"Experience would teach me not to, chiefly for this reason—I have found it only to be unmittigated trouble and nuisance to try to manage from Toronto industries situate and operating in British Columbia, I have never had any doubt about the prospects of success," was the reply.

Financing the Syndicate.

The examination was continued in the afternoon along the line of the morning session. Mr. Shepley was anxious to learn if there had been a deliberate weighing of the propriety of these transactions. Mr. Foster said that at first the deals were to be financed entirely outside of the Union Trust. The documents show that the syndicate (McGillivray, Wilson and Fowler option and the new company, the Town and Farm Sites, were to finance the other half. Messrs. McGillivray, Wilson and the witness were ready to assume half the liability to Pope and Fowler.

Mr. Shepley pointed out the financial

Fowler.

Mr. Shepley pointed out the financial burden that the syndicate would have to bear, but Mr. Foster claimed that there was only $14,666.66 to be paid the first year, and another payment equivalent to this, plus interest, for the next year. Wilson had arranged to finance for himself, for witness' shares, and McGillivray was to provide for his own. This idea fell thru because the Town and Farm Sites Company could not raise the money. The final solution however, was the reorganization of the Ontario Town and Farm Sites Co. The question of the controlling interest

Ontario Town and Farm Sites Co. The question of the controlling interest was not discussed at this time, the idea being to sell enough of the new stock to finance for expenses only.

Mr. Shepley asked witness if he had any connection with the Ontario and Sasaktchewan Company. Mr. Foster said he had, but this company had been organized an an entirely different basis of organization and finance.

There was no idea that one-half of the carriers should make any profit out of the other half. When it became definitely known that the new company could not finance the game, the proposition was made that the syndicate buy the charter, interests and holdings of the Ontario Town Sites Company.

"We sat down to do this," said Mr. Foster, "and after several conferences this was agreed upon, and the option, charter and good will was handed over to us, as shown by the document of that deta"

Where Trust Company Came In.

"At that time had the Union Trust been introduced into the matter?" asked Mr. Shepley.

"My impression is that the first appearance of the Union Trust was when the option was handed over to the company as a trustee," answered Mr. Foster.

In answer to the question, what led up to the making of the Union Trust Company the brokers, Mr. Foster said that the syndicate was now in possession of the whole stock, to be used, first to extinguish the claims of the other half, by the good will, etc., then to retain one-half for the syndicate, with the other 337 shares to be sold at "I would not dis

That the financing was going to be difficult, McGillivray said to the witness, or vice-versa, as the Union Trust had a bonus of 329 1-2 shares, it might be financed there.

The agreement of June 22, '03, between the syndicate, the Union Trust Company, the shareholders of the company and the Ontario Town and Farm Sites Company was the beginning of financing the deal thru the Union Trust.

The next stage was the laying of the proposition before the board on June 3, 1903. Those present were Oronhyatekha, Sir John Boyd, Geo. E. Foster, Matthew Wilson, John A. McGillivray and Col. Davidson.

The exercise of the option was suggested by Mr. Stevenson, and at the provision in March 1994 it was carried. Mr. Foster explained that Mr. Stev enson raised the objection as to the keeping up of the relation between the Trust Co. and the Great West
