

THE ROMAN SENTINEL.—When Pompell was des troied there were very many buried in the ruins of it who were afterwards found in very different situations. There were some found who were in the streets, as if they had been attempting to make their escape. There were some found in deep vaults, as if they had gone there for security. There were some found in lofty chambers. But where did they find the Roman sentinel? They found him standing at the city gate, with his hands still grasping the war-weapon, where it had been placed by his captain. And there, while the heavens threatened him; there, while the earth shook beneath him; there, while the lava stream rolled, he had stood at his post; and there after a thousand years he was found. So let Christians stand to their duty in the post at which their captain has placed them.
