HAD LITTLE STOCK ON COURTENAY BAY SHORE
Police Constable Estey and Straight discovered a new "hiding place" for some wet goods about 9:30 o'clock last evening when they followed Arthur Lumish and another man, whom they did not get, from the foot of Clarence street, across the railway tracks, almost to the shore of Courtenay Bay. There the men bent over and there also the police made a leap for the two. They caught Lumish, but the other man got away in the darkness. On the ground the police found two "long necks," one full and the other partly full. The liquor was confiscated and Lumish was arrested on drunkenness charge.
The magistrate explained to the prisoner that he was liable to be charged under the new act with having liquor on his person, with giving it to another, and even attempting to give it. Lumish was remanded until the other man is arrested.
In the case of John Davis and Dennis Donovan, the former was remanded to nine months in jail, and the latter was given back his $20 deposit and allowed to go, as it was shown that Davis had accosted Donovan.
William Armstrong was remanded on charges of drunkenness and using profane language.

SNOW ON MAY 2
With the wind blowing forty miles an hour and a driving wet snow, the second day of May was ushered in. About one-half an inch of snow fell, enough, however, to make the walking very disagreeable. Last year the final snow storm of the year was recorded on April 29, when about one-half of an inch fell. The wind has been blowing today from east to southeast and indications at noon were that it would possibly continue for several hours. In the bay a heavy sea was running and in the harbor the white caps were in evidence.

TO BE MARRIED IN HALIFAX
The wedding of John G. Waterbury, son of George H. Waterbury of this city, and Miss Hilma Cunningham, daughter of the Rev. Mr. Cunningham, rector of St. George's church, Halifax, is to take place at eight o'clock this evening in St. George's church, Halifax. Mr. Waterbury conducts a boat and shoe business in Halifax. Mr. and Mrs. Waterbury, after their honeymoon, will make their home in Halifax.

TWO INCHES OF SNOW IN FREDERICTON
Minister Shuts Down on Timber Limit Holders Who Have Not Met Regulations
Fredericton, May 2.—Fredericton is experiencing winter weather today, began snowing early this morning and continued until noon. More than two inches fell. The mercury keeps close to the freezing point. Continued cold weather is retarding driving operations, but as there is plenty of snow and ice in the woods which must melt later on and bring the streams up the lumbermen are not worrying.
Patrick Doherty, driver, of Sydney, has arrived here and will use the local track for training purposes. He will campaign in Aroostook during the early part of the season.
The minister of lands and mines has shut down on some timber limit holders who have failed to comply with the regulations. This week's Royal Gazette contains notice to the effect that their licenses will be offered for sale here on May 16. Those affected by the order are Stirling Brown, Gloucester Lumber and Timber Company, John Maloney, James Robinson, St. George Pulp and Paper Company and Alfred West. In all 112 square miles will be sold.

NO YACHT CLUB CRUISE IN 1917
At the quarterly meeting of the Royal Kennebec Yacht Club last evening, it was decided to hold a service this year the same as last, but owing to conditions brought about by the war the annual cruise will be dispensed with.

PUNERALS
The funeral of George J. Morrissey took place this morning from his late residence, 147 St. James street, to St. John the Baptist church, where high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. J. J. McMurray. The body was taken at noon to Shediac where interment will be made.
The funeral of Miss Elsie Blackadar took place this afternoon from Messrs. Chamberlain's undertaking rooms. Services were conducted by Rev. J. C. Apple. Interment was made in Fernhill.

The Man In The Street
The citizens will now join in the chorus of that old familiar song "How Dry I Am."
That is, as several of them have used up the stocks they laid in.
A careful census of all those who laid in private stocks before May 1 might indicate a surprising reduction in previous estimates of the number of "non-dry" prohibitionists in this city.
Even the healthiest of citizens decided that it would be well to have something on hand for medicinal purposes.
Moving day and prohibition struck town on the same day, a fact to which some folk point as a "non-dry" prohibitionist's triumph.
Those who have tried report that it certainly is hard to get a drink around St. John these days; even the public fountains in King and Market Squares are dry.
But the soda water dispensers are adding large numbers to their circle of acquaintances.
Even the non-superstitious will agree that thirteen is an unlucky number, when it represents the number of cents required to purchase a loaf of bread.
Germany says she will "astonish the world" with new peace proposals. Germany will have to go some.
Nothing that Germany could do would surprise us half so much as a display of reasonable war activity by our own Dominion government.
The government might be right or wrong in deciding against the adoption of conscription in Canada, but the official announcement that they have not even considered it indicates that they are several laps behind the rest of the people.
Even the slacker who beat it across the border to dodge compulsory service considered the matter and took action according to his light and leaning.
Kaiser Wilhelm will display even more than his usual cheerful optimism if he can contrive the demand for a strong man at the helm of the German ship of state into a compliment to himself.
We earnestly commend the patriotism of the amateur potato growers—but we want to be shown before we promise to eat the potatoes they raise.
The merry month of May is getting off to a bad start in St. John, considerably more like merry Christmas.
Taking the duty off wheat has not satisfied the people of Canada; they want the tariff removed from farm tractors, Ford cars and other common necessities of life.

DEAD IN CELL
Cyril Carney Had Been Taken There For Own Good
Drinking, Say Police and Doctor—Had Medical Attendance and Visited Several Times During Night
Cyril Carney, aged thirty-five years, was found dying in one of the cells of local police headquarters this morning a little after five o'clock. Night Deskman Gibbs had been on his rounds half an hour before and engaged in conversation with the man. When he returned again at five o'clock Carney was unconscious. Dr. F. F. Dunlop was hastily summoned but before he arrived the unfortunate man had breathed his last.
As Policeman Hogg and Hopkins were in the vicinity of the foot of Main street about five o'clock yesterday afternoon they received information which led them to pay a visit to Carney's house. He lived alone in the lower flat at 700 Main street. The condition of the man, according to the police, was wretched and the condition of his house was declared pitiable. The man was lying on an old bed. The policeman said the man had been drinking. He called in his uncle, John McLeod, a meat dealer in Main street. The patrol was then called and Carney was taken to the police station.
The condition of the man demanded medical attention and Dr. Dunlop was called. He saw the man between six and seven o'clock last evening. In speaking of the affair this morning Dr. Dunlop said: "It was one of the worst cases of drunkenness I have ever seen." The physician applied a stimulant and it was thought the man would rest comfortably during the night. As it was, he rallied somewhat during the night and was talking with Night Policeman Gibbs at 4:30 o'clock this morning.
Coroner F. L. Kenney was apprised of the affair and gave permission for the removal of the body to O'Neil's undertaking parlors in Main street. Speaking of the case this afternoon, Coroner Kenney said that he thought an inquest was unnecessary.
Carney was a comparatively young man. He had no relatives beside his uncle.
The police report that the condition of the house wherein the man has been making his home for the last two years is most undesirable. Everything possible was done to save his life, the police say, and as the night man makes his rounds to the cells every half hour there was no neglect on his part attached to anyone for the sad occurrence.

WATER AND SEWERAGE
The May snow storm did not interfere with the work of the water and sewerage department today. A start was made in the renewal of three hydrants in Adelaide street; work was continued in the Beauséjour sewer and there was considerable work in the way of service pipe repairs to be attended to. Repairs are being made also to a leading main in Gilbert's Lane, believed to be due to a joint blowing out.
