Increasing Accidents.

(Bangor Commercial)
The deaths resulting from automobile accidents in New York state during the month of March numbered 111, which is not only a great waste of human life but marks an increase over the same month last year and in 1930, the deaths from this cause in March 1930 being 60.

The report by the National Highway Protective society says that one great cause of motor vehicle accidents is due to the ease with which licenses can be obtained by persons not qualified to drive motor cars and notes an incident in which the applicant gave a license in New York applied for one in New Jersey and upon examination was found to be stone deaf. Another man making a similar application and holding a li-
