

Canada has long been involved in a variety of humanitarian endeavours to relieve the suffering of the Lebanese people, particularly through the International Committee of the Red Cross and the World Council of Churches. Mr. Clark reiterated the Government's intention to continue its active involvement in these vital humanitarian measures.