● (4:40 p.m.)

Mr. Stanley Knowles (Winnipeg North Centre): Mr. Speaker, before the motion for third reading of this bill is put and a final decision is taken, there are a few additional words I should like to say and there is another amendment which I should like to move.

Some hon. Members: Oh!

Mr. Knowles (Winnipeg North Centre): Hansard has developed an interesting mechanism. When there is laughter, Hansard says "Oh, oh!" When there is applause, Hansard says "Hear, hear!" I think Hansard should develop a means of indicating a groan, such as we have just heard.

This bill was given first reading in the House of Commons on December 9, 1970, so it has been in the parliamentary mill for quite a while. By the time it gets through the other place almost six months will have gone by. The government does a good deal of complaining
