From a Woman's Standpoint

SUMMER has put in an appearance at last, and the holiday hammock swings under the trees. How good it is to subside for a brief while into the sweet state of doing nothing. We mention the hammock because the particular joy we have in mind is reading. We think of our pet northern wilds. We smile the scent of the pines and catch the delicious breeze that flutters up from the lake. Verily it is pleasant to sink into the softness of many cushions and regale ourselves with a book. Thus it occurs to us in our meditations that a few words here about holiday reading might not be unwelcome. Flipping along our bookshelves we see many volumes that have charmed us on a summer day—simple tales, the mission of which is not to edify but to entertain.

RUSSIAN ARMY TO KEEP UP ADVANCE

(Continued from Page 1). ing battered by a continuous torrent of shells. The point that struck me most forcibly was the accuracy of the Russian fire and the effective concentration of their batteries. The Austrian artillery was good, but noticeably weaker. Artillery Precise. "The precision and exquisite working of the Russian machinery was a marvel to me. Every man was in his place and there was not the slightest sign of insubordination or reluctance among the men. Each officer and soldier did eagerly and unhesitatingly what he was told. The spirit of the men themselves was in favor of an advance. "We spent the night at the headquarters of the Sixth Corps of the Eleventh Army, but early in the morning of the next day we returned to the trenches. Clambering out of the summit of a wheat field on the Austrian positions, we watched the end of the battle. "The artillery preparations ceased suddenly, the order to advance was given and the whole Russian line swept forward in perfect union. I was somewhat dismayed when, in a short time, I saw thousands of men pouring back again. But I soon discovered that these men were Austrian prisoners who came running with all speed into the Russian lines, apparently with a single thought—that of surrendering as soon as possible. "The Russian casualties were comparatively slight as it was possible to judge by the small number of ambulance wagons which the Russians sent forward."

CHINESE IMPERIAL TROOPS RETREATING

After Short Engagement With Republican Forces at Lang Fang, Retire Toward Peking. Tientsin, July 7.—(Delayed.)—After a short engagement with the republican forces at Lang Fang today imperial troops are reported to have retreated toward Peking. The casualties in the fighting at Lang Fang are said to have been slight, and the extent of the republican advance is not known. Latest reports from Peking, from which it is most difficult to obtain reliable news, are to the effect that all is quiet in the capital, but that a feeling of apprehension prevails. According to reports received by Chinese here Liang Tunyen, minister of foreign affairs in the new imperial cabinet, and other imperialists have sent a telegram to Hsu Shih Chang, confessing that the coup to replace the emperor on the throne was premature and asking Hsu to mediate. MOST PROMINENT MAN IN GALT AFFAIRS DIES

David Spiers Held Many Public Offices During Extended, Useful Life. Special to The Toronto World. Galt, July 9.—This day, tonight, mourns the loss of one of its oldest and most prominent citizens, in the person of David Spiers, who passed away rather suddenly at 1.30 this afternoon. While in failing health, he had been up and around on Sunday. He was 85 years of age and came to Galt in 1851, and has lived here continuously ever since. His life was marked by his devotion to the municipality, he having served on various bodies and there is probably no one with a record of service like his. A member of the town council for 25 years, he was mayor for three years. He was a member of the hospital trust for 20 years and for 40 years was on the collegiate institute board, its chairman for 25 consecutive years. Until a police magistrate was appointed, he was a justice of the peace. He was instrumental in securing the town clock, building of the new collegiate and the first wing to the hospital. He started his business career as a grocery clerk and as time went on became interested in various enterprises, purchasing the Galt Electric and Gas Light Co., which he conducted for years. For 25 years he conducted an oatmeal mill and besides was interested in a number of manufacturing concerns. Presbyterian all his life, he was a member of Knox Church, in which he held various offices. Four sons and five daughters survive. The funeral will take place Wednesday at 11 a.m.
