoon, caused a warrant to be issued for his arrest. When Mr. Barnhill found that there was a warrant out for his arrest, he gave himself up, and is now in jail. Mr. Barnhill is a married man and lives at Shubenacadie. He has borne a good character, and the news of his arrest will be a most unexpected shock to his friends.—Idaho/Chronicle, 8th inst.

FOR GABRY, July 9.—Passengers are arriving here daily from Ontario and other places over the Dawson road, and they all bring the same account of the disgraceful management of the road. On the 25th instant over 300 passengers and fully 100 wagon loads of luggage and freight had accumulated at the north-west Angle. The Company had no provisions at the Angle at that time, and but four teams to convey to Winnipeg the passengers was held, at which a memorial to Hon. Alex. Mackenzie, as head of the Dominion Government was adopted and has since received the signatures of nearly four hundred travellers over the Dawson road. At the public meeting, Mr. A. J. Belch, a fellow passenger, was selected by a resolution to proceed to Winnipeg as soon as possible, and telegraph to the Premier the substance of the memorial. Mr. Belch left the Angle on the 3rd, arrived here last evening, having walked most of the distance, over one hundred miles. He represented the travel of the road as unprecedented. Over 1,000 people, it is estimated, have already taken this route this season. The arrangements are wholly inadequate, passengers having been rushed over the road before it was stocked with provisions, employees or plant sufficient for their accommodation. Detention, destitution and great suffering are the consequence, and the contractors seem powerless to prevent it. It has taken many 24 days and some longer to make the trip, whereas it has been made with reasonable efficiency in 12 days. At many portages, there are no provisions, no teams and too few employees. Passengers have to cut wood for the tugs, handle their baggage and provide their own provisions—or starve. In scarcely a single particular have the contractors carried out their contract, and the indignation against them is intense. Should a change for the better not take place immediately, the good reputation of the Dawson Road will have departed. The Ministry was defeated in a direct motion of want of confidence, on Friday. A new English-French coalition Ministry has been formed as follows:—Hon. A. W. Girard, Provincial Secretary and Premier; Mr. B. A. Davis, Provincial Treasurer; Mr. E. H. G. G. Hay, Minister of Public Works and Agriculture; Hon. J. Dube, Attorney General; Hon. F. Oglestree, President of Council.—Gazette.
