garding the official, the pair struck across the green sward to the western entrance. Here a policeman barred the way. "Nine o'clock is your hour, sir." The newspaper man whipped out his official card, bearing the autograph of J. S. Lyon, admitting him to the press gallery. The policeman appealed to Inspector Stephen, who said to his subordinate, "You must follow your orders." Then The World man turned away and held a consultation with himseit. Just then Mr. Douglas of The News, dressed as well as The World man, walked up with a confident air, but he also was barred, and, notwithstanding that The World man was back of him, that policeman could not be induced to yield, so there was nothing for it but to wait. Everybody had to practise patience. Riching gowned ladies drove up in carriages, and were met with the same treatment. It was somewhat gratifying to see everyone turned back, and really it is true that misery loves company.

However, shortly after 8 the way was opened by a short-statured gentleman, who ordered the constable to allow no one to pass who had not on evening dress. It reminded one of the old story; about a man who had not on a weedling garment and the fate that befell him, but this was not a wedding; it was a reception, the like of which may never take place again in Toronto.

We were all ushered into the cloakrooms, and evergent works.

and RUBBER M'F'G CO. of TORONTO, Limited,

The Earl and Countess of Minto are of ourselves just now, and therefore did not command the attention they would have done under other circumstances; yet the beautiful Countess attracted the attention of all who passed. Her exquisite figure, set off by a beautiful gown, and the magnificent jewels, were almost lost sight of in the sweet and kindly, yet dignified, expression of the face.

At 12 o'clock the reception was over, and the people sang most heartily the National Anthem, after which three cheers were called for, and a roar which might have been heard down to College-street went up. So ended the greatest social event ever witnessed in Toronto, and the like of which may not happen again in a generation.

Sleeplessness.—When the nerves are unstructed and the whole body given up to wretchedness, when the mind is filled with gloom and dismal forebodings, the result of derangement of the digestive organs, sleeplessness comes to add to the distress. If only the subject could sleep there would be oblivion for a while and temporary relief. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will not only induce sleep, but will act so beueficially that the subject will wake refreshed and restored to happiness.

We were all ushered into the cloakrooms, and overcoats and wraps were quickly taken care of by obliging people, and checks handed out.

Then, up the elevator to the main floor we went, and were marched to the east of the great staircase, where a crowd of perhaps 1000 were jammed together like people trying to buy tickets for a circus. For half an hour everybody was good natured, but when an hour had passed and the heat had become swekering, there began to be grumbling. Another half hour and there were emphatic complaints. But there we were, roped in and two policemen holding the ropes, with inspectors Archabold, Stephen and Stewart there to help in case of trouble. Sir Richard Carfwright was there, and therefore the younger people tried to be content. Stili, time dragged on, and instead of 9 o'clock it was well after 10 before the reception began.
