

INTRODUCTION FROM M. & MADAME RICHARD.

---

IT gives M. and Madame Richard very much pleasure to introduce to the patrons of their School their successor, Mrs. Fletcher. Mrs. Fletcher is a most amiable lady, of refined manner, and a skilful and experienced teacher. M. and Madame Richard assure their late patrons that they may with all confidence entrust the education of their daughters to Mrs. Fletcher. And they can further assure them that Mlle. Laporte, Mrs. Fletcher's French Governess, is thoroughly competent to have charge of the French Department of the School, and that they need not fear any lowering of the School's status in respect of that department.

DEAR MADAM

I am directed to inform you that he has given up his situation of six years ago and that during the last year he was most energetic and able disciplinarian.

MRS. A. FLETCHER

Mrs. Fletcher has been in the School for the last four years and her power of teaching and her fidelity to her duty are of valuable assistance to her well-reco-
