HAWAII NOT A POOR MAN'S PLACE

Fraternal Societies. There were men there to no opportunity for seeking a livelihood. Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 12.—Grand Secretary Hemstead of the Arkansas Grand Lodge, A.F. & A.M., made public a circular letter sent out to the Masonic fraternity by the Masonic lodge at Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands. The Masons decided to make the letter public for the benefit of all concerned. It says in part: To our Masonic brethren everywhere greeting: In view of the fact that the recent annexation of the Hawaiian Islands by the United States has drawn the attention of the public, more especially the people of the Pacific coast, to this group, and in view also of the fact that many people know but little about Hawaii except the information gleaned from sensational newspaper articles, it is reasonable to suppose that large numbers of the unemployed will desire to rush to what they believe to be a new country with a fine climate, a rich soil, a sparse civilized population and large tracts of lands lying idle and only waiting ownership by possession of the first new comer.

Influx Already Begun

The influx of strangers has already begun, and while no doubt that experience of many disappointed seekers of employment will find exposition in the newspapers of the coast and elsewhere, at an earlier date, and perhaps later, intending immigrants from making a leap in the dark, still the several fraternal societies of Honolulu deem it a duty to sound the note of warning to their brethren in the hope that much suffering and disappointment may be avoided. That end the Hawaiian Lodge, No. 21, A.F. & A.M., have appointed a committee to communicate with the Masonic Grand Lodges, respectfully petitioning them to advise the brethren of the present state of affairs at the islands and warn them that there is little or no opportunity for those who are unemployed are seeking a livelihood. Skilled workmen of all classes already far exceed the demand, and many are arriving in Honolulu only to meet with distress. On the night of Oct. 3, Second Lieutenant Merriam, U.S.A., and First Lieutenant Wheeler, New York Volunteers, declared martial law in Honolulu. Wheeler was proved marshal in charge of mounted infantry. For two hours things were lively. Citizens were ordered off the streets. Orders were enforced by mounted men under Wheeler's command. Sailors were chased aboard their ships, and two captains and a customs officer had to scramble for safety. General King was very angry when he heard what was being done. The two officers will be court-martialed. It is said that both men were under the influence of liquor.

The heads of the different branches gave reports of the state of work already done. Churchwardens J. B. Fitzsimmons and T. D. Delamere spoke, congratulating the congregation on having raised sufficient money to pay for the recent repairs. Major Whitely of Montreal was present and spoke a few words of sympathy. The ladies of the church provided refreshments.

Second Day of the Tenth Annual Provincial Convention.

Bright Weather and Bright Addresses—Growth of the Society—Total Membership—Junior Societies Report—Why Weren't They in Quebec on Plebiscite Day?—County and District Organization—A Nervous Orator—Convention Notes.

Hamilton, Oct. 12.—(Special.)—The Christian Endeavorers got for their second day of convention weather as bright as their purple and yellow banners. Some of the young lady members expressed the pretty conceit that the sunshine had been brought about by their singing of the day before, and, as only one out of ten theories, it was accepted as final.

Although neither Minister of Education nor Mr. McRae, a good citizen, seven talks of the night before had laid down early rising as a virtue, there was a sunrise meeting at General Methodist Church, and another at the Central Presbyterian.

Growth of the Society. Devotional exercises, led by Rev. J. H. Hamilton, Secretary Thomas Morris of Hamilton, told what he knew of the financial condition of the society. In 1912 the growth of the society is tabulated in this way: 1884, 1 society; 1885, 1 society; 1886, 1 society; 1887, 1 society; 1888, 35 societies; 1889, 150 societies; 1890, 341 societies; 1891, 540 societies; 1892, 521 societies; 1893, 941 societies; 1894, 1400 societies; 1895, 1932 societies; 1896, 1803 societies; 1897, 2150 societies; 1898, 2192 societies.

Among the unorganized countries and districts they began as follows: Muskoka, with 10; Nipissing, with 5; Norfolk, with 2; Peel, with 10; Prescott, with 12; Parry Sound, with 5, and Stormont, with 8.

