James Black, proprietor of the Bank

Seen today by an Advertiser reporter.

"I will admit that I had no intention of shooting anyone," said Black. "I took the revolver from a drawer in the barroom, where it had laid for months, and intended to take it upstairs to my room and put it away. A friend of mine suggested that we take a walk, and not trinking I went out with the gun in my pocket. I never attempted to shoot Bell before as he claims. For two years I kept a hired girl, and was doctoring all the time. After having taken four boxes of your pills I am able to do all my own work. I would especially recommend them to women between 40 and 50, as at that time they are more liable to be far from well. One of my neighbors knows how they helped me, and she is now using them."
