SOCIETY

The marriage took place very quietly yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. White, Spadina road, of their daughter, Mabel, to Mr. Marshall P. Stanbury. The house was beautifully decorated in the Christmas colors of red and green, curtains of greenery and holly were hung over the bride's table, which was decorated with white flowers. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Fowell in front of a temporary altar with curtains of green leaves and pink roses. An orchestra was in attendance, and Mr. George Dixon, a solo. Mr. Dixon and Mr. Frank Moore acted as ribbon bearers. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore her travelling gown of navy blue, with chinilla fur, a corsetage boucree of lilacs of the valley and orchids, and large black velvet hat with white satin crown and pink roses. Her gift from the groom was a platinum necklace and pendant set with diamonds. Mrs. White looked very handsome in a white duchess mantle with overdress of aquiline. Miss Florence White was in a burnt orange gown over white tulle, and Miss Genevieve White was in a lingerie frock with real lace and diamonds. The program of celebration included a skating party, a Christmas dinner, and a light entertainment at a charity ball, where Miss Jones and others were given an opportunity to make speeches for the cause. Tomorrow the marchers will go on thru the snow to Stuyvesant Falls, a nine mile journey.

Highest Telephone Station. The highest telephone station in the world is that in the meteorological observatory on top of Mont Rosa in the Pennine Alps, 15,450 feet above sea level. At this elevation snow is always found, and advantage is taken of the high insulation given by dry snow, the wires in the last section of the peak, being simply laid on the snow-covered ground. To prevent breakage by glacier movements the line is carried thru rings on the telephone poles. The poles are very short and are taken down at the end of every summer season and replaced at the beginning of the following season.

ACCORDION PLEATING AGAIN.

The graceful clinging effect of the accordion pleating shows to advantage in this dress, which is really a separate waist and skirt, cleverly combined. The skirt is plain gray with bandings in the same color, and is cut with a high ruffle and closes at the side front. The waist is more elaborate. Red, with a yoke and trimmings of red and gray changeable silk. This is cut out in a V at the neck, showing a plain white collar and chemise.

The red silk is veiled with accordion-pleated gray chiffon voile, and buttons are covered with the red silk. A frill of lace is held at the throat by a gold gauze bow, and the turnover collar is faced with this material.

Women's Meetings

On Saturday evening at 5 o'clock public meetings will be held in Winchester Street School, corner of Winchester and Ontario streets; King Edward School, Bathurst street, north of College, and in Kew Beach School, Kippendavie avenue, near Queen street, and will be addressed by various lady speakers on the special subject of "Civil Responsibility in Regard to City Housekeeping." The meetings have been arranged by several of the women's societies and clubs in the city for the purpose of creating a more active public spirit in civic affairs, are entirely non-partisan and not in the interest of any candidate for election. Questions and discussion are invited, and both men and women visitors are asked to attend. It is hoped this invitation will be largely accepted.

A "HOUSE" FOR BABY.

Spread a rug down for a "house" and with chalk mark off "different rooms, garden, etc." and have the children cut from the papers and catalogs furnishings for them. A space of a quarter of an inch over the globe, requesting them for the sake of their little cousins in those lands to support making the furniture stand go on thru the snow to Stuyvesant Falls, a nine mile journey.

Lewis Waller in "A Marriage of Convenience." That Lewis Waller's great reputation has preceded him from England and that "A Marriage of Convenience" is a happy selection for his present tour, is well demonstrated by the list of applicants for seats, which list looks something like the social register and from which it would appear that his opening evening will be a brilliant event and the week made one of much social prominence.

Miss Madge Titherage heads the fine cast, assisting Mr. Waller in the presentation, and his young leading woman is perhaps as well known to Torontonians as an important of prominence. Play roles as Mr. Waller is known as a star. Seats are now on sale at the box office of the Alexandra, where the play is being presented, which is for six evenings and two matinee performances. New Year's Day and Saturday.

"Don't Lie to Your Wife." A comedian of national prominence, and an author with the dyed-in-the-wool newspaper instinct. This is the combination which has made a big success out of Campbell B. Casado's song farce, "Don't Lie to Your Wife," which is being played at the Grand New Year's week. Dave Lewis is starred in the comedy. The complications, such as a married man being caught.
