

A LITTLE LILT OF LOVE

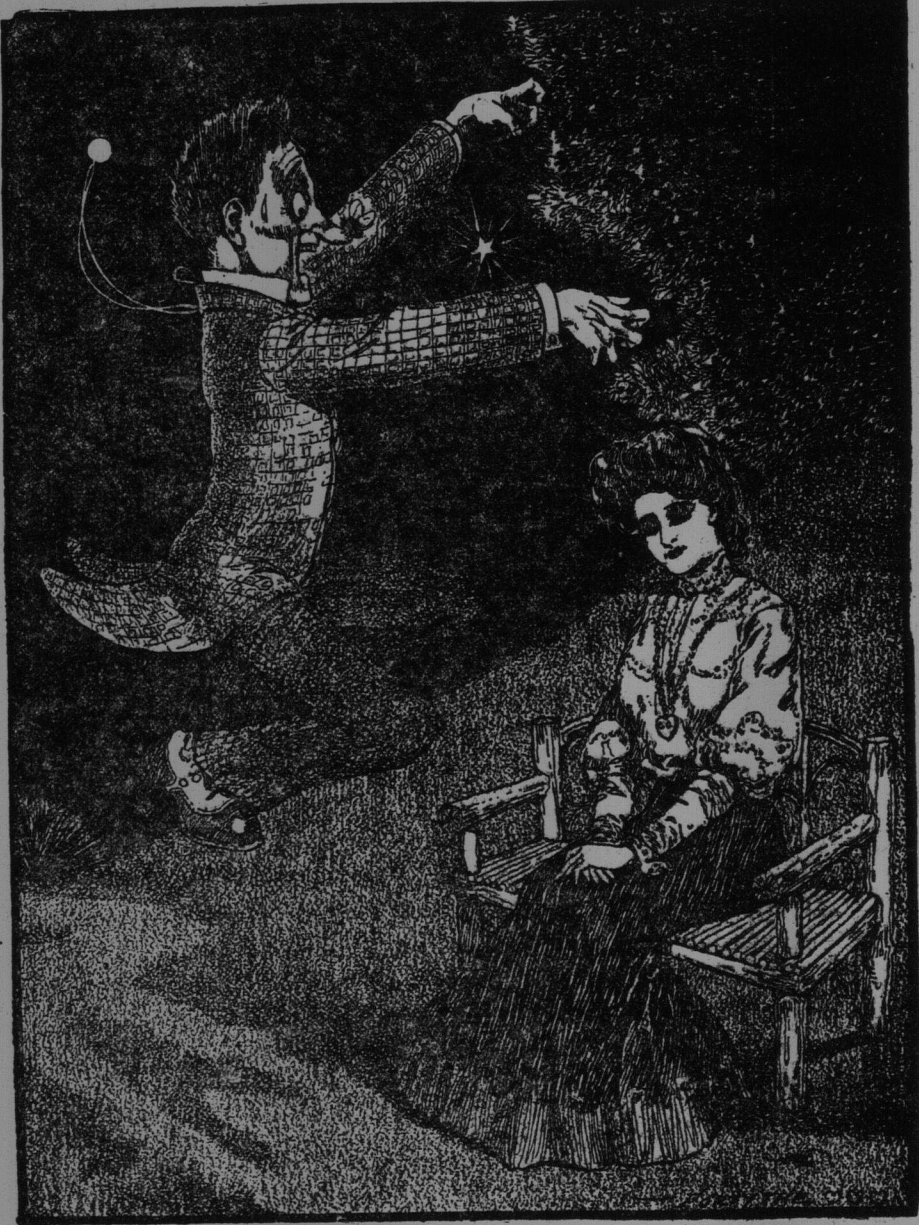

THERE was once a young chap named Larry.

But alas and alack, he did tarry

A moment too late

Upon the frontgate

And it ruined his best chance to marry.

THERE was once a young lady named Rose,

Whose beau was about to propose;

But he sprang from his knees

With a snort and a sneeze

As a bee stung the end of his nose.

Love Will Find a Way.

GEORGE—Oh, Gerlie, this is most tantalizing; just as I am about to take that cherished kiss, along comes your mother.

GEORGE—What! You think there is something the matter with your lungs, Mrs. Gurgle? Just turn around and let me listen; I can tell in a minute.

