GERMAN MORALE LESS.

PROBLEM OF SOLDIER

isters Explain.

Ottawa, May 18.-Discussion in the house of commons on Saturday touched on various phases of the problem of the soldier and his dependents. Opposition arose in the first place to a clause in the bill amending the Canadian Patriotic Fund Act. The London afternoon papers of Saturday interpreted the government's action in Ireland as showing a clause in the bill amending the Canadian Patriotic Fund Act. The clause empowers the fund to give assistance to the dependents who are "or may become resident" in Canada of soldiers who have served "with the naval and military forces of the British Empire and Great Britain's allies."

In criticism of this provision, it was argued that it would lay the way to the construction of the construction in Ireland as showing conclusively that the government has decided to remove the causes which have prevented the full assistance of the Irish people in the war. The Standard believes that conscription is to be dropped, and adds:

"We now hope that steps will be taken towards creating an Irish army" argued that it would lay the way to making the Dominion responsible for dependents who came to Canada subsequent to the war. The minister of justice replied that the clause did not that Irish pride and Irish national sequent to the war. The minister of justice replied that the clause did not give anyone an absolute right to a claim on the fund. It merely conferred authority to meet possible cases of destitution. The clause was modified and the bill reported.

In Moscow the food situation is somewhat better. The bread ration is a quarter of a pound, and other food is obtainable at high prices. Sugar is scarce. Conditions in the President Wilson Declares Mrs. Langford So Nervous Least Noise Would Startle Her.

New York. May 19—To win the war the United States is determined to set no restrictions on the number of men to be sent to Frunce, President Wilson declared here last night in a speech reaffirming the purpose of America to set no limit on its effort. As many men will so overseas as ships can be found to carry them, the president said, referring to statements that have been made that five million should go.

The United States, he said, will not be diverted by insincere talk of pacee from the Teutonic Jowers. Thier proposals, he declared, spring from a desire to have a free hord in the east. "I intend to stand by Russia as well as France," he said.

German rulers, the president declared, are mistaken if they think the United States will sacrifice anybody for its own sake.

"If they wish peace, let them come forward * * * and lay their terms on the table. We have laid ours and they know what they are," he said.

The war, the president declared, is a war to save the world. The conflict, he said, will knit the world together.

Dwelling on the duty of Americans to give to the Red Cross, the president declared no man could afford to make money out of the war.
