

My dear General Currie,

You were so very nice last winter in answer to my letter for a message to our Canadian Veterans Association at the time of the Armistice Night Celebration, that I am going to ask you for another message to be read at the Unveiling and Dedication of a Monument in honour of our dead and living heroes, in our little home village of Susket, Nova Scotia.

You will see by the enclosed clippings the wonderful record of this little village in the Great War - we are tremendously proud of it, and within a few days will have another record of 100 of our contributions. The boys were your boys; those who returned to us