MRS. GURGLE—Oh, thank you, George, I'm so glad to know it. GEORGE—Ho, ho, ho! Why, Mrs. Gurgle, your lungs are in the most perfect condition. Gerlie, just put your ear here a minute and listen.

matter with her lungs, is there matter with her lungs is there, Gerlie?—No, indeed.

Signs of Summer.

By WEX JONES.

SING a song of Summer tilting up this way:

Hot spell's sure a comer, now we're losing May.

This is how we know it: Men put on straw hats—

Pipes the June-rose poet—housewives clean their flats.

Crowds jam soda fountains—kids go in to swim—

Pop decides the mountains cost too much for him.

Fat man drinks gin rickey, says it makes him cool—

Subway's close and sticky—child dreads tire of school.

Open cars are running—fish-net shirtwaists shock—

Aquatic fools start fussing, in cranky boats they rock.

Roof-garden shows rehearsing the same archaic jokes,

While city man's conversing with whiskered country folks.

Sea-serpent in his glory "lashes the sea to foam,"

And visitors the story will tell when they get home.

Oh, Summer's fast approaching—the Summer's even here—

For on "Hot Drinks" encroaching we see the sign "Cold Beer."

THE CREAMER CASE

Stewart Goodwin of Woodpoint, father of Mrs. Creamer, called at the Post office yesterday and asked to deny the statement that Mrs. Creamer had a sister in Boston. The statement had been made that the missing children had been sent on to a sister in Boston, which statement was absurd. Mrs. Creamer, he said, was still hoping the children would turn up alive in some way, but Mr. Goodwin thought it was a vain hope.—Sackville Post.

The St. John Times is very anxious that the search for the Creamer children be kept up. This sounds all very well, but if the Times man were on the spot, he would perhaps become tired of going over the same ground again and again without securing anything that can properly be called a clue. The story of a thread being found in the woods, which the daily papers have been making so much of lately, proves nothing. Hundreds of persons have gone through these woods during the last few weeks, who will say these threads were not from the clothing of one of these persons? No one in the eastern part of the country takes any stock in this so-called clue. The visit of the Moncton contingent resulted in nothing, as has the visit of every other outsider who has interested himself in the case. The mystery is no nearer solution than it was the night the children disappeared.—Sackville Post.

AGONY AFTER EATING

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cure the Worst Cases of Indigestion.

"I suffered so much with indigestion that my life had become a burden," says Miss Nellie Archibald, of Sheet Harbour, N. S. "Every time I took even the lightest meal it caused me hours of agony. The trouble caused a choking sensation, the region of my heart, which seriously alarmed me. My inability to properly digest my food, left me so weak and run down that I could not perform even the lightest household work, and I would tire out going up a few steps slowly. I sought medical aid, and tried several medicines, but without getting the least benefit. My sister, who lived at a considerable distance, and who had been an invalid, wrote us about this time that she had been cured through using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and she desired me to give them a fair trial, practically as a last resort. In the course of a few weeks there was a notable change in my condition, and I began to relish my meals. From that on I began to gain new strength, and by the time I had used seven boxes, all signs of the trouble had vanished, and I was once more enjoying good health, and I have not since had any return of the trouble."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure indigestion, because they make the rich red blood that brings tone and strength to the stomach. Nearly all the common ailments are due to bad blood, and when the bad blood is turned into good blood by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the trouble disappears. That is why these pills cure anaemia, dizziness, heart palpitation, general debility, kidney trouble, rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago, and nervous troubles, such as neuritis, paralysis and St. Vitus dance. That is why they bring ease and comfort to all cases of womanhood and girlhood, and cure their secret ailments when the blood supply becomes weak, scanty or irregular. But you must get the genuine pills. Substitutes and imitations which some dealers offer never cure anything. When you buy the pills, see that the full name, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, is printed on the wrapper around each box. Sold by all dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

OBITUARY

JOHN McPHERSON.

Many friends in Kings county and along the line of the I. C. R., have learned with regret of the death recently in Charlottetown of John McPherson, for many years section foreman on the I. C. R. at Norton, after the road was first opened. Mr. McPherson was afterwards for a time a trackmaster on a portion of the P. E. Island railway, and later in the freight department at Charlottetown. He was a native of Scotland, and brought his family to this country shortly after the opening of the I. C. R. from St. John to Moncton. He was an active member of the Presbyterian church, a Freemason, and a man held in the highest respect by all who knew him.