The table of denominations represented in the society was as follows:

Denomination	T.M. Mem.	Mis. Offer.
Methodist	42,099	$207 11
Presbyterian	13,119	$119 70
Union	6,939	$77 41
Baptist	4,540	$254 96
Congregational	1,023	$103 38
Episcopal	1,482	$88 58
Disciples	168	$9 00
Christian	168	$9 00
Brethren	224	$3 59
Friends	173	$7 08
Evangelists	123	$2 22
Lutheran	123	$2 22
Total	90,490	$898 40

During the year past, from among the societies there have been 1504 young people join the churches, and the total number of church members in the societies now is 18,884. The number of associate members reported is 11,021.

Junior Statistics.

The report of the Superintendent of Junior Work, Miss Lottie E. Wright of Toronto, was interesting. The number of junior societies in Ontario is 383, which is an increase of 52 over last year. There are 19,274 members in the junior department, divided among the brethren of the following: Methodist, 101, Presbyterian, 21, Congregational, 33, Baptist, 25, Disciples, 11, Church of England, 10, and others, 1,000. From the juniors during the year, 1260 had become church members, and $2422.50 had been raised.

Can Fight as Well as Sing.

Throughout the meetings Endeavorers have shown that they can sing as well as they can sing, and a motion now introduced to change article 4 brought about a scrum among the brethren. Skilled workmen of all classes already far exceed the demand, and many are arriving in Honolulu only to meet with distress. On the night of Oct. 3, Second Lieutenant Merriam, U.S.A., and First Lieutenant Wheeler, New York Volunteers, declared martial law in Honolulu. Wheeler was proved marshal in charge of mounted infantry. For two hours things were lively. Citizens were ordered off the streets. Orders were enforced by mounted men under Wheeler's command. Sailors were chased aboard their ships, and two captains and a customs officer had to scramble for safety. General King was very angry when he heard what was being done. The two officers will be court-martialed. It is said that both men were under the influence of liquor.

"Father" of the Endeavorers.

Rather tall and well-made, with a kindly, friendly smile, and a very grey mustache, although his head was grey, Dr. Clark looked the "father" he is affectionately called by the members of Endeavorers all over the world. He is a Canadian by birth, having been born at Aylmer, Quebec, in 1851. Left an orphan at an early age, he was provided for by an uncle and aunt, who took him to the United States, where he changed his name from Symmes to Clark, and entered the Christian Endeavor work at his birth.

The Annual Address.

When the leaders of the C.E. met the annual address. His keynote was "Forward." He spoke of the need of a more hearty co-operation in the different branches of the church's winter work. The pastor, Rev. G. A. Kuhnring, received the people at the entrance and afterwards presided at the meeting. Rev. Dr. Baldwin gave a short address on consecration. The heads of the different branches gave reports of the state of work already done. Churchwardens J. B. Fitzsimmons and T. D. Delamere spoke, congratulating the congregation on having raised sufficient money to pay for the recent repairs. Major Whitely of Montreal was present and spoke a few words of sympathy. The First Address.

The first address in the afternoon before the C.E. was given by Rev. J. S. Conning of Caledonia, who spoke of "A Model Christian Endeavor Society and Its Work." He spoke of the need of a more hearty co-operation in the different branches of the church's winter work. The pastor, Rev. G. A. Kuhnring, received the people at the entrance and afterwards presided at the meeting. Rev. Dr. Baldwin gave a short address on consecration. The ladies of the church provided refreshments.

Excitingly Nervous.

Rev. Dr. Clark was the next speaker. He was an orator, he is exceedingly nervous, and while the big audience were enthusiastic over his thoughts, he seemed quite at a loss to know what to do with his hands. The gestures were those of extending both arms as if about to embrace the whole house, the extension of one arm, with all the fingers closed, but the thumb.

The doctor raised a storm of shouting when he declared that he had come with a greeting from the American continent. He talked about the wonderful treasures in the Endeavor museum at his home, and then told of a trip to India, where the great Carey's grandson was running 80 bodies of dusky young Endeavorers. He was carried in a net hung on two poles to the mission. The Endeavorers, although subscribing to the same creed, treated him differently, for they rubbed his hands with attar of roses, hung half a dozen garlands round his neck, and placed his hands a bird of Paradise, from whose tail hung a big bouquet.

In matters of etiquette, the meeting differed. The audience laughed with the keenest merriment at the doctor's graphic story. The same man appropriately remarked: "The fact of seeing each of these 17 rear 12 children. The audience laughed.
